Consumer Research Stephen Brown, Darach Turley, 2005-06-23 This book is a collection of cutting edge essays by leading exponents of consumer research from Europe and America Topics covered include marketing in cyberspace poststructuralism in marketing semiotics and marketing and much more The Why of Consumption Cynthia Huffman, David Glen Mick, S. Ratneshwar, 2003-09-02 This book brings together an international collection of authors from a variety of disciplines who offer new and critical perspectives summarize key findings and provide important theoretical frameworks to guide the reader through the why of consumption The book answers questions such as What is the nature of motives goals and desires that prompt consumption behaviours Why do consumers buy and consume particular products brands and services from the multitude of alternatives afforded by their environments How do consumers think and feel about their cravings Unique in focus and with multifaceted approach which anyone interested in consumption and consumer research will find fascinating this topical book provides an excellent overview of current research and imparts key insights to illuminate the subject for both academics and practitioners alike The Routledge Companion to Identity and Consumption Ayalla A. Ruvio, Russell W. Belk, 2013-01-04 Tell me what you eat I ll tell you who you are said Anthelme Brillat Savarin Today You are what you consume is more apt Barbara Krueger s ironic twist of Descartes I shop therefore I am has lost its irony Such phrases have become commonplace descriptions of our identity in the contemporary world In our materialistic world it seems as if there is no debate that our consumption behaviour is fused with our self identity shaping it changing it and often challenging it The Routledge Companion to Identity and Consumption introduces the reader to state of the art research written by the world s leading scholars regarding the interplay between identity and consumption The book addresses the diverse issues regarding the ways identity affects our consumption behaviour and vice versa and in doing so presents a broad perspective on the dynamics of self identity and consumption With chapters discussing the theory research and practical implications of these dynamics including the way they change across our life span and their expression within different social cultural and religious contexts this book will be a valuable reference source for students and academics from a variety of disciplines Imagining Marketing Stephen Brown, Anthony Patterson, 2001-02-01 Imagination is a word that is widely used by marketing practitioners but rarely examined by marketing academics This neglect is largely due to the imagination s artistic connotations which run counter to the scientific mindset that dominates marketing scholarship Of late however an artistic turn has taken place in marketing research and Case Study Research Arch G. Woodside, 2010-06-23 Case Study Research Theory Methods and Practice Marketing Apocalypse Jim Bell, Stephen Brown, David Carson, 2003-09-02 The present volume of essays examines the extent to which the end of marketing is nigh The authors explore the present state of marketing scholarship and put forward a variety of visions of marketing in the twenty first century Ranging from narratology to feminism these suggestions are always enlightening often provocative and occasionally outrageous Marketing Apocalypse is required reading for anyone interested in the future of marketing Consumption Challenged Professor Bente Halkier, 2012-12-28 In public debates communication campaigns and public policies it is increasingly common to attribute to consumers and their agency an ability to help solve a broad array of societal problems

This tendency is particularly clear in the field of food consumption owing to the fact that food is both materially and symbolically central for consumers in everyday life as well as for large scale institutionalized dynamics In order to shed light on the challenges facing food consumption this volume takes an innovative theoretical approach presenting four empirical Danish case studies which are compared with other analyses drawn from the wider international context Consumption Challenged will appeal not only to sociologists of consumption risk and the environment but also to policy makers and researchers in the fields of geography communication media governance and social psychology

Marketing Michael John Baker,2001 New Paths to Thick Descriptions Richard Elliott,Avi Shankar,2005 Annotation The papers in this e book focus on data collection and whilst none can claim to be completely new all challenge our usual reliance on focus groups or depth interviews and challenge us to think more creatively of how we might get closer to the actual lived experience of consumers and consumption

Qualitative Research Methods in Consumer Psychology Paul Hackett,2015-08-20 While consumer research is founded on traditional quantitative approaches the insight produced through qualitative research methods within consumer settings has not gone unnoticed The culturally situated consumer who is in intimate dialogue with their physical virtual and social surroundings has become integral to understanding the psychology behind consumer choices This volume presents readers with theoretical and applied approaches to using qualitative research methods in ethnographic studies looking at consumer behavior It brings together an international group of leading scholars in the field of consumer research with educational and professional backgrounds in marketing advertising business education therapy and health Researchers teaching faculty and students in the field of consumer and social psychology will benefit from the applied examples of qualitative and ethnographic consumer research this volume presents
