Constructed View The Architectural Photography Of Julius Shulman:

A Constructed View Joseph Rosa, Esther McCoy, 1994 Julius Shulman one of the great masters of modern architectural photography is the preeminent recorder of early California modernism By 1927 when he was sixteen Shulman was already using the family Brownie box camera to document his Southern California surroundings and experiences in 1936 his professional career was launched when he sent Richard Neutra some uncommissioned photographs of the architect's Kun House Shulman went on to document the famous Case Study House Program architects included Charles and Ray Eames Pierre Koenig and Eero Saarinen and also the architecture of the 1930s through the 1980s especially that of Southern California but also country and worldwide His subjects included the buildings of R M Schindler John Lautner Raphael Soriano Frank Lloyd Wright Mies van der Rohe and Oscar Niemeyer among many others Through his work Shulman defined the image of Los Angeles and framed the architecture of the time for a global audience In addition to an overview of Shulman's career and photographic oeuvre this book emphasizes Shulman's method of constructing photographic views These constructions which complemented his innate ability to compose striking photographs often transcend reality to capture the spirit time and place of a work of architecture An analysis of architecture's visual presentation examines not only the media of the era John Entenza's Arts Architecture for instance but also the work of Shulman's photographic contemporaries

Camera Constructs Andrew Higgott, Timothy Wray, 2016-12-05 Photography and architecture have a uniquely powerful resonance architectural form provides the camera with the subject for some of its most compelling imagery while photography profoundly influences how architecture is represented imagined and produced Camera Constructs is the first book to reflect critically on the varied interactions of the different practices by which photographers artists architects theorists and historians engage with the relationship of the camera to architecture the city and the evolution of Modernism The title thus on the one hand opposes the medium of photography and the materiality of construction but on the other can be read as saying that the camera invariably constructs what it depicts the photograph is not a simple representation of an external reality but constructs its own meanings and reconstructs its subjects Twenty three essays by a wide range of historians and theorists are grouped under the themes of Modernism and the Published Photograph Architecture and the City Re imagined Interpretative Constructs and Photography in Design Practices They are preceded by an Introduction that comprehensively outlines the subject and elaborates on the diverse historical and theoretical contexts of the authors approaches Camera Constructs provides a rich and highly original analysis of the relationship of photography to built form from the early modern period to the present day

Photography, Modern Architecture, and Design Vitra Design Museum, 2005-01-01 Examining the photographic collection that Alberto Sartoris donated to the Swiss federal government this text throws light on a poorly understood aspect of 20th century architecture namely the mechanisms behind the creation and diffusion of the image of modern architecture

Richard Neutra's Miller House Stephen Leet, 2004-04 In 1937 the architect and his sophisticated client produced a masterwork of forward thinking and artful architecture

Beyond the Architect's Eye Mary N. Woods, 2013-12-11 Typical architectural photography freezes buildings in an ideal moment and rarely captures what photographer Berenice Abbott called the medium's power to depict how the past jostled the present In Beyond the Architect's Eye Mary N Woods expands on this range of images through a rich analysis that commingles art amateur and documentary photography genres usually not considered architectural but that often take the built environment as their subject Woods explores how photographers used their built environment to capture the disparate American landscapes prior to World War II when urban and rural areas grew further apart in the face of skyscrapers massive industrialization and profound cultural shifts Central to this study is the work of Alfred Stieglitz Frances Benjamin Johnston and Marion Post Wolcott but Woods weaves a wider narrative that also includes Alice Austen Gertrude Kasebier Berenice Abbott Margaret Bourke White Helen Levitt Lisette Model Louise Dahl Wolfe Morgan and Marvin Smith Eudora Welty Samuel Gottscho Walker Evans Max Waldman and others In such disparate places as New York City the rural South and the burgeoning metropolis of Miami these unconventional architectural photographers observed buildings as deeply connected to their context Whereas Stieglitz captured New York as the quintessential modern urban landscape in the period the South was its opposite a land supposedly frozen in the past Yet just as this myth of the Old South crystallized in photographs like Johnston's A New South shaped by popular culture and modern industry arose Miami embodied both of these visions In Wolcott's work agricultural fields where stoop labor persisted were juxtaposed with Art Deco hotels a popular modernism of the machine age that remade Miami Beach into a miniaturized Manhattan on the beach Beyond the Architect's Eye is a groundbreaking study that melds histories of American art cities and architecture with visual studies of landscape photography and cultural geography

