Constructive Play Applying Piaget In The Preschool:

Constructive Play George E. Forman, Fleet Hill, 1984 Preschool and Early Childhood Treatment Directions Maribeth Gettinger, Stephen N. Elliott, Thomas R. Kratochwill, 2013-12-16 The provision of early childhood educational and psychological services has been an area of considerable growth over the past 25 years As a result of far reaching trends in both public policy and clinical practices there is a growing need for professionals appropriately trained to address the assessment and intervention issues involved in early childhood programming To take advantage of current opportunities for extending their role and to meet the challenge of early childhood service delivery school psychologists must expand their professional skills and broaden their knowledge base With the publication of this volume the Advances in School Psychology Series changes to adopt a specific thematic focus and include reviews directly related to a common theme This volume studies the subject of early childhood education and treatment directions The chapters address a range of specific topics and research representing advances in the field of early childhood services for school psychology allowing school psychologists to examine and integrate current information from multiple perspectives educational and sociological as well as psychological Topics that collectively represent important developments for school psychology include current early childhood education program models preschool handicapped children parental involvement peers and socialization stress and coping and computers and young children To date more efforts have been directed toward devising and validating instruments that predict failure or success among preschoolers than on designing and evaluating approaches for treating them Although assessment is critical for meeting individual needs the primary emphasis of this volume is on fostering cognitive academic social and emotional growth of young children Children's Play in Child Care Settings Hillel Goelman, Ellen Vineberg Jacobs, 1994-01-01 Children's Play W. George Scarlett, 2005 Children's Play explores the many facets of play and how it develops from infancy through late childhood The authors discuss major revolutions in the way the children of today engage in play including changes in organised youth sports children's humour and electronic play Play from Birth to Twelve Doris Pronin Fromberg, Doris Bergen, 2021-12-12 First published in 1998 Play is pervasive infusing human activity throughout the life span In particular it serves to characterize childhood the period from birth to age twelve Within the past twenty years many additions to the knowledge base on childhood play have been published in popular and scholarly literature This book assembles and integrates this information discusses disparate and diverse components highlights the underlying dynamic processes of play and provides a forum from which new questions may emerge and new methods of inquiry may develop The place of new technologies and the future of play in the context of contemporary society also are discussed

Constructivism in the Computer Age George Forman, Peter B. Pufall, 2013-05-13 Discussing the future value of computers as tools for cognitive development the volume reviews past literature and presents new data from a Piagetian perspective Constructivism in the Computer Age includes such topics as teaching LOGO to children the computers effects on social development computer graphics as a new language and computers as a means of enhancing reflective thinking

Mitchell, Roy Irwin

Brown, 2013-12-14 This is the fourth volume in the Rehabilitation Education Series It is the first volume to be co edited and follows a volume on quality of life The first few years of a child s life sets the pattern for many issues associated with quality of life Although intervention may at later stages enhance quality of life it is in these first years that the attitudes and systems of society can have long lasting effects The early years are increasingly seen as the province of the educator and in children with disabilities special education They are already recognized as the province of the health professional Here we attempt to take a different line re inforcing the idea that child and family are the interacting system we serve The needs are often multidisciplinary but we need to recognize context as the critical marker Thus assessment needs to be linked to programmes and therefore programmes themselves have to be evaluated and environmental issues underlined In particular the contribution from those with sociological interests are noted Intervention whether it be psychological or educational is frequently and ideally placed in the hands of parents or the nearest caregiver The professional becomes the processor ever mindful of the context in which needs and goals are experienced These issues are basic to the issues of quality of life D R M R I B
