Apocalyptic AI: Visions of Heaven in Robotics, Artificial Intelligence, and Virtual Reality Robert M. Geraci, 2010-02-05 Apocalyptic AI the hope that we might one day upload our minds into machines or cyberspace and live forever is a surprisingly wide spread and influential idea affecting everything from the world view of online gamers to government research funding and philosophical thought In Apocalyptic AI Robert Geraci offers the first serious account of this cyber theology and the people who promote it Drawing on interviews with roboticists and AI researchers and with devotees of the online game Second Life among others Geraci illuminates the ideas of such advocates of Apocalyptic AI as Hans Moravec and Ray Kurzweil He reveals that the rhetoric of Apocalyptic AI is strikingly similar to that of the apocalyptic traditions of Judaism and Christianity In both systems the believer is trapped in a dualistic universe and expects a resolution in which he or she will be translated to a transcendent new world and live forever in a glorified new body Equally important Geraci shows how this worldview shapes our culture Apocalyptic AI has become a powerful force in modern culture In this superb volume he shines a light on this belief system revealing what it is and how it is changing society Technoculture and Critical Theory Simon Cooper, 2003-08-29 The author explores the work of major thinkers and cultural movements that have grappled with the complex relationship between technology politics and culture Subjects such as the Internet cloning warfare fascism and Virtual Reality are placed within a broad theoretical context which explores how humanity might through technology establish a more ethical relationship with the world Examining the philosophy of writers such as Heidegger Benjamin Lyotard Virilio and Zizek and cultural movements such as Italian Futurism this book marks a timely intervention in critical theory debates The broad scope of the book will be of vital interest to those in the fields of philosophy critical theory cultural studies politics and communications      Futurizing the Jews Tsvi (Howard) Bisk, Moshe Dror, 2003-11-30 Bisk and Dror assert that the 21st Century can be the Jewish Century that no other people is better prepared to face its challenges However to do so a stress on the Jewish Future must replace a preoccupation with the Jewish Past They offer a neo Zionist ideological analysis of modern Jewish life as an alternative to both classical Zionism and post Zionism They conceptualize a Jewish Grand Strategy by clearly defining and delineating between ideology policy grand strategy strategy and tactics with compelling proposals for what such a revised Grand Strategy might entail They suggest a concept of reinvigorated Israel Diaspora relations based on this new Grand Strategy and the potential of the Information Technology Revolution They also offer a conception of Jewish spirituality that could be as appealing to secular as to religious Jews They reject the concept of a Nation that Dwells Alone Throughout the ages Jews have affected and been affected by the world more than any other People they assert They also reject the view that suffering is the dominant feature of Jewish history as this lachrymose perception cannot inspire needed Jewish ambitions in the young They stress the needs of the Jewish person and insist that there can be no real significance to the continued existence of the Jewish People unless the real life concrete needs of the individual are addressed As former Israeli Ambassador to the United Nations and former Cabinet Minister Gad Yaacobi asserts in his foreword The book is original iconoclastic and in some ways revolutionary it challenges inherited assumptions and calls for positive action I believe we have before us a book that must become a reference point for Jewish policy makers as quickly as possible
