Women Making Art Marsha Meskimmon, 2012-11-12 Women have been making art for centuries yet their work has been seen as secondary or has gone unrecognized altogether Women Making Art asks why this is so and what it would take for us to realize the extent of women's extraordinary contribution to the arts Marsha Meskimmon mobilizes contemporary feminist thinking to reconsider how and why women have made art She examines work by a wide range of women artists from different cultures and historical periods including Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Shirin Neshat and Maya Lin emphasizing the diversity of women's art and the importance of differences between women Vieira Da Silva, 1908-1992 Gisela Rosenthal, 2005 Maria Elena Vieira da Silva 1908 1992 is widely considered the greatest Portuguese artist of the 20th century though she spent most of her life in France and became a French citizen in 1956 Influenced by the work of Paul Cezanne and the Cubists she developed a unique semiabstract style featuring architectural forms and limited use of color

The Afro-Descendant Woman in Latin American Diasporic Visual Art Rosita Scerbo, 2024-07-05 By studying multiple cultural expressions of Blackness throughout different regions of the Americas the chapters of this book consider the relationship that social and historical processes such as sovereignty and colonialism have on cultural productions made by and about Black Latin American women Rosita Scerbo analyzes a range of power dynamics as represented in different artistic media of the Afro Latin x American community including photography muralism performance paintings and digital art The book acknowledges that racial and gender equity cannot exist without Intersectionality and that is why the entirety of the chapters focus on cultural and visual productions exclusively created by Afro descendant women The Black Latin American women featured in the various chapters spanning multiple artistic mediums and originating from various Latin American and Caribbean nations including Mexico Colombia the Dominican Republic Puerto Rico Brazil and Cuba collectively pursue the central aim of foregrounding the Afro descendant woman's experience Simultaneously they strive to enhance the visibility and acknowledgment of gendered Afro diasporic culture within the Latin American context The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history gender studies women's studies Latin American studies African diaspora studies and race and ethnic studies Brain Art Anton Nijholt, 2019-05-25 This is the first book on brain computer interfaces BCI that aims to explain how these BCI interfaces can be used for artistic goals Devices that measure changes in brain activity in various regions of our brain are available and they make it possible to investigate how brain activity is related to experiencing and creating art Brain activity can also be monitored in order to find out about the affective state of a performer or bystander and use this knowledge to create or adapt an interactive multi sensorial audio visual tactile piece of art Making use of the measured affective state is just one of the possible ways to use BCI for artistic expression We can also stimulate brain activity It can be evoked externally by exposing our brain to external events whether they are visual auditory or tactile Knowing about the stimuli and the effect on the brain makes it possible to translate such external stimuli to decisions and commands that help to design implement or adapt an artistic performance or interactive installation Stimulating brain activity can also be done internally Brain activity can be voluntarily manipulated and changes can be translated into computer commands to realize an artistic vision The chapters in this book have been written by researchers in human computer interaction brain computer interaction neuroscience psychology and social sciences often in cooperation with artists using BCI in their work It is the perfect book for those seeking to learn about brain computer interfaces used for artistic applications

Art Books Wolfgang M. Freitag, 1997 Expanded to twice as many entries as the 1985 edition and updated with new publications new editions of previous entries titles missed the first time around more of the artists own writings and monographs that deal with significant aspects or portions of an artist's work though not all of it. The listing is alphabetical by artist and the index by author. The works cited include analytical and critical biographical and enumerative; their formats range from books and catalogues raisonnés to exhibition and auction sale catalogues. A selection of biographical dictionaries containing information on artists is arranged by country. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR.

The civil rights injunction for the protection of fundamental rights Allan R. Brewer Carías, 2023-11-24. This book on The Civil Rights Injunction for the protection of Fundamental Rights: The Latin American Amparo Proceeding is the original version of the text I wrote for the Course of Lectures I gave as Adjunct Professor of Law on a Seminar on Judicial Protection of Fundamental Rights in Latin America: the Amparo Proceeding at the Columbia Law School in New York University of Columbia during the years 2006-2008. The Seminar was intended to examine the most recent trends in the constitutional and legal regulations in all Latin American countries regarding the amparo suit action or recourse including the old habeas corpus writ and the new habeas data actions or recourses. By means of a comparative constitutional law approach also with reference to the United States civil rights injunctions, the Course analyzed this Latin American institution departing from the regulation of the amparo guarantee established in Article 25 of the 1969 American Convention of Human Rights which entered into force in 1978 after being ratified by all Latin American States. The amparo suit or proceeding is not only an effective judicial means for the restoration of the injured constitutional rights that has been harmed similar to the reparative or restorative civil rights injunctions in the United States but it is also the effective judicial means for the protection of such rights and guarantees when threatened to be violated or harmed. This latter amparo suit is then similar to the preventive civil rights injunctions in the United States preventive in the sense of avoiding harm which in this case seeks to prohibit some discrete act or series of acts from occurring in the future and is designed to avoid future harm to a party by prohibiting or mandating certain behavior to another party. From this point of view, thus in a constitutional comparative law approach, the Latin American amparo action or proceeding is a judicial remedy similar to the civil rights injunctions restorative or preventive in the United States. Allan R. Brewer Carías, The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012. This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century. Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries, it offers students, researchers, and the general public a reliable up-to-date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture.

