Liberation Theologies on Shifting Grounds Georges de Schrijver,1998 Besides their insistence on praxis and the application of the Word of God to a given situation Liberation Theologies make ample use of tools of analysis to uncover root causes of oppression Now it is precisely with respect to these tools that Liberation Theologies today find themselves on shifting grounds In intra ecclesiastical circles cultural concerns have come to replace socio economic analysis whereas after the implosion of the East Bloc the liberationists proper also pay more attention to the issues of gender ecology and indigenous movements The contributions to this volume originating from various continents discuss to what extent this shift in emphasis is desirable and acceptable and conclude that the cultural focus cannot possibly invalidate but only enrich and complete the socio economic analysis They moreover try to assess the developments in light of globalization economics informatics on the one hand and postmodernity on the other Given the impact of western culture politics the question arises as to whether the native cultures will succeed in keeping up their religious core values and structures of solidarity two elements so indispensable for liberative commitments Migration, Mujercitas, and Medicine Men Valentina Napolitano,2002-12-12 Valentina Napolitano explores issues of migration medicine religion and gender in this incisive analysis of everyday practices of urban living in Guadalajara Mexico Drawing on fieldwork over a ten year period Napolitano paints a rich and vibrant picture of daily life in a low income neighborhood of Guadalajara Migration Mujercitas and Medicine Men insightfully portrays the personal experiences of the neighborhood s residents while engaging with important questions about the nature of selfhood subjectivity and community identity as well as the tensions of modernity and its discontents in Mexican society The Cultural Production of the Educated Person Bradley A. Levinson,Douglas E.

Foley,Dorothy C. Holland,1996-03-07 Eleven historical ethnographic case studies examine the social and cultural projects of modern schools and the contestations dramatic and not that emerge in and around and against them These case studies ranging from Taiwan to South Texas build upon an original joining of anthropology critical education theory and cultural studies The studies advance the concept of cultural production as a way of understanding the dynamics of power and identity formation underlying different forms of education Using the concept of the educated person as a culture specific construct the authors examine conflicts and points of convergence between cultural practices and knowledges that are produced in and out of schools Studies in Latin American Popular Culture ,1996 The World of Lucha Libre Heather

Levi,2008-10-24 Ethnography of Mexican professional wrestling by a female wrestler and scholar showing how the sport is linked to national affirmations and counter narratives Understanding Cultural Policy Carole Rosenstein,2024-04-17

This textbook provides an introduction to cultural policy in the US enabling both students and practitioners to understand how government impacts the arts and culture Starting with an historical overview of why and how the US developed a national cultural policy the book goes on to trace the contemporary system of national state and local arts and cultural agencies through which that policy is put into practice Readers are provided both in depth frameworks for conceptualizing how government regulation and provision shape the arts and culture and carefully illustrated examples of cultural policy in action Covering critical issues in US cultural policy such as the Culture Wars culture led development and gentrification and field wide data and research capacities the book builds a bridge between theory practice and politics in the arts and culture This new edition includes enhanced visualizations and policy maps expanded policy labs and a new section on cultural policy during COVID 19 The result is a text that is essential reading for students and reflective practitioners of arts and cultural management and administration Feminist Policymaking in Chile Liesl Haas,2011-02-28 Investigates the efforts of feminists in Chile to win policy reforms on a broad range of gender equity issues from labor and marriage laws to educational opportunities to health and reproductive rights Provided by publisher The Dictator's Seduction Lauren H.

Derby,2009-07-17 An analysis of the ways that General Rafael Trujillos dictatorship 1930 1961 pervaded everyday life in the Dominican Republics capital Santo Domingo Film Policy Albert Moran,2005-08-18 Film Policy is the first comprehensive overview of the workings of the international film industry The authors examine film cultures and film policy across the world explaining why Hollywood cinema dominates the global film market and the effects of the rise of television and video on the international industry In a series of case studies drawn from North America Europe Latin America Asia and Australia the authors explore the relationship between Hollywood cinema product and national film cultures and trace the development of international and national film policies looking at issues of financing regulation protectionism and censorship Negotiating Economic Development Laurie Kroshus Medina, 2022-07-12 The citrus industry in Belize could be said to exist primarily to satisfy the needs of people in other countries A business that is highly dependent on global markets and the geopolitics of international trade it comprises some 500 farmers many hundreds of wage laborers and two processing companies that produce frozen juice concentrate for export This new study examines how those farmers laborers and companies define and pursue shared interests and how they respond differently to the impact of national development strategies and global economic and political forces Laurie Kroshus Medina analyzes the development of the citrus industry in Belize over fifteen years to explore the relationship between the production of collective identities and the negotiation of development policies at the interface of global and local processes She shows how citrus farmers and workers processing companies and politicians compete to construct shared identities how they mobilize collective actors and how their collective action shapes the goals policies and practices associated with development Taking an ethnographic approach Medina describes how the Belizean citrus industry responds to cycles of boom and bust and the implications of such cycles for workers and growers She offers a close look at the major actors workers union members small and large growers and politicians as they respond to global changes in the citrus industry Her analysis is made more compelling through an account of two open struggles in the industry over the formation of a rival union and the attempt to buy the processing company owned by the multinational corporation Nestl She also includes a discussion of the impact of NAFTA on the industry Medina s research demonstrates how collective agency in Belize has pushed the citrus industry s development in directions that simultaneously conform to and diverge from the trajectories laid out by foreign agencies Negotiating Economic Development provides a bridge from old to new studies of Latin American social movements as it offers key insights into competing forms of identity for a wide range of social scientists concerned with the human and social aspects of development issues and globalization Grassroots Expectations of Democracy and Economy Nancy R. Powers, 2001-02-15 This highly readable study addresses a range of fundamental questions about the interaction of politics and economics from a grassroots perspective in post transition Argentina Nancy R Powers looks at the lives and political views of Argentines of little to modest means to examine systematically how their political interests and their evaluations of democracy are formed Based on the author s fieldwork in Argentina the analysis extends to countries of Latin America and Eastern Europe facing similarly difficult political and economic changes Powers uses in depth interviews to examine how not simply what ordinary people think about their standard of living their government and the democratic regime She explains why they sometimes do but more often do not see their material conditions as political problems arguing that the type of hardship and the possibilities for coping with it are more politically significant than the degree of hardship She analyzes alternative ways in which people define democracy and judge its legitimacy Not only does Powers demonstrate contradictions and gaps in the existing scholarship on economic voting social movements and populism she also shows how those literatures are addressing similar questions but are failing to talk to one another Powers goes on to build a more comprehensive theory of how people at the grassroots form their political interests To analyze why people perceive only some of their material hardships as political problems she brings into the study of politics ideas drawn from Amartya Sen and other scholars of poverty