Survival Boogie Woogie. Neo-Japonisme, Architectural Photography & Abstraction Jean-Sébastien Cluzel, 2024-07-01 What links are there between Piet Mondrian's unfinished work Victory Boogie Woogie 1942-4 and post war Japanese and Japanese style architectural photography As far back as the mid 1950s critics and photographers were inclined to link Mondrian's painting with modern Japanese architecture and some historians were to go so far as to assert that Mondrian himself had been influenced by traditional Japanese architecture Powerful associations such as these contributed to the coming together of Western and Japanese architectural modernity They also underpinned the survival of Japonisme in architecture or put another way of the neo Japonisme that emerged after the Second World War However while this kinship between Mondrian's abstraction and the aesthetic of Japanese architecture is little apparent in architecture it does show in architectural photography This book which takes a sidelong look at Mondrian examines the works of the foremost among Japanese and American architectural photographers in an effort to interpret the dynamics of how the world of architecture was Japanized between 1945 and 1985

Architecture and Film

Mark Lamster, 2000 An examination of the ways in which architecture and architects are treated on screen and how these depictions filter and shape the ways we understand the built environment There are essays from contributors from a range of disciplines and interviews of those working behind the scenes Golden Dreams Kevin Starr, 2011-09-09 A narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose Kevin Starr's acclaimed multi volume Americans and the California Dream is an unparalleled work of cultural history In this new volume Starr covers the crucial postwar period 1950 to 1963 when the California we know today first burst into prominence In a powerful blend of telling events colorful personalities and insightful analyses he brilliantly illuminates the dominant economic social and cultural forces in California in these pivotal years The Roman Emperor and his Court c. 30 BC-c. AD 300: Volume 2, A Sourcebook Benjamin Kelly, Angela Hug, 2022-10-20 At the centre of the Roman empire stood the emperor and the court surrounding him The systematic investigation of this court in its own right however has been a relatively late development in the field of Roman history and previous studies have focused on narrowly defined aspects or on particular periods of Roman history This book makes a major contribution to understanding the history of the Roman imperial court The first volume presents nineteen original essays covering all the major dimensions of the court from the age of Augustus to the threshold of Late Antiquity The second volume is a collection of the ancient sources that are central to studying that court The collection includes translations of literary sources inscriptions and papyri plans and computer visualizations of archaeological remains and photographs of archaeological sites and artworks depicting the emperor and his court Architecture and Nature Sarah Bonnemaison, Christine Macy, 2003-09-02 Narrated painted and filmed American landscapes have been central to the construction of a national identity This book explores how such rhetorical landscapes have also been designed into the built environment of architecture Pop L.A. Cécile Whiting, 2008-08-04 In this original and engaging book Cécile Whiting examines what Pop looked like when it left the highbrow cloisters of Manhattan's art galleries and ventured westward to the sprawling suburbs of Los Angeles Information Sources in Architecture and Construction Valerie J. Nurcombe, 1996 The new edition first 1983 comprises 24 chapters each written by an expert in the field who describes sources and in addition provides instructions in methodology and hints on keeping up with advances in information Coverage includes architectural history conservation contracts and liability Private Landscapes Pamela Burton, Marie Botnick, 2002 When we think of the gardens of Southern California we tend to think of the enormous semiarid landscapes of the Huntington and Rancho Los Alamitos often built on the sprawling grounds of former ranches But there is another garden tradition in Southern California the modest rectangular suburban plots designed by the most famous architects of mid century modernism Richard Neutra Rudolph Schindler Gregory Ain Raphael Soriano Harwell Hamilton Harris A Quincy Jones and John Lautner