Constructing Modern Canada:

Capitalism and Colonialism: The Making of Modern Canada 1890-1960 Bryan D. Palmer, 2025-09-02 This second volume of Bryan Palmer's history of Canada covers 1890 to 1960 Weaving together themes that include business labour politics and social history this account brings the experiences of Indigenous peoples into the centre of the narrative Canada experienced extraordinary growth during these decades notably after the Second World War when many Canadians quickly became far better off Yet vast inequalities persisted Indigenous peoples experienced ongoing and often worsening deprivation and ordinary people saw little or no real improvement in their lives These realities set the stage for the interplay of reform resistance and reaction that followed after 1960 Palmer examines the continuing role of capitalism and colonialism in structuring Canada in the period between 1890 and 1960 from capital's conflicts and fragile ententes with labour to the struggles of Indigenous Peoples and francophone Canada and the changing role of Canadian capital internationally Relying on the work of scholars who have produced a vast academic literature on a wide range of topics in Canadian history Bryan Palmer offers a new history of Canada which reflects the knowledge and values of 21st century Canadians Making Canada New Dean Irvine, Vanessa Lent, Bart Vautour, 2017-01-01 An examination of the connections between modernist writers and editorial activities Making Canada New draws links among new and old media collaborative labour emergent scholars and scholarships and digital modernisms In doing so the collection reveals that renovating modernisms does not need to depend on the fabrication of completely new modes of scholarship Rather it is the repurposing of already existing practices and combining them with others whether old or new print or digital that instigates a process of continuous renewal Critical to this process of renewal is the intermingling of print and digital research methods and the coordination of more popular modes of literary scholarship with less frequented ones such as bibliography textual studies and editing Making Canada New tracks the editorial renovation of modernism as a digital phenomenon while speaking to the continued production of print editions Australia Under Construction John Butcher, 2008-04-01 The Australian nation is a work in progress So conclude the authors whose views are represented in this most recent offering in the ANZSOG monograph series AUSTRALIA UNDER CONSTRUCTION NATION BUILDING PAST PRESENT AND FUTURE From its beginnings as a settler society through to present day concerns about broadbanding the nation the nation building narrative has resonated with Australians The very idea of nation building has both excited the popular imagination about what we might achieve as a society and a nation and has occasioned despair about missed opportunities The eleven authors contributing to this monograph reflect on these and other themes from a variety of perspectives They challenge our understanding of the term nation building reflect on its contemporary relevance as a framework for public policy and even re appraise the contribution of past iconic nation building endeavours To this subject the authors bring intelligence wit and a healthy disdain for sacred cows A stimulating read for anyone interested in the history challenges and prospects of nation building in Australia
