Air Power For Patton's Army: The XIX Tactical Air Command In The Second World War [Illustrated Edition] David N. Spires, 2014-08-15 Illustrated with 3 charts 28 maps and 88 photos This insightful work by David N Spires holds many lessons in tactical air ground operations Despite peacetime rivalries in the drafting of service doctrine in World War II the immense pressures of wartime drove army and air commanders to cooperate in the effective prosecution of battlefield operations In northwest Europe during the war the combination of the U S Third Army commanded by Lt Gen George S Patton and the XIX Tactical Air Command led by Brig Gen Otto P Weyland proved to be the most effective allied air ground team of World War II The great success of Patton s drive across France ultimately crossing the Rhine and then racing across southern Germany owed a great deal to Weyland s airmen of the XIX Tactical Air Command This deft cooperation paved the way for allied victory in Western Europe and today remains a classic example of air ground effectiveness It forever highlighted the importance of air ground commanders working closely together on the battlefield

Air Power for Pattons Army David N. Spires, 2002-06 A case study of one air ground team s experience with the theory practice of tactical air power employed during WW2 campaigns against Germany By the fall of 1944 the Allies had 5 fighter bomber tactical air commands TAC supporting field armies in NW Europe Of these the U S 3rd Army commanded by Lt Gen George Patton the XIX TAC led by Brig Gen Otto Weyland were perhaps the most spectacular air ground team of the war on the Allied side The great success of Patton s drive across France South Germany owed a great deal to Weyland s airmen This cooperation paved the way for allied victory in Western Europe today remains a classic example of air ground effective Maps photos drawings

XIX Tactical Air Command And Ultra - Patton's Force Enhancers In The 1944 Campaign In France Major Bradford J. "BJ" Shwedo USAF, 2015-11-06 Gen George S Patton Jr remains one of the most storied commanders of World War II Patton s spectacularly successful drive across France in August September 1944 as commander of the US Third Army was perhaps his greatest campaign Drawing heavily on declassified ULTRA intelligence reports the records of XIX Tactical Air Command and postwar interrogations of German commanders Maj Bradford J Shwedo s XIX Tactical Air Command and ULTRA Patton s Force Enhancers in the 1944 Campaign in France sheds new light on Patton s generalship and suggests that Patton s penchant for risk and audacity may have been less the product of a sixth sense than of his confidence in ULTRA and tactical airpower Timely and highly accurate ULTRA intelligence afforded Patton knowledge of

German capabilities and enabled him to shape his operations to exploit mounting German weakness Airpower provided top cover punched through German concentrations guarded Patton's right flank and furnished crucial airlift support while disrupting enemy lines of communication Whatever Patton's personal intuitive gifts he deserves full marks for skillfully integrating the ground scheme of maneuver airpower and intelligence into the overall strategy of the Third Army and XIX TAC from Normandy to within 50 miles of the German border in less than 45 days General Patton's masterful employment of armor airpower and intelligence in a campaign fought more than 50 years ago is a textbook example of the sophisticated fusion of airpower ground power and information in the planning and execution of a fast moving military operation It is also a case study in flexibility innovation and boldness at the operational level of war For all those reasons Patton's campaign in France merits the attention of latter day air and ground warriors who must meet the security challenges of the twenty first century

Air Power for Patton's Army David N. Spires, 2015-07-29 Air Power for Patton's Army is a case study of one air ground team's experience with the theory and practice of tactical air power employed during the climactic World War II campaigns against the forces of Nazi Germany By the summer of 1944 the Allies had four fighter bomber tactical air commands supporting designated field armies in northwest Europe and in the fall they added a fifth making four American and one British Of these the U S Third Army commanded by Lt Gen George S Patton and the XIX Tactical Air Command TAC led by Brig Gen Otto P Weyland deserve special attention as perhaps the most spectacular air ground team of the Second World War on the Allied side From the time Third Army became operational on August 1 1944 until the guns fell silent on May 8 1945 Patton's troops covered more ground took more enemy prisoners and suffered more casualties than any other Allied army in northwest Europe General Weyland's XIX TAC was there every step of the way in the high summer blitzkrieg across France to the Siegfried Line in the battle of attrition and positional warfare in Lorraine reminiscent of World War One's western front in the emergency drive to rescue American troops trapped at Bastogne and help clear the Ardennes of Germans in the Battle of the Bulge and finally in crossing the Rhine and charging across southern Germany to the Czech and Austrian borders There Third Army forces linked up with Soviet military units converging on the fabled German Redoubt area from the east

