Daily Planet A Critic On The Capitalist Culture Beat:

The Daily Planet Patricia Aufderheide, 2000-01-01 The Daily Planet is a long awaited selection of Patricia Aufderheide's most important critical essays updated and organized thematically to demonstrate the breadth of her thinking on media and film public telecommunications policy and contemporary society The result is a pithy and provocative exploration of the culture of daily life under capitalism Here Aufderheide demonstrates criticism that is both activist and analytical She probes the processes that shape our culture by examining diverse subjects including the struggle to create quality children's television programming the meaning of Paul Harvey the evolution of the war film over the past thirty years and the ways journalism is changed by the Internet and other new technologies Throughout Aufderheide foregrounds democratic values displaying the penetrating insights that have made her a leading public intellectual and commentator on contemporary culture

Globalization and Latin American Cinema Sophia A. McClennen, 2018-05-25 Studying the case of Latin American cinema this book analyzes one of the most public and most exportable forms of postcolonial national culture to argue that millennial era globalization demands entirely new frameworks for thinking about the relationship between politics culture and economic policies Concerns that globalization would bring the downfall of national culture were common in the 1990s as economies across the globe began implementing neoliberal free market policies and abolishing state protections for culture industries Simultaneously new technologies and the increased mobility of people and information caused others to see globalization as an era of heightened connectivity and progressive contact Twenty five years later we are now able to examine the actual impact of globalization on local and regional cultures especially those of postcolonial societies Tracing the full life cycle of films and studying blockbusters like City of God Motorcycle Diaries and Children of Men this book argues that neoliberal globalization has created a highly ambivalent space for cultural expression one willing to market against itself as long as the stories sell The result is an innovative and ground breaking text suited to scholars interested in globalization studies Latin American studies and film studies

From Printing to Streaming Michael Chanan, 2022-10-20 For mainstream economics cultural production raises no special questions creative expression is to be harvested for wealth creation like any other form of labour As Karl Marx saw it however capital is hostile to the arts because it cannot fully control the process of creativity But while he saw the arts as marginal to capital accumulation that was before the birth of the mass media Engaging with the major issues in Marxist theory around art and capitalism From Printing to Streaming traces how the logic of cultural capitalism evolved from the print age to digital times tracking the development of printing photography sound recording newsprint advertising film and broadcasting exploring the peculiarities of each as commodities and their recent transformation by digital technology where everything melts into computer code Showing how these developments have had profound implications for both cultural creation and consumption Chanan offers a radical and comprehensive analysis of the commodification of artistic creation and the struggle to realise its potential in the digital age Latin American Cinema Paul A. Schroeder, 2016-03-08

Media Education for a Digital Generation Julie Frechette, Rob Williams, 2015-10-14 Media education for digital citizenship is predicated upon the ability to access analyze evaluate and produce media content and communication in a variety of forms While many media literacy approaches overemphasize the end goal of accessing digital media content through the acquisition of various technology software apps and analytics this book argues that the goals for comprehensive and critical digital literacy require grasping the means through which communication is created deployed used and shared regardless of which tools or platforms are used for meaning making and social interaction Drawing upon the intersecting matrices of digital literacy and media literacy the volume provides a framework for developing critical digital literacies by exploring the necessary skills and competencies for engaging students as citizens of the digital world

Postfeminist News Mary Douglas Vavrus, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2003 Diamond

Anniversary Book Award presented by the National Communication Association In the media saturated decade of the 1990s news reports shaped public sentiment about women in electoral politics and beyond Mary Douglas Vavrus explores the process of representing political women in media and argues that contemporary news accounts promote a postfeminist politics that encourages women's private consumer lifestyles and middle class aspirations while it discourages public life and political activism The author discusses the Anita Hill Clarence Thomas hearings of 1991 the 1991-92 Year of the Woman in politics the 1996 presidential campaign's use of soccer moms and Hillary Rodham Clinton's campaign for Senate in 2000 Vavrus assesses the logic that emerges in these narratives recurrent themes about gender and explores their significance for women and for feminism ultimately arguing that feminism has been supplanted by postfeminism in news accounts of political women

