Constructing Deafness:

Constructing Deafness Susan Gregory, Gillian Hartley, 1990-01-01 Parallel Views, 1994 Education and Access for Deaf People in France and the United States Understanding Deaf Culture Paddy Ladd, 2003-02-18 This book presents a Traveller's Guide to Deaf Culture starting from the premise that Deaf cultures have an important contribution to make to other academic disciplines and human lives in general Within and outside Deaf communities there is a need for an account of the new concept of Deaf culture which enables readers to assess its place alongside work on other minority cultures and multilingual discourses The book aims to assess the concepts of culture on their own terms and in their many guises and to apply these to Deaf communities The author illustrates the pitfalls which have been created for those communities by the medical concept of deafness and contrasts this with his new concept of Deafhood a process by which every Deaf child family and adult implicitly explains their existence in the world to themselves and each other Historical Perspectives on Social Identities Alyson Brown, 2009-01-14 This collection of work on the theme of identities was the result of a conference held in the spring of 2005 at Edge Hill under the auspices of The Centre for Liverpool and Merseyside Studies Whilst a significant proportion of the research focused on Liverpool and the North West the theme of identities was sufficiently broad to entice scholars from diverse and varied fields This collection therefore reflects the range of work presented and discussed at the conference and the multi layered and multi faceted nature of identity Contributors to this edited collection examined the concept of identity in Britain through a range of historical perspectives concerning themselves primarily with the later modern period They reflect the extent to which nineteenth and twentieth century British social cultural and political change has given rise to pluralist fragmented and fractured identities and highlight the extent to which class gender religious and institutional frameworks have shifted continually This publication will therefore be of interest to those working in diverse fields but who share an interest in the importance of identity as a decisive cultural social economic and political determinant Questions of identity have centred a good deal of debate in the social sciences especially since the reception of Foucault's work in the English speaking world in the last couple of decades This has often taken a theoretical form Attempts to link theory with analytical practice have been strongest in the field that might be characterised as the politics of identity At any rate this has provided an important instance of theoretical and practical conflict Here the focus of the debate has been around questions of gender nation language economy security and race It has tried to clarify crucial divisions in the analysis of identity as between explanatory and constitutive models and between positivist and post positivist procedures For the most part these intense and extensive concerns have passed by largely unnoticed among historians practising in Britain in the well found but conventional idioms of political and social history What this conference volume seeks to do is to help redress the deficit to domesticating some of the theoretical and polemical exchanges around identity into a world of practical yet conceptually aware historical work This is a difficult but surely worthwhile task to broach various imaginaries of identity issues of identitarian politics and questions of identity formation on a series of relatively familiar historical contexts Of course no selection of subjects for practical research in this way can be exhaustive The group of essays offered here is sufficiently wide and occasionally gratifyingly unexpected at least to begin the job to stimulate others and most importantly to interject theoretical concern into historical fields sometimes lacking it Ten essays are included together with the editor's introduction The pieces are bound together by a common strategy not a shared empirical territory They range from studies of gendered identity formation to regional identities formed around seaside resorts to empirical questions of class and capitalism and their identitarian politics to historical analysis of mourning and on to language nationality deafness motherhood and their inflection in identity in past time This well edited combination of shared conceptual purpose and variety of empirical form seems to me to work well The book will be widely used in a variety of historical fields not least in those which have been the most resistant to recent theoretical innovations in the social sciences Keith Nield Editor SOCIAL HISTORY This is a fascinating and wide ranging collection of essays linked by the over riding theme of identity While primarily historical in their focus the essays will be of interest to more than just historians They raise a variety of interesting conceptual and theoretical issues from for instance the significance of the staymaker in the formation of eighteenth century female identity to the relationship between regional identity and late nineteenth and early twentieth century Lancashire seaside resorts Sam Davies Professor of History School of Social Science Liverpool John Moores University The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 1997 The Disability Studies Reader collects for the first time representative texts from the newly emerging field of disability studies This volume represents a major advance in presenting the most important writings about disability with an emphasis on those writers working from a materialist and postmodernist perspective