Constructivism And International Relations Alexander Wendt And His Critics:

Constructivism and International Relations Stefano Guzzini, Anna Leander, 2005-12-12 This new book unites in one volume some of the most prominent critiques of Alexander Wendt's constructivist theory of international relations and includes the first comprehensive reply by Wendt. Partly reprints of benchmark articles partly new original critiques the critical chapters are informed by a wide array of contending theories ranging from realism to poststructuralism. The collected leading theorists critique Wendt's seminal book Social Theory of International Politics and his subsequent revisions. They take issue with the full panoply of Wendt's approach such as his alleged positivism his critique of the realist school the conceptualism of identity and his teleological theory of history. Wendt's reply is not limited to rebuttal only. For the first time he develops his recent idea of quantum social science as well as its implications for theorising international relations. This unique volume will be a necessary companion to Wendt's book for students and researchers seeking a better understanding of his work and also offers one of the most up to date collections on constructivist theorizing.

Fifty Key Thinkers in International Relations Martin Griffiths, Steven C. Roach, M. Scott Solomon, 2008-11-28 Now in its second edition Fifty Key Thinkers in International Relations has been thoroughly updated with several new entries and a new preface to reflect the latest developments. There are new sections on Constructivism International Political Theory and English School as well as a range of new thinkers. They include Samuel Huntington Christine Sylvester Jürgen Habermas John Rawls Barry Buzan. Fully cross referenced throughout this book has everything for students of politics and international relations or indeed anyone who wants to gain an understanding of how nations can work together successfully.

Contemporary Security Studies Alan Collins, 2025

Constructivism Reconsidered Patrick James, Mariano E Bertucci, Jarrod Hayes, 2018-11-12 In international relations IR the theory of constructivism argues that the complicated web of international relations is not the result of basic human nature or some other unchangeable aspect but has been built up over time and through shared assumptions. Constructivism Reconsidered synthesizes the nature of and debates on constructivism in international relations providing a systematic assessment of the constructivist research program in IR to answer specific questions. What extent of disagreement exists with regard to the meaning of constructivism? To what extent is constructivism successful as an alternative approach to rationalism in explaining and understanding international affairs? Constructivism Reconsidered explores constructivism's theoretical empirical and methodological strengths and weaknesses and debates what these say about its past present and future to reach a better understanding of IR in general and how constructivism informs IR in particular.

Psychology and Constructivism in International Relations Vaughn P. Shannon, Paul A. Kowert, 2012 Psychology and constructivism together offer new ways of understanding international relations.

International Relations Theories Timothy Dunne, Milja Kurki, Steve Smith, 2013-01-03 Drawing on a wealth of expertise from an international team of contributors the second edition of International Relations Theories presents a diverse selection of theoretical positions Arguing that theory is central to explaining the dynamics of world politics editors Tim Dunne Milja Kurki and Steve Smith cover a wide variety of theoretical positions from the historically dominant traditions to powerful critical voices since the 1980s The editors have brought together a team of international contributors each specializing in a different theory The contributors explain the theoretical background to their positions before showing how and why their theories matter The book opens up space for analysis and debate allowing students to decide which theories they find most useful in explaining and understanding international relations

The Ideas and Practices of the European Union's Structural Antidiplomacy Steffen Bay Rasmussen, 2018-09-24 In The Ideas and Practices of the European Union's Structural Antidiplomacy Steffen Bay Rasmussen offers a comprehensive analysis of EU diplomacy that goes beyond the functioning of the European External Action Service and discusses the sui generis nature of the EU as a diplomatic actor the forms of bilateral and multilateral representation as well as the actor identity founding ideas and meta practices of EU diplomacy The book employs a novel theoretical approach that distinguishes the social structures of diplomacy from the practices and meta practices of diplomacy Comparing EU diplomacy to the two theoretically constructed ideal types of Westphalian diplomacy and utopian antidiplomacy Steffen Bay Rasmussen concludes that the EU's international agency constitutes a new form of diplomacy called structural antidiplomacy

Atomic Anxiety Frank Sauer, 2015-10-29 With the concept of Atomic Anxiety this book offers a novel perspective on one of the most important and longstanding puzzles of international politics the non use of U S nuclear weapons By focusing on the fear surrounding nuclear weapons it explains why nuclear deterrence and the nuclear taboo are working at cross purposes in practice

Contemporary Security Studies Alan Collins, 2022 With unrivalled coverage of a wide range of issues from terrorism nuclear deterrence and the weapons trade to environmental security transnational crime and cyber security Contemporary Security Studies is the definitive cutting edge introduction to security studies Bringing together contributions from leading scholars it provides a student friendly guide to traditional and critical theoretical approaches as well as the most important contemporary issues that dominate the modern security field Whether you are exploring how politicians portrayed the Covid19 pandemic as a security issue or the role that popular culture plays in promoting peace a broad variety of real world case studies and examples throughout the text encourage you to question your preconceptions of security studies and to critically evaluate key approaches and ideas in the subject New to this Edition A new Chapter 13 on popular culture introduces you to this innovative approach to security studies exploring the role that it plays in shaping and understanding security related processes A revised Chapter 12 on securitization theory traces its emergence and evolution as a framework for analysis covering everything you need to know about its main concepts and criticisms Chapter 27 on transnational crime now includes coverage of the crime terror nexus the relationship between organized crime and the state and a case study focusing on Mexico Every chapter has been thoroughly updated to reflect current political issues and developments in world affairs such as the initial impact of the Covid 19 pandemic climate change and forced migration Book jacket US Foreign Policy on Transitional Justice Annie R. Bird, 2015 Despite the diverse interests of Presidents Congress and the State Department this book argues that US foreign policy on transitional justice is surprisingly consistent characterised by an approach that is value driven strategic and retributive and that has influenced the field as a whole

