Agricultural Research in Southern Africa A. T. Spurling, 1992 Strengthening National Agricultural Research Systems Derek Byerlee, Gary E. Alex, 1998-01-01 This report provides a brief review of recent trends and key policies in strengthening national agricultural research systems Chapters provide a brief overview of the recent evolution of national research systems and a synthesis of policy issues and good practices for developing these systems including the involvement of universities and the private sector They also focus on key policy and institutional reforms for strengthening public research institutions including funding research management and client orientation Finally they discuss implications for the World Bank in its ongoing efforts to strengthen national research systems Evolution of Agricultural Services in Sub-Saharan Africa Venkatachalam Venkatesan, Jacob Kampen, 1998-01-01 This paper traces the evolution of World Bank support to agricultural services particularly agricultural extension and research in Sub Saharan Africa It describes the Bank s experience with the implementation of national programs in agricultural extension and research and how these are evolving to face the problems of the future The paper concludes that participation of the beneficiaries in the design and implementation of programs is critical and will ensure the programs convergence towards rural development Seed Systems in Sub-Saharan Africa Venkatachalam Venkatesan, 1994-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 266 Seed production and distribution are important factors in determining the pace of agricultural development For a seed system to be effective it must satisfy the different requirements of each crop Presently A Strategy for the Forest Sector in Sub-Saharan Africa Narendra P. Sharma, 1994 World Bank Technical Paper 251 Presents new strategies for protecting forests in Sub Saharan Africa and underlines the importance of the region s natural resources to its economic development Forest resources in Sub Saharan Africa are disa Development of Rural Financial Markets to Sub-Saharan Africa Sabapathy Thillairajah, 1994 World Bank Environment Paper 6 Here is a holistic approach to analyzing the environmental impact of various power systems Unlike standard impact studies that begin at the project level this method calls for environmental assessments that start at the planning stage of a national framework for energy policymaking The framework would take into account the energy needs of Sri Lanka s total economy It also would make it easier to incorporate environmental goals into power sector decisionmaking at the critical investment stage Sri Lanka s development options for the power sector are reviewed in detail Topics include alternative ways to assess the economic value of a power plant s impact on biodiversity human health and air and water pollution The study also assesses which energy planning options work best and recommends ways in which the Ceylon Electricity Board can improve its environmental policies Structural Aspects of Manufacturing in Sub-Saharan Africa Tyler Biggs, Pradeep Srivastava, 1996-01-01 Urban Management Programme Paper No 20 Reviews the specific actions that municipalities and city governments may take in contributing to urban poverty reduction The paper highlights example of issues options and constraints that urban governments must address in fighting poverty It focuses on municipalities and other city level government entities as a critical institutional level of intervention

Cynthia C. Cook,1994-01-01 Annex 3 Opening speech Raising the Productivity of Women Farmers in Sub-Saharan Africa Katrine Anderson Saito,Hailu Mekonnen,Daphne Spurling,1994 World Bank Discussion Paper 230 Based on four country studies and extensive household surveys this paper documents the breakdown of traditional farming systems in Sub Saharan Africa and its implications for the role of women in agriculture Hard Lessons ,1998-01-01 Education is a basic condition for economic and social development Working in conjunction with the National Primary Education Commission the World Bank supported consultations among teachers parents educational administrators and community leaders to develop a strong foundation for primary education in Nigeria The innovative work documented in this publication illustrates the potential not only for partnership between the users and providers of primary education but also between the World Bank and its clients The Impact of the Uruguay Round on Africa Peter Harrold,1995-01-01 Annotation World Bank Discussion Paper No 311 Examines the effects of the Uruguay Round on the countries of Sub Saharan Africa The findings show that the effects will be minimal overall and may be beneficial to countries which make the necessary domestic reforms for participation in the world market Civil Service Reform in Francophone Africa 'Ladipo Adamolekun,Guy de Lusignan,Armand Atomate,1997-01-01 The world s financial markets are rapidly integrating into a single global marketplace and developing countries are being drawn into this process starting from different points and moving at various speeds Those with adequate institutions and sound policies in place may proceed smoothly along the road toward financial integration and gain the many benefits that integration can bring Most of the developing economies lack many of the necessary prerequisites for such a move a few are so unprepared that integration may do them more harm than good Developing countries may have little choice about whether to follow this path advances in communications and new developments in finance have made the course inevitable but they may still choose the ways in which they proceed choosing the policies that benefit the economy and averting potential shocks This World Bank report looks at the important challenges both sets of countries face in a new age of global capital The book presents new and compelling evidence that while low interest rates in industrial countries provided an initial impetus to the surge in private capital flows during 1989 93 these flows have entered a new phase driven by increased financial integration The report analyzes the causes and effects of integration with a particular emphasis on how developing countries in the nascent stages of integration can learn from the experiences of the more rapidly integrating developing countries The Condition of Young Children in Sub-Saharan Africa Nat J.