Drawing together experts in cultural studies literary criticism sociology biology the visual arts pedagogy and post colonial studies the collection provides a comprehensive approach to the issue of disability Contributors include Erving Goffman Susan Sontag Michelle Fine and Susan Wendell Deaf Characters in Literature Paul Dakin, 2023-10-20 This book presents the most comprehensive review of deaf characters in literature available Examining British and American examples found in novels comics poetry television and film the work identifies significant trends and themes that range from the last three hundred years to the present day It is centered on an understanding of the history and development of deaf education its impact on the use of oral speech and sign language and the rise of deaf identity and deaf communities The extensive research comments and conclusions are of value to all who are interested in the medical humanities deaf history and culture disability studies and representations in literature Gifted and Talented Children with Special Educational Needs Diane Montgomery, 2013-05-13 Gifted pupils who also have special needs often receive provision for the special need whilst the giftedness is overlooked Children with such double exceptionality can become depressed frustrated and misbehave and may not fulfil their potential Based on international research and practice this practical text enables the reader to identify highly able pupils with special needs such as ADHD dyspraxia dyslexia and Downs Syndrome and then make provision for them within the mainstream school The book offers three emerging themes creating a positive constructive and supportive learning environment offering a cognitively challenging curriculum and engaging the learners in partnership to understand and manage their learning support Whilst aimed mainly at teachers and students at both primary and secondary levels this book should also be of interest to educators researchers and educational psychologists The Care and Education of a Deaf Child Pamela Knight, Ruth Swanwick, 1999-01-01 This text is intended primarily for parents but should also be of interest to teachers and related professionals It addresses both practical and theoretical issues related to the development and education of deaf children It considers these areas largely from a sign bilingual perspective Deaf Liberation Theology Revd Dr Hannah Lewis, 2013-05-28 Following years of theology of deafness based on the premise that Deaf people are simply people who cannot hear this book breaks new ground Presenting a new approach to Deaf people theology and the Church this book enables Deaf people who see themselves as members of a minority group to formulate their own theology rooted in their own history and culture Deconstructing the theology and practice of the Church Hannah Lewis shows how the Church unconsciously oppresses Deaf people through its view of them as people who cannot hear Lewis reclaims Deaf perspectives on Church history examines how an essentially visual Deaf culture can relate to the written text of the Bible and asks Can Jesus sign This book pulls together all these strands to consider how worship can be truly liberating truly a place for Deaf people to celebrate who they are before God Deaf Young People and Their Families Susan Gregory, Lesley Sheldon, Juliet Bishop, 1995-06-30 An account of interviews with deaf young people giving a unique perspective on the consequences of deafness Literacy and Deaf People Brenda Jo Brueggemann, 2004 This compelling collection advocates for an alternative view of deaf people's literacy one that emphasizes recent shifts in Deaf cultural identity rather than a student's past educational context as determined by the dominant hearing society Divided into two parts the book opens with four chapters by leading scholars Tom Humphries Claire Ramsey Susan Burch and volume editor Brenda Jo Brueggemann These scholars use diverse disciplines to reveal how schools where deaf children are taught are the product of ideologies about teaching about how deaf children learn and about the relationship of ASL and English Part Two features works by Elizabeth Engen and Trygg Engen Tane Akamatsu and Ester Cole Lillian Buffalo Tompkins Sherman Wilcox and BoMee Corwin and Kathleen M Wood The five chapters contributed by these noteworthy researchers offer various views on multicultural and bilingual literacy instruction for deaf students Subjects range from a study of literacy in Norway where Norwegian Sign Language recently became the first language of instruction for deaf pupils to the difficulties faced by deaf immigrant and refugee children who confront institutional and cultural clashes Other topics include the experiences of deaf adults who became bilingual in ASL and English and the interaction of the pathological versus the cultural view of deafness The final study examines literacy among Deaf college undergraduates as a way of determining how the current social institution of literacy translates for Deaf adults and how literacy can be extended to deaf people beyond the age of 20 Theology and Human Flourishing Mike Higon, Christopher Rowland, Jeremy Law, 2011-11-04 This collection of essays is a celebration of the work of Timothy Gorringer Like his theology it is animated by a delighted and critical engagement with the diverse facets of human social life and by a passionate concern to wrestle with the Bible and the Christian tradition in pursuit of human flourishing The built environment politics education art these essays by leading Christian theologians ask what it means for Christian theology to concern itself with to immerse itself in and to risk critical commentary on each of these and more The collection follows the same