Conserving Marine Environments Out Of Sight Out Of Mind:

Conserving Marine Environments P. A. Hutchings, Daniel Lunney, 2003 Marine Protected Areas and Ocean Conservation Tundi S. Agardy, 1997-03-20 This book reviews the need for marine conservation summarizes general measures for ocean and coastal conservation and explains the rationale for establishing marine protected areas The second half of the book is essentially a guideline for designing and implementing protected areas in order to make them viable and long lasting in their effectiveness Management of Marine Protected Areas Paul D. Goriup, 2017-04-17 With the health of the world's oceans threatened as never before it is becoming increasingly apparent that Marine Protected Areas MPAs play a vitally important role in protecting marine and coastal habitats Management of Marine Protected Areas A Network Perspective draws on the results of a major EU sponsored research project related to the establishment of networks of MPAs in the Mediterranean and Black Seas that transpired from February 2011 to January 2016 Featuring contributions by leading university and national research institute based scientists chapters utilize the latest research data and developments in marine conservation policy to explore issues related to ways in which networks of MPAs may amplify the effectiveness and conservation benefits of individual areas within them Topics addressed include the broader socio economic impacts of MPAs in the Mediterranean and Black Seas the use of Marine Spatial Planning MSP to resolve conflicts between marine resource use and protection special protection measures under the EU's Marine Strategy Framework Directive MSFD ecological value assessments in the Black Sea the Ecosystem Approach EA for managing marine ecosystems MPAs along Turkey's Black Sea coast MPAs and offshore wind farms and managing and monitoring MPA networks within and between the Black and Mediterranean Seas Timely and important Management of Marine Protected Areas A Network Perspective offers invaluable insights into the role of MPAs in preserving the welfare and long term viability of our world's oceans Sustainable Coastal Management and Climate Adaptation R. A. Kenchington, Richard Kenchington, Laura Stocker, David Wood, 2012 Australians are famous for our love of the coast although in many places this love has caused serious and often irreversible impacts The sustainable management of our society's many uses of the coast is complex and challenging While a wealth of knowledge exists about the coast this is not always brought to bear on decision making Coastal management to date has had limited success and in some cases interventions have made problems worse This book explores the evolution of coastal management and provides critical insights into contemporary experience and understanding of coastal management in Australia Marine Conservation Ecology John Roff, 2013-09-05 This major textbook provides a broad coverage of the ecological foundations of marine conservation including the rationale importance and practicalities of various approaches to marine conservation and management The scope of the book encompasses an understanding of the elements of marine biodiversity from global to local levels threats to marine biodiversity and the structure and function of marine environments as related to conservation issues The authors describe the potential approaches initiatives and various options for conservation from the genetic to the species community and ecosystem levels in marine environments They explore methods for identifying the units of conservation and the development of defensible frameworks for marine conservation They describe planning of ecologically integrated conservation strategies including decision making on size boundaries numbers and connectivity of protected area networks The book also addresses relationships between fisheries and biodiversity novel methods for conservation planning in the coastal zone and the evaluation of conservation initiatives Pacific Conservation Biology, 2008

Challenges to Marine Ecosystems John Davenport, Gavin M. Burnell, Tom Cross, Mark Emmerson, Rob McAllen, Ruth Ramsay, Emer Rogan, 2009-01-29 This volume presents a representative sample of contributions to the 41st European Marine Biology Symposium held in September 2005 in Cork Ireland The theme of the symposium was Challenges to Marine Ecosystems and this was divided into four sub themes Genetics Marine Protected Areas Global Climate Change and Marine Ecosystems Sustainable Fisheries and Agriculture The world s marine ecosystems face multiple challenges some natural but many resulting from humankind s activities Global climate change driven by influences of energy usage and industrial practices is a reality now accepted by most of the world s scientists media and political establishments Warming seas and rising sea levels are regarded as threats while visionaries consider deep ocean carbon disposal as a technological opportunity Exploitation of the seas continues apace with repeated concerns over the impact of over fishing plus reservations about the environmental effects of marine aquaculture We need to understand how resilient organisms and ecosystems are to these challenges while responding by protecting biologically meaningful areas of the oceans The subthemes of the 41st European Marine Biology Symposium address all of these matters

