Courting Disaster Jennifer L Dunn, 2018-02-06 This work is a wide ranging and sensitive examination of the lived experience of intimate stalking victimization It explores how it feels and what it means to be stalked by a former intimate and how this situation creates dilemmas for victims and their advocates What is it like to try to become a victim in the eyes of the law and then to remain one when almost anything a woman does to manage the violent emotions of an ex husband or ex boyfriend can backfire and discredit her claims The author draws upon a broad array of rich data including a survey of college women courtroom testimony prosecutors case files interviews with victims and observations in a prosecutor s office and a stalking survivor s support group to illustrate the difficulties women face as they work to cope with danger and to negotiate the hazardous terrain of legal systems simultaneously For some victims Dunn shows prosecution processes are more traumatic than the events that brought them to seek legal help and her analysis of the historical cultural and gendered frameworks in which stalking victimization and prosecution takes place accounts for the additional trauma Definitions of situations and identities are contested rather than given in these arenas where lives and self concepts rest in the balance The ways in which we socially construct and confer meaning upon intimate violence and its victims profoundly shape what happens to ordinary women facing extraordinary circumstances Courting Disaster illuminates what we can learn from their experience whether we are working in these arenas or theorizing about how they do and sometimes do not work

Leisure's Legacy Robert A. Stebbins, 2017-07-17 This book illustrates how leisure as with other complex ideas that hold currency in today's world suffers at the level of common sense due to a combination of oversimplification moral depreciation and even lack of recognition Leisure's modern legacy is both profound and immense as a product of approximately 45 years of steady research application and theory development The common sense view of free time activities therefore can and should be challenged Stebbins provides this confrontation by tackling four particular themes that gatekeepers within the institutions of higher education and funding agencies for research often fail to attach adequate resources to the idea of leisure that the general population are guided by certain common sense definitions and largely unaware of how an informed view of free time could be beneficial that practitioners within certain fields continue to refuse to engage with the idea of leisure despite its benefit for their clients and that the weak reception of the science of leisure within mainstream social sciences suggests a similarly warped understanding of how people use their free time Leisure's Legacy will be of interest to scholars of Leisure Studies and all those wishing to learn more about the vital importance of leisure in modern Western society

The Tender Cut Patricia A. Adler, Peter Adler, 2011 Cutting burning branding and bone breaking are all types of self injury or the deliberate non suicidal destruction of one's own body tissue a practice that emerged from obscurity in the 1990s and spread dramatically as a typical behavior among adolescents Long considered a suicidal gesture

The Tender Cut argues instead that self injury is often a coping mechanism a form of teenage angst an expression of group membership and a type of rebellion converting unbearable emotional pain into manageable physical pain Based on the largest qualitative non clinical population of self injurers ever gathered noted ethnographers Patricia and Peter Adler draw on 150 interviews with self injurers from all over the world along with 30 000 40 000 internet posts in chat rooms and communiqu r s Their 10 year longitudinal research follows the practice of self injury from its early days when people engaged in it alone and did not know others to the present where a subculture has formed via cyberspace that shares similar norms values lore vocabulary and interests An important portrait of a troubling behavior The Tender Cut illuminates the meaning of self injury in the 21st century its effects on current and former users and its future as a practice for self discovery or a cry for help

Policing Pain Kevin Revier,2025-11-11 How the medicalization of addiction during the U S opioid crisis has driven mass incarceration and mass policing in rural and deindustrialized communities The nationwide opioid public health emergency has led many advocates and public officials to call for drug policy reforms that reject traditional law and order approaches In Policing Pain Kevin Revier approaches the opioid epidemic from an abolitionist framework that seeks to treat people who use opioids not as so called criminals but as people in need of health care Based on two years of ethnographic research in Upstate New York a region highly impacted by overdoses job loss and deindustrialization Revier shows that incorporation of treatment within the criminal justice system has ultimately expanded the scope of the drug war turning individuals into treatable carceral subjects who are both medicalized and criminalized He argues that the incorporation of medical rhetoric and treatment within the criminal legal system maintains a carceral approach in rural and low income areas facing high rates of opioid overdose and economic disinvestment further entrenching the carceral state in the lives of people who use drugs Ultimately Policing Pain explores alternative strategies to promote harm reduction from an abolitionist ethic of care that advocates for people who use drugs while seeking to minimize criminal justice involvement in drug related issues ground between opposing camps of scholarship