Air Power in Three Wars [WWII, Korea, Vietnam] William W. Momyer, 1978 Patton Versus the Panzers Steven Zaloga, 2023-11-30 In September 1944 Hitler ordered an attack on Gen George Patton's Third Army which was deep inside France making for the Rhine and threatening the German industrial heartland beyond The ensuing battle near Arracourt the U S Army's largest tank versus tank clash until the Bulge went badly for the Germans who committed their armor piecemeal and whose offensive was shattered in a series of intense close range tank duels with the Americans Armor expert Steven Zaloga deftly reconstructs the battle and shows how American Sherman tanks bested superior German Panthers

Air power in three wars, The Ardennes, 1944-1945 Christer Bergström, 2014-12-19 A comprehensive photo filled account of the six week long Battle of the Bulge when panzers slipped through the forest and took the Allies by surprise In December 1944 just as World War II appeared to be winding down Hitler shocked the world with a powerful German counteroffensive that cracked the center of the American front The attack came through the Ardennes the hilly and forested area in eastern Belgium and Luxembourg that the Allies had considered a quiet sector Instead for the second time in the war the Germans used it as a stealthy avenue of approach for their panzers Much of US First Army was overrun and thousands of prisoners were taken as the Germans forged a fifty mile bulge into the Allied front But in one small town Bastogne American paratroopers together with remnants of tank units offered dogged resistance Meanwhile the rest of Eisenhower s broad front strategy came to a halt as Patton from the south and Hodges from the north converged on the enemy incursion Yet it would take an epic six week long winter battle the bloodiest in the history of the US Army before the Germans were finally pushed back Christer Bergstr m has interviewed veterans gone through huge amounts of archive material and performed on the spot research in the area The result is a large amount of previously unpublished material and new findings including reevaluations of tank and personnel casualties and the most accurate picture yet of what really transpired from the perspectives of both sides With nearly four hundred photos numerous maps and thirty two superb color profiles of combat vehicles and aircraft it provides perhaps the most comprehensive look at the battle yet published

Professional Journal of the United States Army ,2016-05 Airpower and the Normandy Campaign Michael Bechthold,2025-09-16 This essential work reframes the conversation about airpower in Normandy and offers a deeper understanding of its role in the Allied victory With fresh viewpoints for both scholars and practitioners of military history comprehensive research and expert analysis inspire further debate and exploration on the enduring legacy of airpower in modern warfare During the spring and summer of 1944 air superiority was essential for the success of Operation Overlord Allied air forces provided pivotal support across multiple domains from the elimination of the Luftwaffe and the protection of the invasion fleet to the tactical air support that facilitated ground operations Yet despite its undeniable significance the role of airpower has often been overshadowed by the more conventional ground battles The nuanced scholarship in this collection delves into complexities of air operations in Normandy through both traditional military histories and emerging perspectives Covering the roles of the Royal Air Force the U S Army Air Forces and the Luftwaffe and with an international scope that incorporates British American Canadian Australian French and German viewpoints a core theme throughout is the integrated nature of Allied air ground and naval forces during the campaign Using a joint or purple perspective the contributors highlight the interservice collaborations and the tensions that arose between them pointing out the operational dynamics essential to the overall success of the invasion Several case studies critically assess the successes and failures of airpower during the landings and the subsequent fighting and offer in depth analyses of specific air operations such as the bombing raids in the early days of the invasion the attack on Cherbourg and the effectiveness of U S heavy bombers in Operation Cobra The impact of airpower on French civilians particularly from bombing campaigns is another key theme underscoring the complex consequences of wartime aerial bombardment Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942-1946 T. Dennis Reece, 2005-04-28 Bomb disposal was the most technically demanding and dangerous job outside of combat during World War II Fewer than five thousand men did it in the American armed forces During the war their activities were shrouded in secrecy so that the Axis would not know what techniques the Allies were using When they came home the citizen soldiers and officers who had done the work preferred anonymity to publicity Furthermore the units they had served in often squads of six enlisted men and one officer had been too small and independent to attract much notice by American chroniclers official or unofficial of the biggest armed conflict in history Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942 1946 attempts to bring some long overdue public attention to this small group of neglected heroes It chronicles two of their two most significant achievements during the World War II era the contributions of the thirty three bomb disposal squads of the Ninth Air Force and the top secret intelligence mission code named Operation Hidden Documents In 1944 the Ninth Air Force was the most powerful tactical air force the world had ever seen In the European Theater of Operations ETO it controlled more bomb disposal personnel than any other high command Part I of Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942 1946 mainly describes training at the Bomb Disposal School at Aberdeen Proving Ground Maryland and the support thirty three bomb disposal squads gave the Ninth Air Force Interwoven in the narrative covering events after D Day is the wider context in which those squads and all of the Ninth Air Force operated namely air and ground forces pioneering a large scale close partnership which defeated the Germans in northwest Europe Also discussed is how Ninth Air Force bomb disposal squads helped handle the problem after V E Day of up to two million tons of surplus explosive ordnance in the theater Most of the sources for Part I on bomb disposal operations are unpublished unit histories Ninth and Eighth Air Force ordnance reports theater level reports and related documents at either the National Archives at College Park Maryland NACP or the Air Force Historical Research Agency AFHRA at Maxwell Air Force Base Alabama Part I is organized around but definitely not limited to the World War II experiences of Capt Thomas R Reece Now deceased and the authors father he was one of the four highest ranking bomb disposal officers in the Ninth Air Force Some of his official and personal papers are utilized Background material on the course of the war in the ETO is taken mainly from published official histories and for the Ninth Air Force also from unpublished documents at AFHRA One of the passages in Part I describes how two men in the 80th Bomb Disposal Squad Sgt Russell F McCarthy and T 5 Walter V Smith in 1945 won the Soldiers Medal Americas highest military award for bravery in action not against the enemy They were not the only bomb disposal personnel to win that award during the World War II era Part II revolves around Capt Stephen M Richards who was commanding officer of the 123rd Bomb Disposal Squad attached during the war to General Pattons Third Army Captain Richards and two combat engineers won the award for disarming a cache of booby trapped documents outside Stechovice Czechoslovakia in February 1946 as part of Operation Hidden Documents The trio was apprehended by Czechoslovak authorities while the other mission members took the documents to Germany and was only released after the documents were returned Meanwhile a diplomatic crisis was ignited as Czechoslovakia officially protested the American infringement of its sovereignty Moreover the Czechoslovak Communist Party used the controversy for propaganda purposes shortly before the national elections of May 1946 Shortly before the trio was released the operation received fairly extensive publicity in

