Containment Thomas H. Etzold, John Lewis Gaddis, 1978 Building a Strategic Air Force Walton S. Moody, 1996

The American Military and the Far East Joe C. Dixon, 1981 Britain's Policy for West German Rearmament, 1950-1955 Saki Dockrill, 1991 The Truth Is Our Weapon Chris Tudda, 2006-05-01 President Dwight D Eisenhower and his secretary of state John Foster Dulles deployed a tactic Chris Tudda calls rhetorical diplomacy sounding a belligerent note of anti Communism in speeches addresses press conferences and private meetings with allies and with Moscow Yet all the while Tudda discloses the two were confidentially committed to a contradictory course the establishment of a strong system of collective security in Western Europe peaceful accommodation of the Soviet Union and the maintenance of a new albeit divided Germany Tudda explores the Eisenhower administration s pursuit of these two mutually exclusive diplomatic strategies and reveals how failure to reconcile them endangered the fragile peace of the 1950s He builds his argument through three case studies of the administration s badgering the French and their allies to ratify the European Defense Community of its threat to liberate Eastern Europe from Moscow s rule and of its forcing the issue of German reunification By emphasizing the threat from the Soviet Union Eisenhower and Dulles were trying to promote an activist rather than an isolationist foreign policy But their rhetorical diplomacy intensified Cold War tensions with European allies as well as with Moscow and effectively overwhelmed the administration s true diplomatic aims Based on American British Eastern European and Soviet primary sources many only recently unearthed The Truth Is Our Weapon is a major contribution to the historiography of Eisenhower s diplomacy and an important statement about the implications of public and private policy making Charting America's Cold War Waters in East Asia Kuan-Jen Chen, 2024-05-30 A comprehensive assessment of the contours of maritime East Asia and its importance on the world stage US Intervention Policy and Army Innovation Richard Lock-Pullan, 2006 This book examines how the US Army rebuilt itself after the Vietnam War and how this has effected US intervention policy after the Cold War Full Spectrum Dominance Rahul Mahajan, 2011-01-04 In this compelling big picture assessment of the U S war on Iraq Mahajan combines his experience as an anti Iraq sanctions activist with a keen analysis of U S foreign policy in the post Cold War era to provide the analysis that has been overlooked in the mainstream debate Situating Iraq within the larger context of post 9 11 foreign policy he analyzes the Bush National Security Strategy and the new neoconservative vision of achieving increasing degrees of global domination and control Presented with unflinching clarity Mahajan s research demonstrates that the war on Iraq was part of a much larger plan assembled before 9 11 and as stated by the Project for a New American Century needing only a new Pearl Harbor to implement it The American military and the Far East proceedings of the Ninth Military History Symposium United States Air Force Academy 1-3 October 1980 , Geopolitics and the Quest for Dominance Jeremy Black, 2015-11-25 History and geography delineate the operation of power not only its range but also the capacity to plan and the ability to implement Approaching state strategy and policy from the spatial angle Jeremy Black argues that just as the perception of power is central to issues of power so place and its constraints and relationships is partly a matter of perception not merely map coordinates Geopolitics he maintains is as much about ideas and perception as it is about the actual spatial dimensions of power Black's study ranges widely examining geography and the spatial nature of state power from the 15th century to the present day He considers the rise of British power geopolitics and the age of Imperialism the Nazis and World War II and the Cold War and he looks at the key theorists of the latter 20th century including Henry Kissinger Francis Fukuyama and Samuel P Huntington Philip Bobbitt Niall Ferguson and others

Dueling Visions Ronald R. Krebs, 2001 The presidential election of 1952 unlike most others before and since was dominated by foreign policy from the bloody stalemate of Korea to the deepening menace of international communism During the campaign Dwight Eisenhower and his spokesmen fed the public's imagination with their promises to liberate the peoples of Eastern Europe and created the impression that in office they would undertake an aggressive program to roll back Soviet influence across the globe But time and again during the 1950s Eisenhower and his advisers found themselves powerless to shape the course of events in Eastern Europe they mourned their impotence but did little In Dueling Visions Ronald R. Krebs argues that two different images of Eastern Europe's ultimate status competed to guide American policy during this period Finlandization and rollback Rollback championed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Central Intelligence Agency was synonymous with liberation as the public understood it detaching Eastern Europe from all aspects of Soviet control Surprisingly the figure most often linked to liberation Secretary of State John Foster Dulles came to advocate a more subtle and measured policy that neither accepted the status quo nor pursued rollback This American vision for the region held up the model of Finland imagining a tier of states that would enjoy domestic autonomy and perhaps even democracy but whose foreign policy would toe the Soviet line Krebs analyzes the conflicting logics and webs of assumptions underlying these dueling visions and closely examines the struggles over these alternatives within the administration Case studies of the American response to Stalin's death and to the Soviet Yugoslav rapprochement reveal the eventual triumph of Finlandization both as vision and as policy Finally Krebs suggests the study's implications for international relations theory and contemporary foreign affairs

