trends in consumption politics and how they impact the creation of consumer spaces which in this book takes the form of numerous global loci including Canada's West Edmonton Mall Japanese theme parks shopping venues in the Philippines and expat boutiques in Budapest Using a wide range of epistemological frameworks including cultural ethnography historical analysis literary theory sociological dissection anthropological examination and philosophical ruminations this collection conveys how material objects and lifestyles are accumulated and represented internationally and how consumer goods and spaces define who we are as human beings      Conversations on Consumption Jonathan Schroeder,2014-06-11

Consumption studies has grown tremendously in the past decade Researchers in sociology geography anthropology history marketing management organization and even art history have embraced consumption as a key institution of our era and are eager for ideas and insights Conversations on Consumption makes an important contribution to the growing field of consumption studies by offering readers a lively introduction to debates and dialogues that have shaped the field in the form of engaging interviews and personal reflections from leading theorists and researchers The interviews in this collection were first published in the interdisciplinary journal Consumption Markets and Culture and together form an accessible summary of the leading ideas and key developments in consumption studies and social theory over the past two decades With innovative contributions from marketing academics historians consumer researchers sociologists anthropologists and artists the pieces highlight the interdisciplinary nature of consumption as well as the wide ranging interest in consumption studies They are united in their approach to understand consumption far removed from economic or managerial analysis by focusing more on the role it plays in culture Conversations on Consumption will be of interest to scholars and students of sociology anthropology consumer research management studies and history      Consumerism in World History Peter N.

Stearns,2025-02-26 The third edition of Consumerism in World History explores the nature of consumerism and its evolution with particular emphasis on the modern consumer revolution and its global scope The book deals with crucial interpretive issues such as whether consumerism is a natural human expression or involves other causes the relationship between consumer apparatus such as shops and advertising and human needs and the interplay between Western and other regional forms of consumerism It covers major historical moments and changes including the consumer revolution in Western society beginning in the 17th century and regional cultural patterns from the 19th century onward This is a substantially revised edition with updated suggested readings rewritten sections on premodern consumerism in agricultural societies and globalization and consumerism and expanded coverage of major regions like India and Latin America This volume is essential reading for all students of world history and will be of great value to those in business history and environmental history

Global Advertising, Attitudes, and Audiences Tony Wilson,2013-09-05 This book presents consumer response to global media branding as a cognitive process whose understanding is important for advertising industry as well as academic investigation Interpreting reactions to screen advertising accounting for them in local cultural terms must be the first stage of any subsequent quantitative study      Why Capitalism Survives Crises Paul Zarembka, 2009-05-21 Focuses attention on why capitalism survives crises by developing the argument that it has moved on from its 19th century embodiment to include a class of shock absorbers This book tells how this class consisting of fractionalised individuals absorbs the massive surpluses of produced commodities      The Oxford Handbook of Consumption Frederick F. Wherry, Ian Woodward (Sociologist), 2019 The Oxford Handbook of Consumption examines the most pressing questions addressed by consumption studies scholars today The volume counteracts the tendency towards disciplinary myopia as it engages scholars from around the world drawing on sociology anthropology psychology history and consumption studies The volume s thirty one chapters are organized around six themes facilitating cross disciplinary exploration      Transformative Consumer Research for Personal and Collective Well-Being David Glen Mick, Simone Pettigrew, Cornelia (Connie) Pechmann, Julie L. Ozanne, 2012-01-26 Daily existence is more connected to consumer behaviors than ever before raising many issues around well being and quality of life Problematic consumer behaviors include unhealthy eating alcohol tobacco pornography and gambling abuse credit card mismanagement marketplace discrimination and ecological deterioration This book explores opportunities for improving well being via consumer behaviors such as empowerment via the Internet product sharing leisure pursuits family consumption and pro environmental activities      Marketing Fashion Karin M. Ekström, 2023-06-16 Fashion as a societal phenomenon has fascinated scholars in different disciplines such as history sociology anthropology psychology and marketing often from an interdisciplinary perspective Fashion mirrors societal changes cultural norms and values over time It can be interpreted as mundane everyday practices constructions of identity and status as well as being associated with the art world In this book the focus lies on marketing and the role of marketers when fashion permeates society in deliberate and subtle ways This edited collection critically reflects upon the power of fashion in contemporary society and the role marketing and marketers play in the process of defining creating and preserving fashion but also in divesting fashion that is no longer up to date It expands on existing knowledge to better understand the role marketers play as cultural agents in determining fashion and its markets Contributors to the book are international advanced scholars from a variety of disciplines such as anthropology marketing psychology and sociology who challenge traditional ways of thinking about marketing In a society where problems with overproduction and excessive consumption represent major challenges the critical perspective of the role fashion plays in contemporary society and what influence marketing has for shaping fashion are not merely relevant but necessary This cutting edge interdisciplinary book will appeal to scholars across a broad range of fields including fashion marketing fashion studies and consumer culture research It will also be valuable for students in advanced courses of study in a variety of disciplines besides marketing      Consumer Chronicles David H. Walker, 2011 Since its 19th century beginnings the consumer revolution extending market forces into every area of social and private life has been perceived as a challenge to core elements in French culture such as traditional artisan crafts and small businesses serving local communities Cultural historians and sociologists have charted the increasing commercialisation of everyday life over the 20th century but few have paid systematic attention to the crucial testimony provided by the authors of narrative fiction This book rectifies this omission by means of close readings of a series of novels selected for their authentic portrayal of consumer behaviour and analysed in relation to their social cultural and historical contexts