rhythm that animates Gorringer's work insistent attention to the Christian tradition in the light of the particular contexts where human flourishing is imagined fought for embodied and betrayed and a critical constructive and celebratory examination of those contexts in the light of the Christian tradition The contributions are very diverse touching on everything from city life to human curiosity poverty to genocide but they are united by a passion to make theological sense of human flourishing Contexts of Deviance J. William Spencer, 2014-09-12 While most readers focus more on deviance than sociology Contexts of Deviance Statuses Institutions and Interactions brings sociology front and center by examining deviance and social control in their social contexts This fresh and innovative anthology shows students how deviance and control can be studied at different levels of analysis and from a range of theoretical approaches using different methodologies The collection is divided into six parts theory social control statuses and identities institutions subcultures and social movements The readings range from classic to contemporary pieces from macro level studies to studies of face to face encounters Contexts of Deviance also represents a wide range of theoretical traditions from functionalist and critical to post modern and interactionist Introductions in each section help students to understand what it means to study deviance and control in a social context to appreciate research questions at different levels of analysis and to recognize how a positivist orientation is different from a subjectivist orientation An instructor's manual and test bank prepared by Thomas N Ratliff Arkansas State University Jessica Middleton University of California at Irvine and Ashley Swan Arkansas State University are available for qualified instructors Working with Deaf People Anna Middleton, 2010 Long gone are the days when a deaf person is expected to struggle through a healthcare consultation with a health professional who has inadequate deaf awareness Legislation now dictates that the onus is on the health professional to utilise the right communication skills Deafness is very common meaning that health professionals whatever their specialist area can expect to encounter a client with deafness or hearing loss on a daily basis Working with Deaf People is intended for use as a general reference manual offering practical advice on how to prepare for the consultation with clients who are deaf or deafblind Information is offered about language communication and culture case studies demonstrate how the messages can be applied in practice Every health professional medical and nursing student whatever their discipline and whatever country they work in should have a copy of this book Different Bodies Marja Evelyn Mogk, 2013-10-04 This collection of 19 new essays by 21 authors from the United States the UK Canada Australia and India focuses on contemporary film and television 1989 to the present from those countries as well as from China Korea Thailand and France The essays are divided into two parts The first includes critical readings of narrative film and television The second includes contributions on documentaries biopics and autobiographically informed films The book as a whole is designed to be accessible to readers new to disability studies while also contributing significantly to the field An introduction gives background on disability studies and appendices provide a filmography and a list of suggested reading The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl, Emily Morris, 2022-12-15

Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement Rights and the Politics of Recognition in Africa Harri Englund, Francis B. Nyamnjoh, 2004-09-18

Colonising Disability Esme Cleall, 2022-08-04 Colonising Disability explores the construction and treatment of disability across Britain and its empire from the nineteenth to the early twentieth century Drawing on a wide range of sources Esme Cleall explores how disability increasingly became associated with difference and argues that it did so through intersecting with other categories of otherness such as race Philanthropic legal literary religious medical educational eugenistic and parliamentary texts are examined to unpick representations of disability that overtime became pervasive with significant ramifications for disabled people Cleall also uses multiple examples to show how disabled people navigated a wide range of experiences from freak shows in Britain to missions in India to immigration systems in Australia including exploring how they mobilised to resist discrimination and constitute their own identities By assessing the intersection between disability and race Dr Cleall opens up questions about normalcy and the making of the imperial self

Damned for Their Difference Jan Branson, Don Miller, 2002 Represents a sociological history of how deaf people came to be classified as disabled from the 17th century through the 1990s Language and Identity Paul Chamness Miller, John L Watzke, Miguel Mantero, 2022-01-01 Language and Identity is the third volume of the Readings in Language Studies series published by the International Society for Language Studies Inc Edited by Paul Chamness Miller John L Watzke and Miguel Mantero volume three sustains the society's mission to organize and disseminate the work of its contributing members through peer reviewed publications The book presents international perspectives on language and identity in several thematic sections discourse culture identity in the professions policy pedagogy and the learner A resource for scholars and students Language and Identity represents the latest scholarship in new and emergent areas of inquiry
