Agriculture And German Reunification:

Agriculture and German Reunification Ulrich Koester, Karen McConnell Brooks, 1997 The Impact of German Unification on the European Community, 1990 The Impact of German Unification on the European Community European Parliament. Directorate General for Research, 1990 Collection of working documents drawn up for European Parliament's Temporary Committee to consider the impact of the process of German unification on the European Community Series of working documents brought out by the Directorate General for Research of the European Parliament to assist the work of the Temporary Committee established on 15 February 1990 in its analysis of the impact of German unification on the European Community in the fields of economic and monetary union agriculture and fisheries industry the social situation environment energy supply external economic relations commercial obligations to Comecon competition structural funds of the European Community and the Community budget Agriculture in Germany Stefan Tangermann, 2000 The History of German Agriculture Agriculture in Germany Production and Structure German Agricultural Policy Issues and Challenges Transformation of Agriculture in East Germany Macroeconomic Framework and Implications for German Agriculture after Reunification Rural Development in German Issues and Policies Social Policies for German Agriculture Institutional Characteristics of German Agriculture The Hierarchy of Agricultural Policies European Union Federal Republic and Federal States The Role of Germany in the Common Agricultural Policy Agriculture and the Environment Research and Technology in German Agriculture The Value added Chain in the German Food German Reunification Joyce E. Bromley, 2017-04-07 In 1945 German families with more than 100 hectares 247 acres of land were forced from their homes in the eastern sector by the Soviets now in control of that area These families were brutally evicted from their property and had their land expropriated In the next 45 years the GDR government would come to control all of the agricultural land At reunification in 1990 the earlier abuse of these farmers was compounded when the German government would not restore any of this expropriated land to these families The German government falsely accused the Soviet Union of insisting on non restitution as a condition of reunification Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev unequivocally denies this claim and insists that land issues are a German problem to resolve The temporary land trust agency established by the German government in 1990 to dispose of land it inherited from the GDR continues to exist After 25 years this agency still holds almost 20 percent of this expropriated land Its agents most of whom were reared in GDR decide who may or may not lease land the conditions of the lease and if and when a farmer may buy land circumstances that remain deeply controversial Joyce Bromley draws on extensive field research and previously untapped sources to explore the reliability of the government's version of these important events Is the German government once again without shame discriminating against a group of its own citizens The Economics of German Unification A. Ghanie Ghaussy, Wolf Schäfer, 1993-02-25 This timely examination of the major issues in German unification emphasises its impact on different sectors of the economy and their likely consequences

German Unification and the Union of Europe Jeffrey J. Anderson, 1999-06-10 This book explores the effects of Germany's unification in 1990 on its policies toward the European Union Agricultural Outlook, 1990 German Reunification Jonathan Osmond, Rachel Alsop, 1992 Comprises essays on economic social and political aspects of reunification and an alphabetical guide to the people and organizations which played a notable part in reunification Includes the texts of treaties between the Federal Republic of Germany and the German Democratic Republic German Unification in the European Context Peter H. Merkl, 2010-11-01 Environmental Performance of Agriculture in OECD Countries Since 1990 OECD, 2008-06-16 Comprehensive up to date and internationally comparable data on the environmental performance of agriculture in OECD countries Economic Aspects of German Unification Paul J.J. Welfens, 2013-11-27 German unification is changing central Europe the EC and international economic and political relations Prosperous West Germany with its social market economy has absorbed the socialist GDR which is facing a complex systemic transformation process This volume analyzes the causes developments and processes that are associated with German unification The merger of the two Germanies provides a unique laboratory like example of institutional and economic changes against which established economic theories and economic policy concepts can be tested German unification raises of course many new questions for Germany itself Europe and the whole international community Will the enlarged Germany become a new economic giant in Europe and can the FRG maintain stability and prosperity What macroeconomic and structural problems are faced by the new Germany and what are the effects for trade investment and growth in Germany's partner countries Will East Germany catch up with the West and can this process serve as a model for Eastern Europe What are the views of Poland and the USSR and what implications arise for Western Europe and the United States Finally how is the triangular relationship between the U S the EC and Japan affected and how does this affect the United States ability to organize economic cooperation with Japan Germany and other leading economies Agricultural Finance and Credit Infrastructure in Transition Economies Focus on South Eastern Europe - Proceedings of OECD Expert Meeting, Portoroz, Slovenia, May 2001 OECD, 2001-09-24 What has been achieved in rural finance and institutional reform during more than a decade of transition and what challenges remain What are the special needs of South Eastern European countries to attract agricultural credit and finance to Farm Sector Restructuring in Belarus Csaba Csáki, Zvi Lerman, Serge? Sotnikov, 2000 Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Belarus is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique features of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank's recommendations more credible and relevant. The survey findings in this volume will provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country's government and supply international donors that are active there with essential information to design their strategic programs. World Agriculture, 1991. Changing European farming systems for a better future Hans Langeveld, Niels Röling, 2023-08-28. Changes in market organisation, climatic conditions and societal demands on food quality, animal welfare and environmental quality have created new conditions for farming families as well as for researchers and policy makers. New social, technical and economic solutions are needed for farming and rural areas. This book presents new perspectives for farms, farm products and rural areas, many of which were collectively developed by coalitions of farmers, farmer representatives, researchers, civilians and/or policy makers. Contributions are made from those involved in crop and animal production worldwide, offering sections on natural resources management, development of sustainable rural systems, future perspectives for farming families, knowledge systems in transition and learning processes in multi-stakeholder processes. This unique collection of contributions, presenting insights from bio-physical as well as social sciences, shows where practice meets analysis and reflection and offers new perspectives for rural areas throughout the world. German Agriculture in Transition G. Wilson, 2001-05-21. A much needed contemporary analysis of the Common Agricultural Policy and Germany's role within it. The authors investigate the effect of reunification on German policy today and ask whether she has acted as leader, partner or obstructor in the formation of policy. Their analysis includes social and environmental aspects as well as the economic and political, with a special focus on the green agenda in European agriculture. German Unification and the International Economy Bernhard Heitger, Leonard Waverman, 2005-06-23. First published in 1993. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company. The Franco-German Relationship in the EU Douglas Webber, 2005-08-30. This text examines the Franco-German relationship in the EU in relation to different policy sectors. It assesses the nature and importance of the relationship for the policy process. EC Agricultural Law John A. Usher, 2001. Agricultural goods formed the first single market in the EC and agricultural legislation forms the background to much of the European Court's case law on the relationship between EC law and national law and it is also within this context that the Court has developed and is developing many of the general principles of EC law.