Collective Wisdom Katerina Cizek, William Uricchio, 2022-11-01 How to co create and why the emergence of media co creation as a concept and as a practice grounded in equity and justice Co creation is everywhere It's how the internet was built it generated massive prehistoric rock carvings it powered the development of vaccines for COVID 19 in record time Co creation offers alternatives to the idea of the solitary author privileged by top down media But co creation is easy to miss as individuals often take credit for and profit from collective forms of authorship erasing whole cultures and narratives as they do so Collective Wisdom offers the first guide to co creation as a concept and as a practice tracing co creation in a media making that ranges from collaborative journalism to human AI partnerships Why co create and why now The many coauthors drawing on a remarkable array of professional and personal experience focus on the radical sustained practices of co creating media within communities and with social movements They explore the urgent need for co creation across disciplines and organization and the latest methods for collaborating with nonhuman systems in biology and technology The idea of collective intelligence is not new and has been applied to such disparate phenomena as decision making by consensus and hived insects Collective wisdom goes further With conceptual explanation and practical examples this book shows that co creation only becomes wise when it is grounded in equity and justice With Coauthors Juanita Anderson Maria Agui Carter Detroit Narrative Agency Thomas Allen Harris Maori Karmael Holmes Richard Lachman Louis Massiah Cara Mertes Sara Rafsky Mich le Stephenson Amelia Winger Bearskin and Sarah Wolozin Documentary Film Festivals Vol. 1 Aida Vallejo, Ezra Winton, 2020-05-28 This book provides the first comprehensive overview of the global landscape of documentary film festivals Contributors from across the globe offer in depth analysis of both internationally renowned and more alternative festivals including Hot Docs Canada Nyon Switzerland Yamagata Japan DocChina Full Frame US Belgrade former Yugoslavia Vikalp India and DocsBarcelona Catalonia Spain among others With a special focus on historical and political developments this first volume draws a map of documentary festivals operating today and then looks at their origins and evolution This volume is organized in three sections the first addresses methodological problems film historians and social scientists face when researching documentary film festivals the second looks at the historical development of this circuit within the wider frame of history of world and national cinemas and the third reflects on how politics find their way through festival programs and actions Curatorial organizational industrial and political changes occurred in the festival realm addressed in this book help better understand how these affected documentary production distribution curation exhibition and reception up to this day

The Rise of Cable Programming in the United States Megan Mullen, 2009-06-23 Winner McGannon Communications Research Award 2004 In 1971 the Sloan Commission on Cable Communications likened the ongoing developments in cable television to the first uses of movable type and the invention of the telephone Cable s proponents in the late 1960s and early 1970s hoped it would eventually remedy all the perceived ills of broadcast television including lowest common denominator programming inability to serve the needs of local audiences and failure to recognize the needs of cultural minorities Yet a quarter century after the blue sky era cable television programming closely resembled and indeed depended upon broadcast television programming Whatever happened to the Sloan Commission s revolution now in sight In this book Megan Mullen examines the first half century of cable television to understand why cable never achieved its promise as a radically different means of communication Using textual analysis and oral archival and regulatory history she chronicles and analyzes cable programming developments in the United States during three critical stages of the medium s history the early community antenna CATV years 1948 1967 the optimistic blue sky years 1968 1975 and the early satellite years 1976 1995 This history clearly reveals how cable s roots as a retransmitter of broadcast signals the regulatory constraints that stymied innovation and the economic success of cable as an outlet for broadcast or broadcast type programs all combined to defeat most utopian visions for cable programming

America's Right Robert B. Horwitz, 2013-07-10 Conservatism has been the most important political doctrine in the United States for nearly four decades It has dominated the intellectual debate and largely set the policy agenda even during years of Democratic electoral control But 21st century conservatism has moved far beyond even the Reagan Revolution of small government lower taxes and a respect for tradition The alliance of libertarians neoconservatives and the Christian right has launched anxious and angry attacks on the purported homosexual agenda the hoax of climate change the rule by experts and elites and the banishment of religion from the public realm In the foreign policy arena it has tried to remake the world through the cleansing fire of violence Contemporary American conservatism practices a politics that is disciplined uncompromising utopian and enraged seeking to take back our country This is anti establishment conservatism whose origin can be traced back to the right wing that battled both the reigning post World War II liberal consensus and the moderate establishment Republican Party This book examines the nature of anti establishment conservatism traces its development from the 1950s to the Tea Party and explains its political ascendance
