Air War Over Korea:

The Naval Air War in Korea Richard Hallion, 2011-03-25 In The Naval Air War in Korea Dr Hallion has captured the feeling and fancy of a very important conflict in aviation history including the highly significant facets of the transition from piston to jet propelled combat aircraft Norman Polmar author of Naval Institute Guide to the Ships and Aircraft of the U S Fleet 18th Edition Coalition Air Warfare in the Korean War, 1950-1953 Air Force Historical Foundation. Symposium, 2005

In commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Korean War the official history offices of the U S Army Navy Marine Corps and Air Force and their respective historical associations collaborated to sponsor as comprehensive a symposium as possible including as participants some of the coalition partners who contributed forces and weapons to the war The intent of this symposium titled Coalition Air Warfare during the Korean War 1950-1953 was to focus not only on the contributions made by the armed forces of the United States but also on those of America's allies The diverse group of panelists and speakers included not only scholars with subject matter expertise but also veteran soldiers sailors and airmen who had served in that conflict It was hoped that the melding of these diverse perspectives would provide interesting if sometimes conflicting views about the Korean War The symposium organizers designated an agenda of six specific panels for investigation including Planning and Operations Air Superiority Air Support of Ground Forces Air Interdiction and Bombardment Air Reconnaissance and Intelligence and Logistical Support of Air Operations Each session began with commentary by the panel chairman which was followed by formal papers and in some instances included a lively question and answer session The papers and most of the proceedings found their way into print and are recorded here in an effort to permanently capture the activities challenges contributions and heroics of the coalition air forces and the airmen who fought during the Korean conflict Air War Over Korea Robert Jackson, 1973 Luftkrieg i Korea Red Wings Over the Yalu

Xiaoming Zhang, 2002 The Korean conflict was a pivotal event in China's modern military history The fighting in Korea constituted an important experience for the newly formed People's Liberation Army Air Force PLAAF not only as a test case for this fledgling service but also in the later development of Chinese air power Xiaoming Zhang fills the gaps in the history of this conflict by basing his research in recently declassified Chinese and Russian archival materials He also relies on interviews with Chinese participants in the air war over Korea Zhang's findings challenge conventional wisdom as he compares kill ratios and performance by all sides involved in the war Zhang also addresses the broader issues of the Korean War such as how air power affected Beijing's decision to intervene He touches on ground operations and truce negotiations during the conflict Chinese leaders placed great emphasis on the supremacy of human will over modern weaponry but they were far from oblivious to the advantages of the latter and to China's technological limitations Developments in China's own air power were critical during this era Zhang offers considerable materials on the training of Chinese aviators and the Soviet role in that training on Soviet and Chinese air operations in Korea and on diplomatic exchanges over Soviet military assistance to China He probes the impact of the war on China's conception of the role of air power arguing that it was not until the Gulf War of the early 1990s that Chinese leaders engaged in a broad reassessment of the strategy they adopted during the Korean War Military historians and scholars interested in aviation and foreign affairs will find this volume of special interest As a unique work that presents the Chinese point of view it stands as both a complement and a corrective to previous accounts of the conflict Xiaoming Zhang earned his Ph D in history at the University of Iowa in 1994 He has had works published in various journals including the Journal of Military History which has twice selected him to receive the Moncado Prize for excellence in the writing of military history Zhang currently resides in Montgomery Alabama where he teaches at the Air War College Zhang's study is masterful in placing the Chinese air war in Korea in the context of China's development in the twentieth century In addition to providing important new evidence on China's role in the Korean War Zhang offers a particularly noteworthy analysis of Sino Soviet relations during the early 1950s William Stueck Distinguished Research Professor of History University of Georgia author of The Korean War An International History 1995 and Rethinking the Korean War A New Diplomatic and Strategic History 2002     Gradual failure : the air war over North Vietnam 1965-1966 Jacob Van Staaveren, 2002 Of the many facets of the American war in Southeast Asia debated by U S authorities in Washington by the military services and the public none has proved more controversial than the air war against North Vietnam The air war's inauguration with the nickname Rolling Thunder followed an eleven year American effort to induce communist North Vietnam to sign a peace treaty without openly attacking its territory Thus Rolling Thunder was a new military program in what had been a relatively low key attempt by the United States to win the war within South Vietnam against insurgent communist Viet Cong forces aided and abetted by the north The present volume covers the first phase of the Rolling Thunder campaign from March 1965 to late 1966 It begins with a description of the planning and execution of two initial limited air strikes nicknamed Flaming Dart I and II The Flaming Dart strikes were carried out against North Vietnam in February 1965 as the precursors to a regular albeit limited Rolling Thunder air program launched the following month Before proceeding with an account of Rolling Thunder its roots are traced in the events that compelled the United States to adopt an anti communist containment policy in Southeast Asia after the defeat of French forces by the communist Vietnamese in May 1954     Korean Air War Michael Napier, 2021-03-30 From acclaimed aviation historian Michael Napier this is a highly illustrated survey of the air war over Korea The Korean War holds a unique place in aviation history It saw the first large scale jet versus jet combat and it was the first military action of the Cold War fought by both the newly independent United States Air Force and the recently formed Chinese People's Liberation Army Air Force In a meticulously researched volume former RAF Tornado pilot Michael Napier unravels the complex narrative of events describing the course of operations in the air and the major campaigns of the land war He examines in detail the air power of the major combatants which included North and South Korea the UK Australia Canada and South Africa as well as China the USA and the USSR

