Bureaucrats and Bleeding Hearts Tess Lea, 2008 This is an anthropological study of the culture of public health governance in the Northern Territory of Australia It asks what it takes to become a helping white bureau professional in Australia's post colonial frontier someone who passionately cares about and resolutely strives toward improved health for Indigenous people and how their determination to help is sustained in the face of a self declared history of failure Provided by publisher Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford Anthropological Society of Oxford, 1993 JASO, 1993 ECKM 2020 21st European Conference on Knowledge Management Professor Alexeis Garcia-Perez, 2020-12-02

Stem Cell Research and the Collaborative Regulation of Innovation Sarah Devaney, 2013-12-13 Hopes are high that stem cell SC research will lead to treatments and cures for some of the most serious diseases affecting humankind today SC science has been used in a treatment setting in the replacement of patients windpipes and in restoring sight to patients who were blind in one eye and in future it is hoped that when the body is injured it will be able to be stimulated to produce those types of SCs necessary to repair the particular damage caused In the meantime research into specific treatments for a wide range of serious conditions is being undertaken including Alzheimer's disease cancer and diabetes The book considers the regulatory governance of stem cell research setting out a readily understandable account of the science and the challenges it poses for regulators as the research is increasingly being clinically applied It provides a critical account of those elements of a regulatory system which will be required for any jurisdiction aiming to facilitate innovative and productive SC research while maintaining appropriate ethical and legal controls The book addresses the specific failings in the current regulatory approach to SC research in the UK and goes on to look at the regulatory approaches in the US The book systematically analyses the roles and responsibilities of the three key participants who collaborate in this process regulators scientists and tissue providers arguing that a regulatory system which fails to recognise and facilitate the vital role which each of these three groups plays runs the risk of impairing the chances of the hopes for SC research being realised The book places a particular emphasis on ensuring that those who contribute their bodily tissues to this endeavour are treated fairly involving a recognition that their tissues are their property Handbook of Adult and Continuing Education Arthur L.

Wilson, Elisabeth Hayes, 2009-04-27 Sponsored by the American Association of Adult Continuing Education This monumental work is a testimony to the science of adult education and the skills of Wilson and Hayes It is a veritable feast for nourishing our understanding of the current field of adult education The editors and their well chosen colleagues consistently question how we know and upon what grounds we act They invite us to consider not only how we can design effective adult education but also why we practice in a particular socio economic context Jane Vella author of Taking Learning to Task and Learning to Listen Learning to Teach This new handbook captures the exciting intellectual and professional development of our field in the last decade It is an indispensable resource for faculty students and professionals Jack Mezirow emeritus professor Adult and Continuing Education Teachers College Columbia University For nearly seventy years the handbooks of adult and continuing education have been definitive references on the best practices programs and institutions in the field In this new edition over sixty leading authorities share their diverse perspectives in a single volume exploring a wealth of topics including learning from experience adult learning for self development race and culture in adult learning technology and distance learning learning in the workplace adult education for community action and development and much more Much more than a catalogue of theory and historical facts this handbook strongly reflects the values of adult educators and instructors who are dedicated to promoting social and educational opportunity for learners and to sustaining fair and ethical practices
