E. M. Arnold,Yvonne Byron,1996-01-01      ,      Tropical Forests of the Guiana Shield D. S. Hammond,2005 The Guiana Shield is an ancient geological formation located in the northern part of South America covering an area of one million square kilometres Despite its hostile environment it is home to many unusual and highly specialized plants and animals which constitute a rich area of biodiversity Chapters in this book include hydrology nutrient cycling forest phenology insect plant interactions forest microclimate plant distributions forest dynamics and conservation and management of flora and fauna It provides a comprehensive and detailed review of the ecology biology and natural history of the forests of the area      Access, Labor, and Wild Floral Greens Management in Western Washington's Forests ,      Encyclopedia of Ecology and Environmental Management ,2009-07-15 The Encyclopedia of Ecology and Environmental Management addresses the core definitions and issues in pure and applied ecology It is neither a short entry dictionary nor a long entry encyclopedia but lies somewhere in between The mixture of short entry definitions and long entry essays gives a comprehensive and up to date alphabetical guide to over 3000 topics and allows any subject to be accessed to varying levels of detail while the longer entries provide general reviews of subjects the short definitions provide specific details on more specialised areas An important feature of the Encyclopedia which sets it apart from other similar works is the comprehensive cross referencing The most comprehensive and up to date reference work in pure and applied ecology Definitions cover the entire spectrum of pure and applied ecological research Distinguished editorial board Dr Peter Moore Professor John Grace Professor Bryan Shorrocks Professor Steven Stearns Professor Don Falk International team of distinguished authors over 200 contributors from 20 countries 3000 headwords defined Over 250 long entries review major topics Heavily illustrated with a section of colour plates Complete one volume guide to pure and applied ecology Presents cutting edge definitions in emerging fields as well as grounding in well established areas of ecology      Use and Potential of Wild Plants in Farm Households Vernon Hilton Heywood,1999-01-01 This book is designed to raise awareness of the use of wild plants in farming systems around the world It describes the contribution of wild plants as a source of food fuel wood shelter medicines and dyes and their role in income generation for the improved welfare of farm households and local people Wild plants are also of paramount importance as sources of wild germplasm that might enhance the productivity disease resistance winter hardiness drought survival of cultured species This publication analyses the potential of wild species as well as the natural social economic legal and institutional factors that constrain their use and development potential      Anthropologica ,2005      Local Science Vs. Global Science Paul Sillitoe,2009 Technological capability has led through Euro American global domination to the muting of other cultural views and values even threatening their continued existence There is a growing realization that the diversity of knowledge systems demand respect some refer to them in a conservation idiom as alternative knowledge banks The scientific perspective is only one We now have many examples of the soundness of local science and practices some previously considered primitive and in need of change However this book goes beyond demonstrating the soundness of local science and arguing for the incorporation of others knowledge in development to maintain that we need to look quizzically at the foundations of science itself and further challenge its hegemony not only over local communities in Africa Asia the Pacific and elsewhere but also the global community Publisher      Wapishana Ethnoecology Thomas Henfrey, 2018-05-25 This landmark monograph in ethnoecology is now available in print format for the first time Based on long term fieldwork in Guyana during 1998 1999 and 2000 it examines relationships between the ecological knowledge of Wapishana hunters and equivalent areas of ecological science It places this in the ethnographic context of Wapishana settlement subsistence and symbolism and the wider context of the political ecology of Guyanas economic liberalisation and the consequent exposure of the indigenous peoples of Guyanas Rupununi region to extractive industries and international conservation interests for the first time The result is a robust argument grounded in extensive data and analysis for alternative trajectories in conservation and international development rooted in the skills knowledge and interests of indigenous users and custodians of biodiversity      Time and Complexity in Historical Ecology William L. Balée, Clark L. Erickson, 2006 An important contribution to the emerging field of historical ecology this volume illuminates the ways in which the landscape reflects human history and culture The book combines cutting edge research with new perspectives on the effects of human societies on the neotropical lowlands of South and Central America      National Parks and Rural Development Gary E. Machlis, Donald Field, 2000-09 Protecting land in parks is often seen as coming at the expense of rural economic development Yet recent events such as the contentious debate over the development of Canyon Forest Village on the south rim of the Grand Canyon suggest just the opposite healthy natural systems can be enormously valuable to rural economies National Parks and Rural Development offers a thorough examination of the interdependent roles of national parks and the economies of rural communities in the United States Bringing together the thinking and views of economists historians sociologists recreation researchers and park managers the book considers how those roles can be most effectively managed as it offers a wide ranging review of history and important concepts in rural development and parks management five case studies of rural development near national parks that identify lessons learned principles applied mistakes committed and advances made personal essays from leaders in the parks management field For each section the editors offer introductory discussions that provide context and highlight key points The editors also provide a detailed conclusion which summarizes policy implications and presents specific recommendations for improving rural development and park management policies Case studies include Cape Cod National Seashore Alaskan parks and wilderness areas Yellowstone National Park the Grand Canyon and three parks in the Pacific Northwest Mt Rainier