Packed with stunning contemporary images and including first hand combat reports Korean Air War is a groundbreaking exploration of a much forgotten conflict which nevertheless provided lessons about the organization and prosecution of modern aerial warfare that remain relevant through to the present day      The Korean War Keith D. Quarterly J-20 Mighty Dragon Abraham Abrams, 2024-12-31 The J 20 fifth generation stealth fighter program has epitomised China s rise from a laggard in combat aviation into a potential world leader J 20 Mighty Dragon Asia s First Stealth Fighter in the Era of China s Military Rise details the J 20 s technologies capabilities production timeline design priorities roles evolution and the formations and locations where it has been deployed the ways other countries have responded to it and how the last 30 years of China s industrial and technology sector s modernisation positioned the country to produce what may well now be the world s top air superiority fighter The J 20 program is the most high profile indicator of a turning point in the balance of power between China and the United States and has produced by far the most capable fighter that America or its allies could face in a potential conflict. An assessment of the history of Chinese air superiority capabilities and how the Korean War in particular has influenced the country to place a very strong emphasis on the need to field a leading fighter for air to air combat thus provides an important deeper understanding of the program. Important context to understanding the J 20's significance and its current global standing is provided by brief assessments of the positions of the Russian and American fighter industries. The parallel development of supporting assets from aerial tankers to electronic warfare planes is also explored for a better understanding of the much transformed Chinese fleet which J 20s are being inducted into. The program is also shown to have had a particularly significant influence in the United States ranging from placing discourse on the F 35's modernisation and on sixth generation fighter development in an entirely new context to stimulating the formation of new counter stealth aggressor training units, development of new air to air missiles and the acquisition of E 7 flying radar aircraft among many other responses to the new challenge. J 20: Mighty Dragon Asia's First Stealth Fighter in the Era of China's Military Rise is the first volume in the new Technology War series and is extensively illustrated with colour photographs throughout and specially commissioned colour artworks.

China's Use of Military Force in Foreign Affairs Markus B. Liegl, 2017-03-16. This book explains why China has resorted to the use of large scale military force in foreign affairs. How will China use its growing military might in coming crisis and existing conflicts? This book contributes to the current debate on the future of the Asia Pacific region by examining why China has resorted to using military force in the past. Utilizing fresh theoretical insights on the causes of interstate war and employing a sophisticated methodological framework, the book provides detailed analyses of China's intervention in the Korean War, the Sino Indian War, China's border clashes with the Soviet Union and the Sino Vietnamese War. It argues that China did not employ military force in these wars for the sake of national security or because of material issues under contestation as frequently claimed. Rather, the book's findings strongly suggest that considerations about China's international status and relative standing are the principal reasons for China's decision to engage in military force in these instances. When reflecting the study's central insight back onto China's contemporary territorial conflicts and problematic bilateral relationships, it is argued that the People's Republic is still a status seeking and thus highly status sensitive actor. As a result, China's status ambitions should be very carefully observed and well taken into account when interacting with the PRC. This book will be of much interest to students of Chinese foreign policy, Asian politics, military and strategic studies and IR in general.
