addresses a pressing anxiety of our time that of homelessness Tersely stated the philosophical significance of homelessness in its more modern context can be understood to emerge with Nietzsche and his discourse on nihilism which signals the loss of the highest values hitherto Diverging from Nietzsche Heidegger interprets homelessness as a symptom of the oblivion of being The purpose of the present enquiry is to rigorously confront humanity's state of homelessness and at the same time illumine the extent to which Heidegger's thought engages with this pervasive phenomenon In questioning the nature of homelessness Heidegger's preoccupations with nihilism and modern technology prove crucial Moreover his attempts to overcome or prepare for the overcoming of this state of homelessness are also of great import to the current investigation

Adorno and Levinas offer scathing critiques of Heidegger's thought as it relates to the motifs of homelessness, homecoming, Heimkunft and the German Heimat for they associate it with provincialism, paganism and a pernicious form of politics. In providing these critiques they bring to light the risks involved in undertaking a homecoming venture and they also show how a great thinker can err greatly. While acknowledging the importance of these criticisms, the present study reveals how Heidegger's various discourses on homelessness and homecoming bear fruitful insights that can contribute not just to a Germanic sense of homecoming but to a sense of homecoming that humanity at large can relate to and be enriched by.

Beneath the Heart of the Sea Owen Chase, 2015-04-01 Discover the amazing true story behind the inspiration for Herman Melville's Moby Dick and the feature film Heart of the Sea. A tragic yet riveting narration of life and death and man against the elements, this is an extreme account of shipwreck survival. On the morning of November 20, 1820, in the Pacific Ocean, 2,000 miles from the coast of South America, an enraged sperm whale rammed the Nantucket whaleship Essex. As the boat began to sink, her crew of 20, including first mate Owen Chase, grabbed what little they could before piling into frail boats and taking to the open seas. So began their four-month ordeal and struggle for survival. This is a bleak story; only eight men survived, having endured starvation and dehydration, giving in to cannibalism, murder, and insanity. Owen Chase recorded the extraordinary account in his autobiography, originally published in 1821.

Heart of Darkness Joseph Conrad, 2024-01-25 Heart of Darkness (1899) is a short novel by Joseph Conrad written as a frame narrative about Charles Marlow's life as an ivory transporter down the Congo River in Central Africa. The river is a mighty big river that you could see on the map resembling an immense snake uncoiled with its head in the sea, its body at rest curving afar over a vast country and its tail lost in the depths of the land. In the course of his travel in central Africa, Marlow becomes obsessed with Mr. Kurtz. The story is a complex exploration of the attitudes people hold on what constitutes a barbarian versus a civilized society and the attitudes on colonialism and racism that were part and parcel of European imperialism. Originally published as a three-part serial story in Blackwood's Magazine, the novella Heart of Darkness has been variously published and translated into many languages. In 1998, the Modern Library ranked Heart of Darkness as the sixty-seventh of the hundred best novels in English of the twentieth century.

Short Summary: Aboard the Nellie anchored in the River Thames near Gravesend, England, Charles Marlow tells his fellow sailors about the events that led to his appointment as captain of a river steamboat for an ivory trading company. He describes his passage on ships to the wilderness to the Company's station, which strikes Marlow as a scene of devastation: disorganized machinery parts here and there, periodic demolition explosions, weakened native black men who have been demoralized, in chains, literally being worked to death, and strolling behind them a white Company man in a uniform carrying a rifle. At this station, Marlow meets the Company's chief accountant who tells him of a Mr. Kurtz and explains that Kurtz is a first-class agent.