Olympic and North Cascades National Parks and Rural Development is a unique synthesis and guide to solving conflicts between the needs of human communities and nature near federal lands. It will be an important work for agency personnel, nongovernmental organizations, and students and scholars of rural economic development, public policy, environmental economics, and related fields. General Technical Report PNW-GTR ,1996      Agroforestry for Degraded

Landscapes Jagdish Chander Dagar, Sharda Rani Gupta, Demel Teketay, 2020-10-05 This book presents various aspects of agroforestry research and development as well as the latest trends in degraded landscape management. Over the last four decades, agroforestry research, particularly on degraded landscapes, has evolved into an essential problem-solving science, e.g., in terms of sustaining agricultural productivity, improving soil health, and biodiversity, enhancing ecosystem services, supporting carbon sequestration, and mitigating climate change. This book examines temperate and tropical agroforestry systems around the world, focusing on traditional and modern practices and technologies used to rehabilitate degraded lands. It covers the latest research, advances, trends, and challenges in the utilization and reclamation of degraded lands, e.g., urban and peri-urban agroforestry, reclamation of degraded landscapes, tree-based multi-enterprise agriculture, domestication of high-value halophytes, afforestation of coastal areas, preserving mangroves, and much more. Given its scope, the book offers a valuable asset for a broad range of stakeholders, including farmers, scientists, researchers, educators, students, development extension agents, environmentalists, policy decision makers, and government and non-government organizations. People

Managing Forests Carol J.P. Colfer, Yvonne Byron, 2010-09-30 How do we extend the conservation ethic to include the cultural links between local populations and their physical environments? Can considerations of human capital be incorporated into the definition and measurement of sustainability in managed forests? Can forests be managed in a manner that fulfills traditional goals for ecological integrity while also addressing the well-being of its human residents? In this groundbreaking work, an international team of investigators apply a diverse range of social science methods to focus on the interests of the stakeholders living in the most intimate proximity to managed forests. Using examples from North America, Asia, Africa, and Latin America, they explore the overlapping systems that characterize the management of tropical forests. People Managing Forests builds on criteria and indicators first tested by the editors and their colleagues in the mid-1990s.

The researchers address topics such as intergenerational access to resources, gender relations, and forest utilization and equity in both forest-rich and forest-poor contexts. A copublication of Resources for the Future (RFF) and the Center for International Forestry Research (CIFOR). Routledge Handbook of Seascapes Gloria Pungetti, 2022-07-31 Seascape studies have developed in response to questions arising from composite correlations such as coastal, island, and marine research, social requirements, landscape design and planning, marine ecology and environment, and resource management. This global volume is the first comprehensive overview to provide a solid foundation on the concept of seascape with the latest research findings from leading experts across a variety of fields, offering a holistic approach to seascape linking nature with culture.

and theory with practice Divided into six parts it includes over 30 chapters from contributors around the world Pioneering methods with illustrated case studies from the Mediterranean Scandinavia North Sea North America and Asia serve as examples for future seascape development conservation and governance An important and extremely timely resource the Routledge Handbook of Seascapes provides academics practitioners NGOs consultants and government officials with a broad overview of current research and practice for future application and advance worldwide

Medicinal Resources of the Tropical Forest Michael J. Balick, Elaine Elisabetsky, Sarah A. Laird, 1996 This book opens readers eyes to the enormous resources of the Earth s rain forests and the potential impact of their destruction in terms of human health

The Forest Farms of Kandy D.J. McConnell, K.A.E. Dharmapala, S.R. Attanayake, 2017-03-02 Throughout the tropical world especially in South and Southeast Asia tropical America Africa and Oceania there exists a range of forest garden farming systems These are small low input but productive and sustainable family units of highly diversified trees palms bushes and vines with few conventional field crops or livestock Providing a survey of these systems around the world and an in depth analysis of the farms around Kandy Sri Lanka this book offers an economic and ecological description and evaluation of this ancient agroforestry system and its relationship to a wide range of global agro development and environmental problems Guided by a table that lists some 30 socio economic and social criteria by which all farming systems can and should be evaluated the book presents persuasive evidence supported by comprehensive references It also examines historical and archaeological findings in order to assess the role these tropical forests played in the general adoption of agricultural farming

Indigenous Ecotourism Heather Zeppel, 2006 Drawing on case studies from Pacific Islands Africa Latin America and Southeast Asia this book examines ecotourism enterprises controlled by indigenous people in tribal reserves or protected areas It compares indigenous ecotourism in developed and developing countries and covers cultural ecotours ecolodges and bungalows hunting and fishing tours cultural attractions and other nature based facilities or services
