Klingman, 2003-11 Jake Daily faces new challenges To get money to save his failing company he is forced to produce a TV sitcom Unfortunately his luck leaves when a young woman is found dead behind his seaside house Her throat cut and strange circles are drawn on the skin Later in New Jersey another murder victim with identical markings It had happened behind his rented cabin One cop arrests him when he saves a female officer s life Trouble explodes when two of his cast members in The Girls from Madison High left The scripts must be rewritten quickly and he must find new actors before he can film the episodes Meanwhile Sarah Darling a famous painter fancies Jake and makes a huge demand on his time He makes an unexpected discovery in the murder case and the FBI tells him to butt out His sitcom begins to make progress and it becomes a success However he gets death threats and neither he nor the cops can find the murder On his last day on the east coast the bloodthirsty Killer armed with his gun traps him and only a miracle can save his life this time The Library Journal ,1993 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Academic American Encyclopedia ,1998 A twenty one volume set of encyclopedias providing an alphabetical listing of information on a variety of topics The Gale Encyclopedia of Cancer Ellen Thackery,2002 Contains entries that provide information about specific cancer types diagnostic procedures treatments side effects and drugs as well as cancer related concepts and issues arranged alphabetically from L to Z Includes definitions of key terms questions to ask the doctor and resources The Education Digest ,1996 Subject Guide to Children's Books in Print 1997 Bowker Editorial Staff,R R Bowker Publishing,1996-09 The Journal of the American Osteopathic Association ,1901 Blood and Irony Sarah E. Gardner,2004-07-21 During the Civil War its devastating aftermath and the decades following many southern white women turned to writing as a way to make sense of their experiences Combining varied historical and literary sources Sarah Gardner argues that women served as guardians of the collective memory of the war and helped define and reshape southern identity Gardner considers such well known authors as Caroline Gordon Ellen Glasgow and Margaret Mitchell and also recovers works by lesser known writers such as Mary Ann Cruse Mary Noailles Murfree and Varina Davis In fiction biographies private papers educational texts historical writings and through the work of the United Daughters of the Confederacy southern white women sought to tell and preserve what they considered to be the truth about the war But this truth varied according to historical circumstance and the course of the conflict Only in the aftermath of defeat did a more unified vision of the southern cause emerge Yet Gardner reveals the existence of a strong community of Confederate women who were conscious of their shared effort to define a new and compelling vision of the southern war experience In demonstrating the influence of this vision Gardner highlights the role of the written word in defining a new cultural identity for the postbellum South Laboratory Animal Science ,1996 Paperbound Books in Print ,1992 Native Providence Patricia E. Rubertone,2020-12 2021 Choice Outstanding Academic Title A city of modest size Providence Rhode Island had the third largest Native American population in the United States by the first decade of the twentieth century Native Providence tells the stories of the city s Native residents at this historical moment and in the decades before and after a time when European Americans claimed that Northeast Natives had mostly vanished Denied their rightful place in modernity men women and children from Narragansett Nipmuc Pequot Wampanoag and other ancestral communities traveled diverse and complicated routes to make their homes in this city They found each other carved out livelihoods and created neighborhoods that became their urban homelands new places of meaningful attachments Accounts of individual lives and family histories emerge from historical and anthropological research in archives government offices historical societies libraries and museums and from community memories geography and landscape Patricia E Rubertone chronicles the survivance of the Native people who stayed left and returned or lived in Providence briefly who faced involuntary displacement by urban renewal and who made their presence known in this city and in the wider Indigenous and settler colonial worlds Their everyday experiences reenvision Providence s past and illuminate documentary and spatial tactics of inequality that erased Native people from most nineteenth and early twentieth century history
