Agricultural Transition In Central And Eastern Europe And The Former U S S R:

The Agricultural Transition in Central and Eastern Europe and the Former U.S.S.R. Avishay Braverman, Karen McConnell Brooks, Csaba Csáki, 1993 Central and Eastern European countries and the states of the former USSR have embarked on an exhilarating but difficult political and economic transition Changes in agriculture in Central and Eastern Europe and the former USSR will profoundly affect the individual countries and the region and alter the world agricultural economy in the twenty first century Despite many differences these countries face a core of common issues as they design and implement agrarian reform Most of the papers prepared for the 1990 World Bank National Bank of Hungary conference on the agricultural transition in Central and Eastern Europe and the USSR are presented herein They provide a rich set of references for understanding the problems of agricultural transition in Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union and for evaluating alternative paths open to the governments in the region The unifying theme of this book is the common dilemmas and options of agricultural transformation in countries that differ in size resource endowment level of development extent of market imperfections and political conditions

Structural Change in the Farming Sectors in Central and Eastern Europe Csaba Csáki, Zvi Lerman, 2000-01-01 Farm structures in Central and Eastern Europe CEE today cover a whole spectrum of forms which include small subsistence oriented household plots medium sized commercial family farms and large corporations The agricultural sector in CEE definitely has not embraced the family farm as the dominant farming structure thus confounding the original expectations of Western experts On the other hand agriculture did not collapse because of fragmentation and privatization as predicted by conservative doomsayers To address the concerns of the farming sector in CEE with relation to EU accession a workshop was held in Warsaw Poland in June 1999 This volume represents a selection of papers presented at this workshop It examines the reforms and policy changes necessary in the food and agriculture sectors of the ten countries that have started the accession process for eventual membership in the European Union Bulgaria Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Poland Romania Slovakia and Slovenia The papers are organized around the following three topics Evolving farm structures and competitiveness in agriculture Land laws and legal institutions for development of land markets and farm restructuring and Development of farm services for improved competitiveness This volume will be of interest to agricultural policy makers and government officials in the candidate countries EU officials World Bank and FAO staff development scholars and all others interested in the process of agricultural reform in CEE

Transformation of Agriculture in Central Eastern Europe and the Former USSR Csaba Csáki, 1992 The former USSR could become self sufficient in food but in the medium term will probably remain a net agricultural importer if it can persuade exporters to extend credit But Central Eastern European agricultural exports are likely to expand Central Eastern Europe could become a tougher more aggressive player in agriculture principally in the markets for more demanding food products especially pork poultry and fruits and vegetables

Land Reform in the Former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe Stephen K. Wegren, 2003-10-04 Land reform is a key factor in determining the political economic and social future of the transitional states of the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe This book represents the first major study in this area Utilizing extensive field work unpublished materials statistical data and interviews with land reform officials the contributors explore the key issues The Agrarian Economies of Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States Csaba Csáki, John D. Nash, 1998 Content Description Includes bibliographical references p Farm Sector Restructuring in Belarus Csaba Csáki, Zvi Lerman, Serge? Sotnikov, 2000 Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Belarus is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique features of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank s recommendations more credible and relevant The survey findings in this volume will provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country s government and supply international donors that are active there with essential information to design their strategic programs Central and Eastern European Agriculture in an Expanding European Union Stefan Tangermann, M. Banse, 2000-01-01 The problems caused by the proposed enlargement of the EU to include the associated Central and Eastern European countries CEEC are discussed in this book The two main agricultural issues raised by this are the relative competitiveness of CEEC agricultural policies Agriculture in Transition Zvi Lerman, Csaba Csáki, Gershon Feder, 2004-01-01 In Agriculture in Transition Land Policies and Evolving Farm Structures in Post Soviet Countries authors Zvi Lerman Csaba Csaki and Gershon Feder study the land policies and farming structures of these newly emerging nations as components of institutional change in the rural sector change from a centralized rural economy to a market oriented economy Central and Eastern Europe Handbook Patrick Heenan, Monique Lamontagne, 2014-05-12 The Regional Handbooks of Economic Development series provides accessible overviews of countries within their larger domestic and international contexts focusing on the relations among regions as they meet the challenges of the twenty first century The series allows the non specialist student to explore a wide range of complex factors social and political as well as economic that affect the growth of developing regions in Asia Europe and South America Each Handbook provides an overview chapter discussing the region s economic conditions within an historical and political context as well as 20 or more chapter length essays written by recognized experts which analyze the key issues affecting a region s economy its population natural resources foreign trade labor problems and economic inequalities and other vital factors In addition the volumes offer useful support materials including a series of appendices that include a detailed chronology of events in the region a glossary of terms biographical entries on key personalities an annotated bibliography of further reading and a comprehensive analytical index