From Victory to Stalemate Charles J. Dick, 2016-11-07 By the summer of 1944 the war in Europe had reached a critical point Both the western Allies and the Soviets possessed the initiative and forces capable of mounting strategic offensives against the German enemy Writing a study of operations on first the Western then Eastern Front respected military analyst C J Dick offers rare insight into the strengths and weaknesses of generalship on both fronts especially the judgments choices and compromises made by senior commanders At the same time he clarifies the constraints imposed upon leadership and upon operations by doctrinal shortcomings by logistics and not least by the nature of coalition war From Victory to Stalemate focuses on the Western Front specifically American British and Canadian operations in France and the Low Countries Dick s lens throughout is operational art which links individual tactical battles to broader strategic aims Beginning with the D Day landings in Normandy and the strengths and weaknesses of the armies including their military doctrines Dick goes on to analyze the offensives launched in the high summer of 1944 He considers the strategic factors and plans that provide the context for his main concern the Allied commanders handling of army army group and theatre offensive operations Dick s analysis shows us an Allied command limited by thinking that is firmly rooted in the experience of small wars and the World War I The resulting incremental approach was further complicated by a divergence in the ideas and interests of the Allied forces The man responsible for pulling it all together Dwight D Eisenhower proved remarkably capable in his role as statesman he was to be less effective as a military technician who could govern such difficult subordinates as Bradley and Montgomery As a result the Allied offensive faltered and became a war of attrition in contrast to the Soviet effort on the Eastern Front

Meilinger, 2000 Air Power History, 2003 Parameters, 1998 Patton J. Furman Daniel, 2020-04-03 General George S Patton Jr is one of the most successful yet misunderstood figures in American military history Despite the many books and articles written about him none considers in depth how his love of history shaped the course of his life In this thematic biography Furman Daniel traces Patton s obsession with history and argues that it informed and contributed to many of his successes both on and off the battlefield Patton deliberately cultivated the image of himself as a warrior from ages past the more interesting truth is that he was an exceptionally dedicated student of history He was a hard worker and voracious reader who gave a great deal of thought to how military history might inform his endeavors Most scholars have overlooked this element of Patton s character which Daniel argues is essential to understanding the man s genius
