Coming of Age in Contemporary American Fiction Kenneth Millard, 2007-04-18 This book explores the ways in which a range of recent American novelists have handled the genre of the coming of age novel or the Bildungsroman. Novels of this genre characteristically dramatise the vicissitudes of growing up and the trials and tribulations of young adulthood often presented through depictions of immediate family relationships and other social structures. This book considers a variety of different American cultures in terms of race, class and gender and a range of contemporary coming of age novels so that aesthetic judgements about the fiction might be made in the context of the social history that fiction represents. A series of questions are asked: Does the coming of age moment in these novels coincide with an interpretation of the fall of America? What kind of national commentary does it therefore facilitate? Is the Bildungsroman a quintessentially American genre? What can it usefully tell us about contemporary American culture? Although the focus is on the conte

Contemporary American Fiction Kenneth Millard, 2000 Millard leads the interpretation of post 1970 fiction by addressing particular authors and themes

Neo-Realism in Contemporary American Fiction , 2025-01-27 Contemporary American Fiction Kenneth Millard, 2000-09-21 Contemporary American Fiction provides an introduction to American fiction since 1970. Offering substantial and detailed interpretations of more than thirty texts by thirty different writers, Millard combines them in an innovative critical structure designed to promote debates on cultural politics and aesthetic value. The book is the first of its kind to offer a wide ranging survey of recent developments in the fiction of the United States. Recent novels by established writers such as John Updike and Philip Roth are analysed alongside the fiction of younger writers such as Gish Jen and Sherman Alexie. The book's innovative structure encourages new ways of thinking about how American writers might be configured in relation to each other while providing an analysis of how contemporary fiction has responded to changes in central areas of American life such as the family, the media, technology and consumerism. Contemporary American Fiction is a substantial critical introduction to some of the most exciting fiction of the last thirty years, an eclectic and thorough advertisement for the extraordinary vitality of American fiction at the end of the twentieth century. This is an excellent introduction to the subject for undergraduate students of modern American literature

Contemporary American Fiction in the European Classroom Laurence W. Mazzeno, Sue Norton, 2022-04-06 This book offers insight into the ways students enrolled in European classrooms in higher education come to understand American experience through its literary fiction, which for decades has been a key component of English department offerings and American Studies curricula across the continent and in Great Britain and Ireland. The essays provide an understanding of how post World War II American writers, some already elevated to canonical status and some not, are represented in European university classrooms and why they have been chosen for inclusion in coursework. The book will be of interest to scholars and teachers of American literature and

American studies and to students in American literature and American studies courses

The Hero in Contemporary American Fiction S. Halldorson, 2007-12-09 This book sets out to write nothing short of a new theory of the heroic for today's world It delves into the why of the hero as a natural companion piece to the how of the hero as written by Northrop Frye and Joseph Campbell over half a century ago The novels of Saul Bellow and Don DeLillo serve as an anchor to the theory as it challenges our notions of what is heroic about nymphomaniacs Holocaust survivors spurious academics cult followers terrorists celebrities photographers and writers of novels who all attempt to claim the right to be hero

Utopia and Terror in Contemporary American Fiction Judie Newman, 2014-07-17 This book examines the quest for failure of Utopia across a range of contemporary American transnational fictions in relation to terror and globalization through authors such as Susan Choi Andr Dubus Dalia Sofer and John Updike While recent critical thinkers have reengaged with Utopia the possibility of terror whether state or non state external or homegrown shadows Utopian imaginings Terror and Utopia are linked in fiction through the exploration of the commodification of affect a phenomenon of a globalized world in which feelings are managed homogenized across cultures exaggerated or expunged according to a dominant model Narrative approaches to the terrorist offer a means to investigate the ways in which fiction can resist commodification of affect and maintain a reasoned but imaginative vision of possibilities for human community Newman explores topics such as the first American bestseller with a Muslim protagonist the links between writer and terrorist the work of Iranian Jewish Americans and the relation of race and religion to Utopian thought The Quest for Epic in Contemporary American Fiction Catherine Morley, 2008-09-25 This volume explores the confluences between two types of literature in contemporary America the novel and the epic It analyses the tradition of the epic as it has evolved from antiquity through Joyce to its American manifestations and describes how this tradition has impacted upon contemporary American writing