Porto-Novo (Benin), The Prophetic Gospel Anthony Hanson, 2006-08-15. Why is the account of Jesus in the Fourth Gospel so very different from the one we find in the Synoptic Gospels? Professor Hanson believes that at least part of the answer can be found in the considerable dependence of John's narrative on the Old Testament. The first thirteen chapters of this book are devoted to careful examination of the language of the Gospel in this light. Again and again this shows that passages are heavily influenced by the Old Testament mostly from the Septuagint but also sometimes by the targumic tradition This leads to the conclusion that John was writing what might be called a prophetic gospel rather than an historical account of Jesus life He saw many passages in what he regarded as scripture as containing prophecies which must have been fulfilled in the life and teaching of Jesus despite having no historical basis Although this is not to say that John freely invented speeches and episodes as he chose John thus felt justified in departing widely from the early tradition about Jesus Professor Hanson contends that Johannine scholarship has suffered too much from the conviction that scholars must defend the substantially historical nature of the Fourth Gospel The study ends with a consideration of John s christology and of how the Church today should regard the Fourth Gospel     Judicial review in comparative law Allan R. Brewer

Carias,2023-11-24 All over the world in all democratic States independently of having a legal system based on the common law or on the civil law principles the courts special constitutional courts supreme courts or ordinary courts have the power to decide and declare the unconstitutionality of legislation or of other State acts when a particular statute violates the text of the Constitution or of its constitutional principles This power of the courts is the consequence of the consolidation in contemporary constitutionalism of three fundamental principles of law first the existence of a written or unwritten constitution or of a fundamental law conceived as a superior law with clear supremacy over all other statutes second the rigid character of such constitution or fundamental law which implies that the amendments or reforms that may be introduced can only be put into practice by means of a particular and special constituent or legislative process preventing the ordinary legislator from doing so and third the establishment in that same written or unwritten and rigid constitution or fundamental law of the judicial means for guaranteeing its supremacy over all other state acts including legislative acts Accordingly in democratic systems subjected to such principles the courts have the power to refuse to enforce a statute when deemed to be contrary to the Constitution considering it null or void through what is known as the diffuse system of judicial review and in many cases they even have the power to annul the said unconstitutional law through what is known as the concentrated system of judicial review The former is the system created more than two hundred years ago by the Supreme Court of the United States and that so deeply characterizes the North American Constitutional system The latter system has been adopted in constitutional systems in which the judicial power of judicial review has been generally assigned to the Supreme Court or to one special Constitutional Court as is the case for example of many countries in Europe and in Latin America This concentrated system of judicial review although established in many Latin American countries since the 19th century was only effectively developed particularly in the world after World War II following the studies of Hans Kelsen Of course during the past thirty years many changes have occurred in the world on these matters of Judicial Review in particularly in Europe and specifically in the United Kingdom where these Lectures were delivered Nonetheless I have decided to publish them hereto in its integrality as they were the written work of a law professor made as a consequence of his research for the preparation of his lectures not pretending to be anything else but the academic testimony of the state of the subject of judicial review in the world in 1985

Interpretive sociology involves the consideration of not only sense evidence but also of meanings affects and other subjective phenomena Sociologists and social philosophers have attempted to understand social behavior through observable interaction and wellsprings of behavior This book is dedicated to a critical analysis of these approaches from the positivist hermeneutics of Emilio Betti to the non rational ethics of Max Scheler Guided by a general model of social scientific activity developed in the introduction it carefully explores the rich diversity of interpretive positions      Annals of the Artists of Spain Sir William Stirling-Maxwell, 1891

Adopting the Tune of Term: An Psychological Symphony within Da Silva Basic Art

In some sort of eaten by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of immediate communication, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony created by the written term often disappear in to the back ground, eclipsed by the persistent sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, nestled within the pages of Da Silva Basic Art a charming literary prize overflowing with raw emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by a wonderful composer of language, that charming masterpiece conducts readers on an emotional journey, well unraveling the hidden tunes and profound influence resonating within each carefully crafted phrase. Within the depths with this emotional review, we can examine the book is main harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
