Dacca Sharif Uddin Ahmed,2018-01-12 Originally published in 1986 this work discusses the development in Dacca of western style municipal organization and its financial and practical problems and also explores the economic transition of the city after 1840 It is one of the few urban studies which carries through from the old order to the new administrative towns of British rule and attempts to show what happened to the communities of townsmen in the period of adaptation It casts new light on the function and organization of Indian urban societies in the colonial period on the transfer of western institutions and the organization and composition of Bengali trade outside Calcutta

The World of Muslim Women in Colonial Bengal, 1876-1939 S N Amin,1996 This highly interesting book studies the cultural context of modernisation of middle class Muslim women in late 19th and 20th century Bengal Its frames of reference are the Bengal Awakening the Reform Movements Brahmo Hindu and Muslim and the Women s Question as articulated in material and ideological terms throughout the period Tracing the emergence of the modern Muslim gentlewomen the bhadramahila starting in 1876 when Nawab Faizunnesa Chaudhurani published her first book and ending with the foundation in 1939 of The Lady Brabourne College the book gives an excellent analysis of the rise of a Muslim woman s public sphere and broadens our knowledge of Bengali social history in the colonial period

From the Seams of History Bharati Ray,1995 The ten essays which make up the body of this book are drawn from a wide variety of disciplines and weave a complex pattern of the experiences of women in India over the last one hundred years The book departs from traditional historiography which has given inadequate attention to women and in this sense From the Seams of History attempts to rewrite history Beginning with the debate on widow remarriage in Bengal and Haryana the book moves on to examine how the new fashions in clothing of the Bengali gentlewomen in the nineteenth century were tailored according to the values and anxieties of their dominant male counterparts The argument of male domination is taken further in an essay demonstrating that male oppression of women in Indian society was in fact remarkably similar to that of the colonial masters