The Cambridge Introduction to Contemporary American Fiction Stacey Olster, 2017-06-09 Explores American fiction of the last thirty years examining the political and cultural changes that distinguish the period The Philosophy of Yoga in Contemporary American Fiction Sukhbir Singh, 2024-07-09 Following the Second World War yoga has asserted its presence in America and impacted the American culture arts and literature This book offers extensive explications of Saul Bellow's Mr Sammler's Planet J D Salinger's Teddy John Updike's S A Novel and Kurt Vonnegut's Slaughterhouse Five in the light of the four different yoga philosophies interwoven into their respective narrative structures The comparative analyses of these four contemporary American fictions unveil the deeper mystical motifs implicit in their plots stories themes and characters behavioural patterns The exhaustive interpretations of texts in the five successive chapters put forth an exposition of how the ancient Indic philosophy and contemporary American fiction interact to explicate and enrich each other The book adds a unique unconventional dimension to the comparative and interdisciplinary investigation into contemporary American fiction and thereby opens up new vistas of an off beat interface between the Eastern philosophy and Western literature

Travel and Dislocation in Contemporary American Fiction Alik Varvogli, 2012-03-12 This book offers a critical study and analysis of American fiction at the beginning of the twenty first century It focuses on novels that go outward literally and metaphorically and it concentrates on narratives that take place mainly away from the US's geographical borders Varvogli draws on current theories of travel globalization and post national studies and proposes a dynamic model that will enable scholars to approach contemporary American fiction and assess recent changes and continuities Concentrating on work by Philip Caputo Dave Eggers Norman Rush and Russell Banks the book proposes that American literature's engagement with Africa has shifted and needs to be approached using new methodologies Novels by Amy Tan Garrison Keillor Jonathan Safran Foer and Dave Eggers are examined in the context of travel and globalization and works by Chang rae Lee Ethan Canin Dinaw Mengestu and Jhumpa Lahiri are used as examples of the changing face of the American immigrant novel and the changing meaning of national belonging

Food and Culture in Contemporary American Fiction Lorna Piatti-Farnell, 2011-07-13 Establishing an interdisciplinary connection between Food Studies and American literary scholarship Piatti Farnell investigates the significances of food and eating in American fiction from 1980 to the present day She argues that culturally coded representations of the culinary illuminate contemporary American anxieties about class gender race tradition immigration nationhood and history As she offers a critical analysis of major works of contemporary fiction Piatti Farnell unveils contrasting modes of culinary nostalgia disillusionment and progress that pervasively address the cultural disintegration of local and familiar culinary values in favor of globalized economies of consumption In identifying different incarnations of the American culinary Piatti Farnell covers the depiction of food in specific categories of American fiction and explores how the cultural separation that molds food preferences inevitably challenges the existence of a homogenous American identity The study treads on new grounds since it not only provides the first comprehensive study of food and consumption in contemporary American fiction but also aims to expose interrelated politics of consumption in a variety of authors from different ethnic cultural racial and social backgrounds within the United States

New Strangers in Paradise: The Immigrant Experience and Contemporary American Fiction Gilbert H. Muller, New Visions of Community in Contemporary American Fiction Magali