Colletta, Jayshree Balachander, Xiaoyan Liang, 1996-01-01 Reviews the World Bank's experience in industrial restructuring in 46 countries during the past 14 years. The study finds that for most completed public enterprise restructuring operations, sustainability of benefits was a large problem mainly because of fragile sector reforms and inadequate governance and management. Those completed for the private sector experienced poor outcomes from inadequate attention to country economic conditions and policy distortions. To overcome such problems, the study recommends that future restructuring operations be designed and implemented to have an impact at the firm level. Case Studies in War-to-peace Transition Nat J. Colletta, Markus Kostner, Ingo Wiederhofer, 1996 World Bank Discussion Paper No 331. With the assistance of Emilio Mondo Taimi Sitari and Tadesse A Woldu. Provides a detailed analysis of the intricate nature of the political, economic and sociocultural issues that arise during the transition from war to peace in Ethiopia, Namibia and Uganda. These countries offer a unique range of conditions and program models as well as a variety of successes and failures from which to learn. A recently released overview, The Transition from War to Peace in Sub-Saharan Africa, Stock no 13581, ISBN 0 8213 3581 2, is based on these country studies and a synthesis of reports of demobilization and reintegration programs in several other countries.

The Reform of Public Expenditures for Agriculture Bonni J. Van Blarcom, Odin Knudsen, John Nash, 1993-01-01. A Governance Approach to Civil Service Reform in Sub-Saharan Africa Mamadou Dia, 1993-01-01. Inefficient civil service administrations are jeopardizing future development in many African countries. The reforms suggested in this paper would make these administrations more accountable, enforce the rule of law and reward bureaucrats solely on their performance. Practical Lessons for Africa from East Asia in Industrial and Trade Policies Peter Harrold, Malathi Jayawickrama, Deepak Bhattasali, 1996 Living Standards Measurement Survey Working Paper No 121. Explores the link between poverty and lack of infrastructure using the 1992-93 Viet Nam Living Standards Survey. The household data indicate that in general access to infrastructure is almost equally bad for the poor and the non-poor, although there are some regional and urban-rural differences. The paper gives particular attention to the potential benefits from an expansion of irrigation infrastructure.

Africa Can Compete!, 1996. All 15 new independent states established in the economic space of the former Soviet Union suffered big declines in output and trade after gaining independence. This study summarizes cross-country experience on the role of trade and payments policies in the linked contraction of output and trade by drawing on eight country case studies: Estonia, the Kyrgyz Republic, Latvia, Lithuania, Moldova, Russia, Ukraine and Uzbekistan. The results of the case studies show that trade reform and reorientation of trade toward the rest of the world have done much to arrest the decline in output usually associated with the transformation from plan to market. Procurement and Disbursement Manual for Projects with Community Participation Gita Gopal, 1995. Draws on the experience of Bulgaria to study the problems encountered in financing government operations in the transition economies. This report describes Bulgaria's experience in addressing external shocks to its economy and large declines in the ratio of tax revenues to GDP The book provides broad coverage of the problems many other governments face in transforming their systems of taxation in the transition to a market economy Chapters discuss taxation and incentives government and households indirect taxation and financing of social expenditures Attention is also drawn to the implementation of a value added tax and to policies on fuel taxes The report facilitates an understanding of the differences between actual and optimal policies as governments seek to establish a framework for resolving their budgetary problems in the transition