These architects saw the garden as an outdoor extension of the space of the houses they designed rather than a neo Spanish fantasy to be added later by a landscapist Their modern gardens made use of low maintenance drought resistant plants and made room for informal outdoor living by children and adults with an emphasis on recreation and exercise The first book of its kind Private Landscapes profiles twenty significant gardens and their accompanying houses by these celebrated architects Using contemporary photographs by Julius Shulman and newly commissioned color images along with plans and plant lists Private Landscapes provides a never before seen look at these gardens As beautiful and practical now as they were 50 years ago these designs continue to provide inspiration for gardeners and designers everywhere Revisiting the Glass House Jessica Hough, Mónica Ramírez-Montagut, Aldrich Museum of Contemporary Art (Ridgefield, Conn.), Yale University. School of Architecture, Mills College. Art Museum, 2008 Explores the ways in which contemporary artists incorporate images of modern buildings in their work as a means to explore the utopian potential of architecture and to provide an antidote to the cynicism of our time Eichler Paul Adamson, Marty Arbunich, 2002-11 Atriums household conveniences and sleek styling made Eichler Homes a standard bearer for bringing the modern home design to middle class America Joseph Eichler was a pioneering developer who defied conventional wisdom by hiring progressive architects to design Modernist homes for the growing middle class of the 1950s He was known for his innovations including built ins for streamlined kitchen work for introducing a multipurpose room adjacent to the kitchen and for the classic atrium that melded the indoors with the outdoors For nearly twenty years Eichler Homes built thousands of dwellings in California acquiring national and international acclaim Eichler Modernism Rebuilds the American Dream examines Eichler's legacy as seen in his original homes and in the revival of the Modernist movement which continues to grow today The homes that Eichler built were modern in concept and expression and yet comfortable for living Eichler's work left a legacy of design integrity and set standards for housing developers that remain unparalleled in the history of American building This book captures and illustrates that legacy with impressive detail engaging history firsthand recollections about Eichler and his vision and 250 photographs of Eichler homes in their prime Form Follows Libido Sylvia Lavin, 2007-09-28 How modern architecture came to embrace the urges and fears of the affective unconscious Eight million Americans a year cool their heels in psychiatric waiting rooms Design can help lower this nervous overhead Richard Neutra 1954 Sylvia Lavin's Form Follows Libido argues that by the 1950s some architects felt an urge to steer the cool abstraction of high modernism away from a neutral formalism toward the production of more erotic affective environments Lavin turns to the architecture of Richard Neutra 1892 1970 to explore the genesis of these new mood inducing environments In a series of engaging essays weaving through the designs and writings of this Vienna born California based architect Lavin discovers in Neutra a sustained and poignant psychoanalytic reflection set in the context of a burgeoning psychoanalytic culture in America Lavin shows that Neutra's redirection of modernism constituted not a lyrical regression to sentimentality but a deliberate advance of architectural theory and technique to engage the unconscious mind fueled by the ideas of psychoanalysis that were being rapidly disseminated at the time In Neutra's responses to a vivid range of issues from psychoanalysis proper to the popular psychology of tele evangelical prayer

Lavin uncovers a radical reconstitution of the architectural discipline Arguing persuasively that the received historical views of both psychoanalysis and architecture have led to a suppression of their compelling coincidences and unorthodoxies Lavin sets out to unleash midcentury architecture's hidden libido Neither Neutra nor psychoanalysis emerges unscathed from her investigation of how architecture came to be saturated by the intrigues of affect often against its will If Reyner Banham sought to put architecture on the couch then Lavin through Neutra leaps beyond Banham's ameliorative aim to lure contemporary architecture into the lush and dangerous liaisons of environmental design