Cornier Michael, 2008-04 In this engaging optimistic close reading of five late twentieth century novels by American women Magali Cornier Michael illuminates the ways in which their authors engage with ideas of communal activism common commitment and social transformation The fictions she examines imagine coalition building as a means of moving toward new forms of nonhierarchical justice for ethnic cultures that as a result of racist attitudes have not been assimilated power with each other rather than power over each other is a collective goal Michael argues that much contemporary American fiction by women offers models of care and nurturing that move away from the private sphere toward the public and political Specifically texts by women from such racially marked ethnic groups as African American Asian American Native American and Mexican American draw from the rich systems of thought histories and experiences of these hybrid cultures and thus offer feminist and ethical revisions of traditional concepts of community coalition subjectivity and agency Focusing on Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club Barbara Kingsolver's The Bean Trees and Pigs in Heaven Ana Castillo's So Far from God and Toni Morrison's Paradise Michael shows that each writer emphasizes the positive liberating effects of kinship and community These hybrid versions of community which draw from other than dominant culturally specific ideas and histories have something to offer Americans as the United States moves into an increasingly diverse twenty first century Michael provides a rich lens through which to view both contemporary fiction and contemporary life

Contemporary American Fiction in the Embrace of the Digital Age Beatrice Pire, Arnaud Regnauld, Pierre-Louis Patoine, 2021-12-31 This collection aims to examine the relationship between American fiction and innovations that marked the first decades of the 21st century the Internet social media smart objects and environments artificial intelligence nanotechnologies genetic engineering and other biotechnologies transhumanism These technological innovations redefine the way we live in and imagine our world interact with each other and understand the human being in his or her ever closer relationship to the machine a human being no longer as in the past cared for or repaired but now enhanced or replaced What about our artistic and cultural practices Are these recent advances changing language and literature How is fiction transformed by technological progress and what representations of progress can it oppose Can fiction offer a critique of the new media and the upheavals they precipitate How does the temporality of literature respond to a technical time subjected to the imperative of efficiency where the present is a slave to the future Do virtual worlds challenge the primacy of literary fiction as a privileged mode of escape from daily life In a context where software can generate literary works can the force of poetical advent still oppose algorithmic logics What becomes of the body in a world in which its technical extensions increase the externalization of its cognitive functions in media artifacts and digital networks In order to explore these questions scholars here investigate the American fiction of Russell Banks Don DeLillo David Foster Wallace Jonathan Lethem Tao Lin Richard Powers Kenneth Goldsmith Jennifer Egan or Jonathan Franzen as well as the Cyberpunk genre and the Neuronovel Ghost Writing in Contemporary American Fiction David Coughlan, 2016-11-05 This book examines representations of the specter in American twentieth and twenty first century fiction David Coughlan's innovative structure has chapters on Paul Auster Don DeLillo Toni Morrison Marilynne Robinson and Philip Roth alternating with shorter sections detailing the significance of the ghost in the philosophy of Jacques Derrida particularly within the context of his 1993 text Specters of Marx Together these accounts of phantoms shadows haunts spirit the death sentence and hospitality provide a compelling theoretical context in which to read contemporary US literature Ghost Writing in Contemporary American Fiction argues at every stage that there is no self no relation to the other no love no home no mourning no future no trace of life without the return of the specter that is without ghost writing

Designs of Darkness in Contemporary American Fiction Arthur M. Saltzman, 2016-11-11 In Designs of Darkness Arthur M Saltzman examines some of the ways in which fiction has traditionally conspired to promote a goal oriented vision of the work of art and explores the ways in which postmodern or postrealist fiction consistently and unavoidably subverts the clarity of this vision Offering readings of works by well known authors including Barthelme Doctorow DeLillo and Hakes as well as works by lesser known writers Auster Gangemi Saltzman concentrates on the breakdown of epiphany in recent fiction both as philosophical motive and as structural foundation In contemporary fiction Saltzman contends ambiguities blossom far beyond our capacities to stabilize summarize or restore them to sense The old rules of the game in which a reader looking for truth can expect some sort of satisfactory resolution no longer apply Literature now comes out of the answerless Designs of Darkness in Contemporary American Fiction is a valuable new resource for scholars and students of contemporary literature