Agricultural Policy and Enlargement of the European Union A. Burrell, A. Oskam, 2000-09-01 The European Union could soon have up to ten new members from Central and Eastern Europe Harmonisation of agricultural policies will be one of the most difficult chapters in the accession negotiations The outcome will have an important influence on the adjustment of Central and Eastern European agriculture and the development of these transition economies in a wider EU This raises questions like What are the current and future key issues in EU agricultural policy What guidance is provided by the experience gained in previous enlargements And to what extent are negotiating countries constrained by international commitments within the World Trade Organisation After a comprehensive description and evaluation of current EU agricultural and trade policy the second part of the book looks at developments in Central and Eastern European countries in relation to future EU membership Fifteen well known specialists have contributed their up to date knowledge to this book It is aimed at students and lecturers in agricultural and rural policy and in European integration as well as government officials agribusiness executives and organisations with a strong interest in agricultural policy and the widening of the European Union

Land Reform and Farm Restructuring in Moldova Zvi Lerman, Csaba Csáki, Victor Moroz, 1998-01-01 Agricultural reforms including privatization of land and farm restructuring are an important cornerstone for overall transformation of the economies of the former socialist world This paper summarizes the current status of land reform in Moldova and shows how there has been clear progress in creating a market based agriculture and food sector in Moldova The results of this study indicate that genuine restructuring and transition to full fledged private farming have resulted in improved profitability and higher incomes for private farmers than those achieved by traditional collectives

Agricultural Finance and Credit Infrastructure in Transition Economies Focus on South Eastern Europe - Proceedings of OECD Expert Meeting, Portoroz, Slovenia, May 2001 OECD, 2001-09-24 What has been achieved in rural finance and institutional reform during more than a decade of transition and what challenges remain What are the special needs of South Eastern European countries to attract agricultural credit and finance to

Ukraine--review of Farm Restructuring Experiences Zvi Lerman, Csaba Csáki, 2000-01-01 Restructuring has produced a definite favorable impact on labor relations and workers behavior in the reorganized farms Managers of reorganized farm enterprises give a much more positive assessment of the behavioral patterns of their workers than managers of non reorganized farms Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Ukraine is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique feature of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Farm surveys have been conducted by the World Bank in many countries of the CIS Russia Ukraine Moldova Armenia Georgia Turkmenistan Belarus and Central and Eastern Europe Poland Romania Bulgaria Hungary Albania Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank's recommendation much more credible and relevant The new findings for Ukraine will similarly provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country's government and supply the many international donors active on the local scene with essential information for the design of their strategic programs

Handbook of Agricultural Economics Bruce L. Gardner, Gordon C. Rausser, 2002-12-17 Annotation The subject matter of agricultural economics has both broadened and deepened in recent years and the chapters of this Handbook present the most exciting and innovative work being done today Following Volume 1 Volume 2 consists of three parts Agriculture Natural Resources and the Environment Agriculture in the Macroeconomy and Agriculture and Food Policy Although agricultural economists have always paid attention to these topics research devoted to them has increased substantially in scope as well as depth in recent years

Agriculture in Liberalizing Economies DINA L. UMALI, Charles Maguire, 1995 Discusses ways in which the role of the state in promoting agricultural growth and development may be redefined This report presents the proceedings of the 14th World Bank Agricultural Symposium held in January 1994 The papers explore ways in which the role of the state in promoting agricultural growth and development may be redefined They also capitalize on important lessons emerging from experiences around the world The report suggests that changing the role of government from market domination towards the provision of a regulatory framework that facilitates private sector activity is an ongoing process rather than a one time occurrence The papers also illustrate the wide variety of issues and the different approaches in the various countries that are redefining the role of government in agricultural development

Private Agriculture in Armenia Zvi Lerman, Astghik Mirzakhanian, 2001-01-01 This book details and analyzes an extensive farm survey of Armenian land reform Zvi Lerman and Astghik Mirzakhanian two principal contributors to the design of the study present their invaluable insight into the rapid land reform strategy implemented in Armenia Unique among the former Soviet Republics the entire agricultural sector of this country shifted from collective large scale farm enterprises to individual production in 1992 The authors pay special attention to the commercialization of private farms and their access to supply and marketing channels outside the old state controlled system Family incomes from farming and off farm sources are discussed as well as problems of rural social services and social infrastructure The authors demonstrate how official statistical measures and record keeping practices in Armenia do not adequately account for this dramatic transition