The Struggle for Recognition in International Relations Michelle K. Murray, 2019 How established powers can facilitate the peaceful rise of new great powers is a perennial question of international relations and has gained increased salience with the emergence of China as an economic and military rival of the United States Highlighting the social dynamics of power transitions The Struggle for Recognition in International Relations offers a powerful new framework through which to understand important historical cases of power transition and more recently the rise of China and how the United States can facilitate its peaceful rise

The Quest for the National Interest Petr Drulák, Mats Braun, 2010 The concept of national interest belongs among the most widely used and abused concepts in the foreign policy debate This volume illustrates how the term can be used as a meaningful analytical tool It introduces three criteria relevance domestic consensus and external acceptance which serve to identify national interest The authors apply these criteria to Czech foreign policy making and provide some interesting findings concerning a country's possibilities to define and pursue its national interest Since the authors use four different methodologies case studies discourse analysis grounded theory and ethnography the volume also shows the variety of possible ways to analyse national interests

Coping and Conformity in World Politics Hugh C. Dyer, 2009-12-16 This book introduces the conceptual frameworks of coping and conformity to provide a new analysis of the ethical and political demands of international life The book also aims to address wider issues of freedom and necessity individualism and communitarianism and cosmopolitanism agency and structure and the legitimacy of governance and institutions

Different Shades of the Past Mateusz Kamionka, Przemysław Łukasik, 2023-01-30 In his book 21 Lessons for the 21st Century the historian Yuval Noah Harari wrote that man had the possibility to conquer the world precisely because he could create fictional stories and believe in them People created more and more complex stories about themselves that served and continue to serve according to the professor of the University of Jerusalem building unity social harmony and gaining power A narrative about past in which memory fragmentation and victimisation play a large role may be a temptation to instrumentalise the past This is especially true in relation to the events of the twentieth century when a series of bloody war conflicts occurred As shown in the following post conference volume today the wars of the past World War I and World War II Indian Pakistani war and current conflicts Russo Ukrainian war war in Sudan or Nagorno Karabakh are also a catalyst for the process of instrumentalisation This process can be analysed both at the level of the evolution of the language of conflict including the erosion of the values of democratic dialogue and the use of specific means of commemorating the past monuments museums the Internet

Arab Spring in Berlin and Paris: German and French Foreign Policy Between Continuity and Change Nurettin Yigit,2015 The Arab Spring has not only affected the well established structures in the Middle East and North Africa MENA but became also a touchstone for the German and French foreign policy A lasting three year transformation process turned out to be an unpredictable factor for the traditional German and French foreign policy principles within a novel geopolitical environment In this respect this study deals with the comparative foreign policy analysis of Germany and France with regard to the transformations in the MENA since 2011 Analysis is done on the basis of constructivist role theory in connection with the Civilian Power concept Major interest of this study is dedicated to the analysis of the foreign policy repertoire and identity of Germany and France towards the transition countries in North Africa A question is to be answered if the challenges provoke continuity or change

Causes of War Thomas Lindemann,2024-08-22 Theories on the origins of war are often based on the premise that the rational actor is in pursuit of material satisfaction such as the quest for power or for wealth These perspectives disregard the need for homo symbolicus the preservation of a positive self image for both emotional and instrumental reasons A good reputation ensures authority and material resources Non recognition can be as much as an explanation of war as that of other explicative variables Two empirical studies examining the role of non recognition in great power conflicts and in international crises will demonstrate the value of this symbolic approach

New Media in New Europe-Asia Jeremy Morris,Natalya Rulyova,Vlad Strukov,2016-04-14 This volume offers an in depth

investigation of the role of new media in the political social and cultural life in the region of Europe Asia By focusing on new media which is understood primarily as internet enabled networked social practice the book puts forward a political and cultural redefinition of the region which is determined by the recognition of the diversity of new media uses in the countries included in the study This book focuses on the period prior to the advent of world internet revolutions and it registers the region at its pivotal moment at the time of its entry into the post broadcast era Does the Internet aid democratisation or it conditioned by socio political norms Has the Internet changed politics or has it had to fit existing political structures Has the use of digital technologies revolutionized election campaigns How is hyperlinked society different from society prior to the advent of the web How do ordinary people actually use the Internet These and other pressing questions crucial to understanding the post socialist world are investigated in the current volume This book was published as a special issue of Europe Asia Studies