The Cold War and After Sean M. Lynn-Jones, Steven E. Miller, 1993 The Cold War and After presents a collection of well reasoned arguments selected from the journal International Security on the causes of the Cold War and the effect of its aftermath on the peaceful coexistence of European states This new edition includes all of the material from the first edition plus four new articles The Unipolar Illusion Why New Great Powers Will Rise Christopher Layne International Primacy Is the Game Worth the Candle Robert Jervis Why International Primacy Matters Samuel P. Huntington and International Relations Theory and the End of the Cold War John Lewis Gaddis Sean M. Lynn-Jones is Managing Editor of International Security Steven E. Miller is Director of Studies at the Center for Science and International Affairs Harvard University has achieved an unparalleled reputation as a scholar activist and analyst of indigenous issues in North America Here he explores the history of holocaust and denial in this hemisphere beginning with the arrival of Columbus and continuing on into the present He frames the matter by examining both revisionist denial of the nazi perpetrated Holocaust and the opposing claim of its exclusive uniqueness using the full scope of what happened in Europe as a backdrop against which to demonstrate that genocide is precisely what has been and still is carried out against the American Indians Churchill lays bare the means by which many of these realities have remained hidden how public understanding of this most monstrous of crimes has been subverted not only by its perpetrators and their beneficiaries but by the institutions and individuals who perceive advantages in the confusion In particular he outlines the reasons underlying the United States s 40 year refusal to ratify the Genocide Convention as well as the implications of the attempt to exempt itself from compliance when it finally offered its endorsement In conclusion Churchill proposes a more adequate and coherent definition of the crime as a basis for identifying punishing and preventing genocidal practices wherever and whenever they occur Ward Churchill enrolled Keetoowah Cherokee is Professor of American Indian Studies with the Department of Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado Boulder A member of the American Indian Movement since 1972 he has been a leader of the Colorado chapter for the past fifteen years Among his previous books have been Fantasies of a Master Race Struggle for the Land Since Predator Came and From a Native Son The First Cold Warrior Elizabeth Spalding, 2006-05-26 From the first days of his unexpected presidency in April 1945 through the landmark NSC 68 of 1950 Harry Truman was central to the formation of America s grand strategy during the Cold War and the subsequent remaking of U S foreign policy Others are frequently associated with the terminology of and responses to the perceived global Communist threat after the Second World War Walter Lippmann popularized the term cold war and George F Kennan first used the word containment in a strategic sense Although Kennan Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of Defense George C Marshall have been seen as the most influential architects of American Cold War foreign policy The First Cold Warrior draws on archives and other primary sources to demonstrate that Harry Truman was the key decision maker in the critical period between 1945 and 1950 In a significant reassessment of the thirty third president and his political beliefs Elizabeth Edwards Spalding contends that it was Truman himself who defined and articulated the theoretical underpinnings of containment His practical leadership style was characterized by policies and institutions such as the Truman Doctrine the Marshall Plan NATO the Berlin airlift the Department of Defense and the National Security Council Part of Truman s unique approach shaped by his religious faith and dedication to anti communism was to emphasize the importance of free peoples democratic institutions and sovereign nations With these values he fashioned a new liberal internationalism distinct from both Woodrow Wilson s progressive internationalism and Franklin D Roosevelt s liberal pragmatism which still shapes our politics Truman deserves greater credit for understanding the challenges of his time and for being America s first cold warrior This reconsideration of Truman

s overlooked statesmanship provides a model for interpreting the international crises facing the United States in this new era of ideological conflict

Strategic Studies and World Order Bradley S. Klein, 1994-05-05 In this 1994 book Bradley Klein draws upon debates in international relations theory to raise important questions about the nature of strategic studies He argues that post modern critiques of realism and neorealism open up opportunities for new ways of thinking about nuclear deterrence In clear and uncluttered language he explores the links between modernity state building and strategic violence and argues that American foreign policy and NATO undertook a set of dynamic political practices intended to make and remake world order in the image of Western identity Klein warns against too facile a celebration of the end of the Cold War concluding that it is even more imperative today to appreciate the scope and power of the Western strategic project The book will be of interest to students of international relations theory strategic studies peace studies and US foreign policy

De Veiligheid Van Europa, 1991 Opstellen over internationale verhoudingen in de ontwikkeling van het Europese Statensysteem van de zestiende eeuw tot heden

American Policy and the Reconstruction of West Germany, 1945-1955 Jeffry M. Diefendorf, Axel Frohn, Hermann-Josef Rupieper, 1993 This volume of essays by German and American historians discusses key issues of US policy toward Germany in the decade following World War II

Picturing China in the American Press David D. Perlmutter, 2007-03-29 Picturing China in the American Press juxtaposes what the ordinary American news reader was shown visually in Time Magazine between 1949 and 1973 with contemporary perspectives on the behind the scenes history of the period Time Magazine is an especially fruitful source for such a visual historical contrast and comparison because it was China centric founded and run by Henry Luce a man who loved China and was commensurably obsessed with winning China to democracy and Western influence Picturing China examines in detail major events the Korean War and Nixon's trip to China less considerable occurrences shellings of Straits islands and diplomatic flaps great personages Chairman Mao and Henry Kissinger and the common people and common life of China as seen through the lenses and described by the pens of American reporters artists photographers and editors Picturing China in the American Press is of great interest to both scholars of communications Chinese history China Studies and journalists

Reviewing the Cold War Odd Arne Westad, 2013-10-14 Since the cold war ended it has become an international field of study with new material from China the former Soviet Union and Europe This volume takes stock of where these new materials have taken us in our understanding of what the cold war was about and how we should study it

Our Germans Brian E. Crim, 2018-01-15 As this engaging book demonstrates whether characterized as an expedient Cold War program born from military necessity or a dishonorable episode the project ultimately reflects American ambivalence about the military industrial complex and the viability of an ends justifies the means solution to external threats
