Australian Journal of Soil Research ,2006 Contaminated Soils, Sediments and Water Volume 10 Edward J.

Calabrese,Paul T. Kostecki,James Dragun,2006-11-28 Every spring the University of Massachusetts Amherst welcomes all Soils Conference Scientific Advisory Board members with open arms as we begin the planning process responsible for bringing you quality conferences year after year With this homecoming of sorts comes the promise of reaching across the table and interacting with a wide spectrum of stakeholders each of them bringing their unique perspective in support of a successful Conference in the fall This year marks the 20 anniversary of what started as a couple of thoughtful scientists interested in developing partnerships that together could fuel the environmental cleanup dialogue Since the passage of the Superfund Law regulators academia and industry have come to realize that models that depend exclusively on command and control mandates as the operative underpinning limit our collective ability to bring hazardous waste sites to productive re use It is with this concern in mind that the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection privatized its cleanup program in 1993 spurring the close out of over 20 000 sites and spills across the Commonwealth to date in a manner that is both protective of human health and the environment while also flexible and responsive to varied site uses and redevelopment goals So we gather together again this year to hear our collective stories and share success and challenges just as we share stories at a family gathering Take a read through the stories contained in these proceedings

Contaminated Soils, Sediments and Water Volume 10 Edward J. Calabrese,Paul T. Kostecki,James Dragun,2006 This volume contains articles from the 20th Annual International Conference on Soils Sediments and Water Primarily a technical conference each year the platform sessions poster presentations and workshops represent the leading edge in environmental science and technology The meeting promotes a collaborative approach between scientists engineers environmental consultants industry and regulators dealing with environmental contamination This yearly conference began 21 years ago to inform the environmental remediation efforts of the DEP and the EPA What started as a group of Academics providing informal assistance to the EPA is now an international conference that presents current research with the support of a high level scientific advisory board The conference follows trends and adapts the conference agenda accordingly The largest ever attendance at the 2004 meeting was at nearly 1000 due to the caliber of the researchers and engineers presenting at the conference Content is especially relevant to environmental remediation professionals for acquiring current knowledge and technologies that can be immediately applied in the field Geoscience Documentation ,1993 Bulletin of the Atomic
