Lobos,Anyela V. Camargo,Alejandro del Pozo,Jose L. Araus,Rodolfo Ortiz,John H. Doonan,2018-08-16 As a consequence of the global climate change both the reduction on yield potential and the available surface area of cultivated species will compromise the production of food needed for a constant growing population There is consensus about the significant gap between world food consumption projected for the coming decades and the expected crop yield improvements which are estimated to be insufficient to meet the demand The complexity of this scenario will challenge breeders to develop cultivars that are better adapted to adverse environmental conditions therefore incorporating a new set of morpho physiological and physico chemical traits a large number of these traits have been found to be linked to heat and drought tolerance Currently the only reasonable way to satisfy all these demands is through acquisition of high dimensional phenotypic data high throughput phenotyping allowing researchers with a holistic comprehension of plant responses or Phenomics Phenomics is still under development This Research Topic aims to be a contribution to the progress of methodologies and analysis to help understand the performance of a genotype in a given environment Size-Scale Effects in the Failure Mechanisms of Materials and Structures Alberto Carpinteri,2002-11-01 Invited international contributions to this exciting new research field are included in this volume It contains the specially selected papers from 45 key specialists given at the Symposium held under the auspices of the prestigious International Union of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics at Turin in October 1994 Breaking the myth: Breeding for stress tolerance, grain yield, and quality traits simultaneously by diversifying the narrow genetic base Karansher Singh Sandhu,Ali Raza,Sunil S. conditions is not a simple individual it is a community We now know that there is a community of microbes associated with all parts of the plant and that the root associated community is particularly large This microbial community the phytomicrobiome is complex regulated and the result of almost half a billion years of evolution Circumstances that benefit the plant generally benefit the phytomicrobiome and vice versa Members of the holobiont modulate each other's activities in part through molecular signals acting as the hormones of the holobiont The plant plus the phytomicrobiome constitute the holobiont the resulting entity that is that community The phytomicrobiome is complex well developed and well orchestrated and there is considerable potential in managing this system The use of biologicals will develop during the 21st century and play as large a role as agro chemistry did in the 20th century Biologicals can be deployed to enhance plant pathogen resistance improve plant access to nutrients and improve stress tolerance They can be used to enhance crop productivity to meet the expanding demands for plant material as food fibre and fuel They can assist crop plants in dealing with the more frequent and more extreme episodes of stress that will occur as climate change conditions continue to develop The path is clear and we have started down it there is a considerable distance remaining
