Constable Goes To Market:

Constable Goes to Market Nicholas Rhea, 2018      The Toff Goes to Market John Creasey, 2015-09-20 It's a time of shortage and rationing. The Toff is in the army but gets permission to visit his aunt who is supposedly on her death bed. Had she died things would have been different but as it was a recovery led to an investigation of the black market and wholesale murder with both The Toff and Scotland Yard battling those involved.

Constable Goes to Market Nicholas Rhea, 2002 For the villagers of Aidensfield and district the market towns provide a focus for their business activities as well as their social outings and Ashfordly is no exception. Normally quiet and peaceful it comes alive with traders and customers on market day and such gatherings are never without problems for Constable Nick. As he goes about his rustic constabulary duties he sympathizes with members of the Thumbstick Club when someone steals their precious sticks, copes with a wandering flock of geese on the village green and deals with near disaster when Greengrass's dog Alfred demolishes market stalls in his quest to catch a white rabbit and wonders how a live hand grenade came to be left among the potatoes. The area continues to reveal eccentric characters like old Mr Galbraith whose ambition is to freewheel as far as possible in his car or Twelve pint Pete who can't resist the challenge of drinking a yard of ale in record time. Sightings of an Arab, an American Indian, a Laughing Cavalier, a city gent and a UFO cause some puzzlement, stupidity and even a crime or two. It's all in a day's work for Constable Nick of Aidensfield, the policeman who inspired Heartbeat.

The Precolonial State in West Africa J. Cameron Monroe, 2014-06-09 This volume examines political life in the Kingdom of Dahomey located in the Republic of Benin.

Power and Landscape in Atlantic West Africa J. Cameron Monroe, Akinwumi Ogundiran, 2012-02-13 This volume applies insights drawn from the theories and methods of landscape archaeology to contribute to our understanding of the nature of West African societies in the Atlantic Era 17th-19th Centuries AD. The authors adopt a broad set of methods and approaches to tackle how the nature and structures of African political and social relations changed across regions in this period. This is only the second volume in a decade to focus on the archaeology of this period in West Africa and the first volume in sub-Saharan Africanist archaeology to be focused in the recent past in one sub-region of the continent from a coherent methodological and theoretical standpoint. Murderer's Market Joan Dunning, 2013-11-15 Detective Superintendent Charles Blower goes to Benfield House, a renovated Georgian country house in Kent, at the behest of his good friend Alex Pike, who with his wife Barrie is author of a series of detective novels. Both are keen amateur detectives. This is an intriguing case for Blower since the crime, the unusual stabbing of a woman conveyancer surveying an apartment in the house whose owner works abroad, appears motiveless. It is set up to look accidental. However, his intuition and experience as a Metropolitan Police Detective leads him to work with the Kent County Police Inspector who originally dealt with the crime scene. Through this association and the eruption of a series of burglaries in the county, Blower begins to wonder if burglary was a factor in the woman's murder. Some dubious characters, including the houseowner's son, recently imprisoned for aggravated burglary come under suspicion It takes persistence application and lateral thinking for several burglars and the murderer to be apprehended The Annual Fete on the village green fronting Benfield House provides the backdrop to an eventful outcome which is concluded after a car chase through the Kent countryside to its coast Accounts and Papers of the House of Commons Great Britain. promise to do so The recent financial crisis has demonstrated the clear risks from such a market led approach particularly when markets do not reflect the value of the services provided by nature such as clean fresh water pollination of crops etc This report urges the Government to develop minimum sustainability standards set out how data on natural capital in the National Accounts will be used develop targets for improving the state of the environment and establish transparent reporting against such targets and use the Natural Capital Committee s work on a natural asset stock check as one of the basket of indicators used to measure the green economy The Government should fully incorporate the principles of Enabling the Transition into future revisions of the Plan for Growth Expenditure involved in making the transition to a green economy should be seen as an investment not simply a cost
