Constructive Parent:

Parent-School Collaboration Mary E. Henry, Mary E. Gardiner, 1996-02-01 Examines in close detail public schools relationships with their parents and communities Parenting, Education, and Social Mobility in Rural China Peggy A. Kong, 2015-10-30 Like many countries around the world China has been implementing policies aimed at improving parent school relationships However unlike many developed countries the historical context of family school relationships has been limited and parents typically do not participate in the school context Until now there has been little research conducted in rural China on parental involvement in their children's education This book investigates the nature of parental involvement in primary children's education in rural China by using a combination of quantitative and qualitative methods It outlines the layered strategies of how rural parents are involved in their children's schooling showing that rural parents strongly desire educational success for their children and view education as a means to their children gaining social mobility It demonstrates that few rural parents engage in visible forms of parental involvement in their children's schools such as attending parent teacher meetings Rather they are more likely to engage strategies to support their children's education which are largely invisible to schools It adds to the growing body of parental involvement research that suggests that culture location and socio economic status influence different forms of parental involvement and highlights nuances in invisible forms of parental involvement Providing insights into how poor rural parents envision their role with their children schools and the larger society and how these relationships can affect the social mobility of students and families this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Asian education comparative and international education and Chinese society Family Theory Thomas R. Chibucos, Randall W. Leite, David L. Weis, 2005 Readings in Family Theory is an anthology of classic and contemporary articles that provides a context for student learning by demonstrating how theory fits into the overall process of scientific research on families The book provokes student interest in theory by providing examples of the scholarly application of family theory to compare how people use similar processes in everyday life Using this contextual orientation the selected readings examine nine prevalent theoretical perspectives from both family and human development Psycho-Legal Concepts for Parenting in Child Custody and Child Protection Vol. 3 Don Tustin, 2024-12-02 This sciences book identifies a number of topics that arise in child protection where assessments of individual families are required The author opines that it is essential to use structured instruments when making assessments on complex topic about risk to reduce bias and to maximise objectivity. The author summarises criteria that are required for an assessment instrument to be viewed by scientists as being objective The book proposes that introducing more objective assessment instruments into the field of child protection will improve the focus and brevity of assessment reports and enable setting of thresholds that distinguish between families who provide good enough parenting from families who should be referred for parenting education and from parents who are unfit parents The author identifies a number of topics that commonly arise in cases where maltreatment of children is alleged reviews literature and proposes checklists that can be used to gather data and to form a basis for developing validated assessment instruments for use in child protection. The topics identified are relevant both to therapists as parenting practices can be changed using focused therapy and for legal assessment purposes as topics have been shown to be related to legal concerns about the safety and welfare of children The overall aim of this book is to encourage greater use of scientific assessment approaches in the field of child protection Parents And Professionals In Early Childhood Settings Mac Naughton, Glenda, Hughes, Patrick, 2011-01-01 The book addresses the real and often complex difficult and even controversial issues that real staff and families face daily Such issues may include bereavement food and diet preferences circumcision challenging behaviour discrimination and bullying How to Raise a Millionaire Александр Воронцов, A millionaire is not just a bank account balance It is a way of thinking living choosing and feeling This book is not just about money It is about how to cultivate a mindset in your child or yourself that can create wealth preserve it and use it for good How to Raise a Millionaire is a profound journey into the psychology habits worldview and energy of people who know how to turn opportunities into results The author weaves together parenting practices modern brain development research emotional intelligence and light elements of esotericism to answer a central question How do you raise a person who is not only wealthy but also whole free and truly happy Inside you ll discover How the millionaire mindset forms from early childhood Why parental beliefs are stronger than any motivation How to create a resource rich environment for growth The role of imagination visualization and inner vision of the future Why health energy and freedom of thought are the foundation of wealth How to nurture independence responsibility and strategic thinking And most importantly how to pass on not just money but the inner code of prosperity This book is for parents educators mentors and above all for anyone ready to see parenting as a sacred art of shaping the future ADHD in Preschool Children Jaswinder Ghuman, Hariwinder Ghuman, 2014 Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder ADHD is one of the most frequently diagnosed psychiatric disorders in children and adolescents This book focuses on preschool age children and provides the most comprehensive and up to date information regarding assessment including diagnostic interview neuropsychological testing comorbidity and differential diagnosis sleep problems and treatment interventions including psychosocial pharmacological and complementary and Gender, Sexualities and Law Jackie Jones, Anna Grear, Rachel Anne Fenton, Kim alternative treatments Stevenson, 2011-03-17 Bringing together an international range of academics Gender Sexualities and Law provides a comprehensive interrogation of the range of contemporary issues both topical and controversial raised by the gendered character of law legal discourse and institutions. The gendering of law persons and the legal profession along with the gender bias of legal outcomes has been a fractious but fertile focus of reflection It has moreover been an important site of political struggle This collection of essays offers an unrivalled examination of its various contemporary dimensions focusing on issues of theory and representation violence both national and international reproduction and parenting and partnership sexuality marriage and the family Gender Sexualities and Law will be invaluable for all those engaged in research and study of the law and related fields as a form of gendered power Early Intervention Studies for Young Children with Special Needs David R. Mitchell, Roy Irwin Brown, 2013-12-14 This is the fourth volume in the Rehabilitation Education Series It is the first volume tobe co edited and follows a volume on quality of life The first few years of a child's life sets the pattern for many issues associated with quality of life Although intervention may at later stages enhance quality of life it is in these first years that the attitudes and systems of society can have long lasting effects The early years are increasingly seen as the province of the educator and in children with disabilities special education They are already recognized as the province of the health professional Here we attempt to take a different line re inforcing the idea that child and family are the interacting system we serve The needs are often multidisciplinary but we need to recognize context as the critical marker Thus assessment needs tobe linked to program mes and therefore programmes themselves have tobe evaluated and environmental issues underlined In particular the contribution from those with sociological interests are noted Intervention whether it be psychological or educational is frequently and ideally placed in the hands of parents or the nearest caregiver. The professional becomes the processor ever mindful of the context in which needs and goals are experienced These issues are basic to the issues of quality of life DRMRIB The Routledge Handbook of Child and Family Social Work Research Elizabeth Fernandez, Penelope Welbourne, Bethany Lee, Joyce L.