Natural Resource Year in Review , Biology and Evolution of the Mollusca, Volume 1 Winston Frank Ponder, David R. Lindberg, Juliet Mary Ponder, 2019-11-18 Molluscs comprise the second largest phylum of animals after arthropods occurring in virtually all habitats Some are commercially important a few are pests and some carry diseases while many non marine molluscs are threatened by human impacts which have resulted in more extinctions than all tetrapod vertebrates combined This book and its companion volume provide the first comprehensive account of the Mollusca in decades Illustrated with hundreds of colour figures it reviews molluscan biology genomics anatomy physiology fossil history phylogeny and classification This volume includes general chapters drawn from extensive and diverse literature on the anatomy and physiology of their structure movement reproduction feeding digestion excretion respiration nervous system and sense organs Other chapters review the natural history including ecology of molluscs their interactions with humans and assess research on the group Key features of both volumes up to date treatment with an extensive bibliography thoroughly examines the current understanding of molluscan anatomy physiology and development reviews fossil history and phylogenetics overviews ecology and economic values and summarises research activity and suggests future directions for investigation Winston F Ponder was a Principal Research Scientist at The Australian Museum in Sydney where he is currently a Research Fellow He has published extensively over the last 55 years on the systematics evolution biology and conservation of marine and freshwater molluscs as well as supervised post graduate students and run university courses David R Lindberg is former Chair of the Department of Integrative Biology Director of the Museum of Paleontology and Chair of the Berkeley Natural History Museums all at the University of California He has conducted research on the evolutionary history of marine organisms and their habitats on the rocky shores of the Pacific Rim for more than 40 years The numerous elegant and interpretive illustrations were produced by Juliet Ponder

Ocean Trench Conservation Martin Vivian Angel,1982 Securitizing Marine Protected Areas Elizabeth M. De Santo,2024-07-10 This book presents a novel examination of Marine Protected Areas within a security context bridging science policy and geopolitics and addressing the often under emphasized aspect of environmental justice The book argues that Marine Protected Areas MPAs are not only a critical tool for protecting marine biodiversity in a changing climate but they also play an important role at the intersection of geopolitics and environmental justice and they provide a case study of environmental governance at the science policy interface The book takes an interdisciplinary and critical approach and builds on the author's two decades of experience working in this field Geopolitically it explores the ways in which MPAs provide footprints for influence and access to resources far from home for nations with overseas territories MPAs also raise important issues connected to equity environmental justice and social justice including access to resources and participation in environmental decision making processes key aspects for achieving long term conservation goals The book also demonstrates how MPAs are a critical lens for understanding how policy makers cope with scientific uncertainty and the necessity of well designed and precautionary science advisory processes While the ecological contribution of MPAs is paramount social issues and geopolitical considerations are often less obvious in the discourse underpinning MPAs and the resulting tensions can undermine long term conservation objectives By applying the three lenses of geopolitics environmental justice and science

this book provides key insights to help the international community moving past the 2030 biodiversity targets and beyond towards a future of meaningful equitable and effective conservation approaches This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of biodiversity conservation marine studies political geography environmental governance and science policy studies It will also be of interest to marine conservation governance professionals and policymakers

Assessments and Conservation of Biological Diversity from Coral Reefs to the Deep Sea Jose Victor Lopez, 2023-11-30 Assessments and Conservation of Biological Diversity from Coral Reefs to the Deep Sea Uncovering Buried Treasures and the Value of the Benthos examines marine benthic habitats around the world that are linked by their physical location at the bottom of the oceans The book approaches deep sea marine biodiversity with perspectives on genetics microbiology and evolution weaving a narrative of vital expert linkages with the goal of protecting something that most people cannot witness or experience It provides a full assessment of biological diversity within benthic habitats from coral reefs to plankton and fish species and offers global case studies It is the ideal resource for marine conservationists and biologists aiming to expand their knowledge and efforts to the rarely seen yet equally important realms of the ocean and respective benthic species As these deep sea ecosystems and their species face unprecedented threats of destruction and extinction due to factors including climate change this book provides the most current knowledge of this undersea world along with solutions for its conservation Compares and contrasts between shallow and marine habitats to reveal revolutionary connections and continuity Analyzes modern threats and gaps in biological knowledge regarding benthic communities Examines benthic biodiversity through vertical vs horizontal gradients Poses possible solutions for the conservation of benthic habitats and organisms
