Young Rebels in Contemporary Chinese Cinema Zhou Xuelin, 2007-09-01 In the 1980s a new type of central character emerged in contemporary Chinese films angry and alienated youth Filmmakers treated youth as a separate category and showed them in urban situations behaving in unconventional and socially rebellious ways Young Rebels in Contemporary Chinese Cinema looks for evidence in films that exemplify this trend

Gentrification in Chinese Cities Qinran Yang, 2022-05-20 This book provides an institutional interpretation of state facilitated gentrification in Chengdu an emerging central city of China It generalizes the three aspects of institutional changes in the cultural economic and social spheres that have thus far directed the operation of gentrification in the transitional economy the creative destruction of consumption spaces the spatial production of excess and the unequal redistribution of spatial resources to low income residents The interactions of state and society are examined in navigating the institutional changes and forming the Chinese distinctions of gentrification The author argues that these three aspects of institutional changes characterize gentrification in Chengdu as a transformative force of development led by the state and capitalists and championed by middle class consumers This gentrification mode periodically catalyzes new spaces and collective cultures which then necessitate the stimulation of new consumption behaviors and the formation of new consumer classes at the expense of the spatial demands for the even larger number of low income residents However in the context of China s unique state society relations some low income groups may also ride the wave of social transformation The author suggests that this type of gentrification integrates into not the essence of uneven geographical development in a capitalist society but China s unique model of urbanization and development which is often state driven innovative and even involuted so as to sustain continuous growth Though the research is focused on urban China this book also contributes to methodological issues on gentrification research on a global scale It is skeptical both of the structural explanation and of the revelation of unsorted differences instead it aims to generate midrange regularities of gentrification in Chinese cities Institutional change is treated as an intermediary that on the one hand responds to the global trends and on the other hand adapts to local preconditions Mixed methods including statistical and spatial analysis institutional analysis and an extensive ethnographic study are used to investigate gentrification from a structural perspective a historical perspective and as a grounded process within the locality

Inside the Circle Casey

James Miller, 2023-06-16 Drawing on over a decade of ethnographic fieldwork in northwest China Casey James Miller offers a novel compelling and intimately personal perspective on Chinese queer culture and activism In Inside the Circle Queer Culture and Activism in Northwest China Miller tells the stories of two courageous and dedicated groups of queer activists in the city of Xi'an a grassroots gay men's HIV AIDS organization called Tong'ai and a lesbian women's group named UNITE Taking inspiration from the circle a term used to imagine local national and global queer communities Miller shows how everyday people in northwest China are taking part in queer culture and activism while also striving to lead traditionally moral lives in a rapidly changing society The queer stories in this book broaden our understandings of gender and sexuality in contemporary China and show how taking global queer diversity seriously requires us to de-center Western cultural values historical experiences and theoretical perspectives

Domestication Of Media And Technology Berker, Thomas, Hartmann, Maren, Punie, Yves, 2005-11-01

This book provides an overview of a key concept in media and technology studies domestication Theories around domestication shed light upon the process in which a technology changes its status from outrageous novelty to an aspect of everyday life which is taken for granted The contributors collect past current and future applications of the concept of domestication critically reflect on its theoretical legacy and offer comments about further development The first part of Domestication of Media and Technology provides an overview of the conceptual development and theory of domestication In the second part of the book contributors look at a diverse range of empirical studies that use the domestication approach to examine the dynamics between users and technologies These studies include Mobile information and communications technologies ICTs and the transformation of the relationship between private and the public spheres Home based internet use the two way dynamic between the household and its social environment Disadvantaged women in Europe undertaking introductory internet courses Urban middle class families in China who embrace ICTs and view them as instruments of upward mobility and symbols of success The book offers valuable insights for both experienced researchers and students looking for an introduction to the concept of domestication Contributors Maria Bakardjieva University of Calgary Thomas Berker Norwegian University of Science and Technology Leslie Haddon Essex University Maren Hartmann University of Erfurt Deirdre Hynes Dublin City University Sun Sun Lim National University of Singapore Anna Maria Russo Lemor University of Colorado at Boulder David Morley Goldsmiths College University of London Jo Pierson TNO STB Delft Netherlands Yves Punie Institute for Prospective Technological Studies IPTS in Seville Els Rommes Nijmegen University

Roger Silverstone London School of Economics and Political Science Knut H S rensen Norwegian University of Science and Technology Katie J Ward University of Sheffield Locating China Jing Wang, 2007-05-07 Taking a multidisciplinary approach this volume examines the relationship between space and the production of local popular culture in contemporary China The international team of contributors examine the inter relationship between the cultural imaginary of a given place and China s continuing drive towards urbanization This has led to the development of new spaces and places and new forms of spatial practices that destabilize old concepts of the local and locality Delivering ethnographic observations and theoretical speculations this work furthers our understanding of the link between spatial thinking and the production of consumer culture in China Social Change in Contemporary China Wenfang Tang, Burkart Holzner, 2010-11-23 Social Change in Contemporary China offers a wide ranging examination of Chinese institutional change in areas of education religion health care economics labor family and local communities in the post Mao era Based on the pioneering work of sociologist C K Yang 1911 1999 and his institutional diffusion theory the essays analyze and develop the theory as it applies to both public and private institutions The interrelationship of these institutions composes what Yang termed the Chinese system and affects nearly every aspect of life Yang examined the influence of external factors on each institution such as the influence of Westernization and Communism on family and the impact of industrialization on rural markets He also analyzed the impact of public opinion and past culture on institutions therein revealing the circular nature of diffusion Perhaps most significant are Yang s insights on the role of religion in Chinese society Despite the common perception that China had no religion he uncovers the influence of classical Confucianism as the basis for many ethical value systems and follows its diffusion into state and kinship systems as well as Taoism and Buddhism Writing in the early years of Communism Yang had little hard data with which to test his theories The contributors to this volume expand upon Yang s groundbreaking approach and apply the model of diffusion to a rapidly evolving contemporary China providing a window into an increasingly modern Chinese society and its institutions
