Constructing Nature Readings From The American Experience:

Constructing Nature Richard Jenseth, Edward E. Lotto, 1996 The Nature of Cities Michael Bennett, David Warfield Teague, 1999-10

Cities are often thought to be separate from nature but recent trends in ecocriticism demand that we consider them as part of the total environment. This new collection of essays sharpens the focus on the nature of cities by exploring the facets of an urban ecocriticism by reminding city dwellers of their place in ecosystems and by emphasizing the importance of this connection in understanding urban life and culture. The editors both raised in small towns but now living in major urban areas are especially concerned with the sociopolitical construction of all environments both natural and manmade. Following an opening interview with Andrew Ross exploring the general parameters of urban ecocriticism they present essays that explore urban nature writing, city parks, urban wilderness, ecofeminism, and the city and urban space. The volume includes contributions on topics as wide ranging as the urban poetry of English writers from Donne to Gay, the manufactured wildness of a gambling casino and the marketing of cosmetics to urban women by idealizing Third World naturalness. These essays seek to reconceive nature and its cultural representations in ways that contribute to understanding the contemporary cityscape. They explore the theoretical issues that arise when one attempts to adopt and adapt an environmental perspective for analyzing urban life. The Nature of Cities offers the ecological component often missing from cultural analyses of the city and the urban perspective often lacking in environmental approaches to contemporary culture. By bridging the historical gap between environmentalism, cultural studies, and urban experience, the book makes a statement of lasting importance to the development of the ecocritical movement.

Wilderness Michael P Branch The ISLE Reader Michael P. Branch, Scott Slovic, 2003 This volume gathers nineteen of the most representative and defining essays from the journal ISLE Interdisciplinary Studies in Literature and Environment over the course of its first ten years Following an introduction that traces the stages of ecocriticism's development The ISLE Reader is organized into three sections each of which reflects one of the general goals the journal has sought to accomplish The section titled Re evaluations provides new readings of familiar environmental writers and new environmental perspectives on authors or literary traditions not usually considered from a green perspective The writings in Reaching Out to Other Disciplines promote cross pollination among various disciplines and methodologies in the environmental arts and humanities The writings in the final section New Theoretical and Practical Paradigms are especially significant for the conceptual and methodological terrain they map The ISLE Reader documents the state of research in ecocriticism and related interdisciplinary fields provides a survey of the field and points to new methodologies and possibilities for the future

Ecocomposition Christian R. Weisser, Sidney I. Dobrin, 2012-02-01 Ecocomposition examines current trends in universities toward more environmentally sound work explores the intersections between composition research that is discourse studies and ecostudies and offers possible pedagogies for the composition classroom Never before have the intersections between ecocriticism and composition studies in theory and pedagogy been addressed in this much depth or detail As universities become increasingly concerned with issues of the environment within academic disciplines across the spectrum this book brings together a diverse group of prominent voices to discuss the development of ecocomposition and its possibilities and to argue for a greening of composition studies through which to engage the world in which we live Natural Discourse

Sidney I. Dobrin, Christian R. Weisser, 2012-02-01 The first full length book to address the relationships between environment and discourse Natural Discourse explains why and how ecocomposition has become such a critical part of composition studies Beginning by exploring the roots of ecocomposition including a history of the use of the term ecocomposition the book then examines ecological aspects of composition studies and looks at how ecocomposition is informed by ecocriticism cultural studies ecofeminism environmental rhetoric and composition studies The authors draw on their own experiences as teachers of writing and outdoor enthusiasts to describe how ecocomposition can address issues of language and nature public intellectualism and pedagogy Race and Environmental Justice in the Era of Climate Change and COVID-19 Tatiana Konrad, 2025-08-01 Informed by transdisciplinary research in social and environmental justice Race and Environmental Justice in the Era of Climate Change and COVID 19 is a contribution to the scholarly discourse as well as a form of activism for environmental climate and health justice Using race and Indigeneity as an analytical lens the book explores how justice in the era of climate change and COVID 19 is envisioned depicted and achieved With a focus largely on humans and environments its explorations of justice illustrate the wide health and safety gaps between individuals communities and even nations living under different environmental conditions The volume also moves beyond the human toward justice for all beings This book foregrounds voices from world communities provides solutions to environmental and health crises and advances environmental justice The Continuum Encyclopedia of American Literature Steven R. Serafin, Alfred Bendixen, 2005-09-01 More than ten years in the making this comprehensive single volume literary survey is for the student scholar and general reader The Continuum Encyclopedia of American Literature represents a collaborative effort involving 300 contributors from across the US and Canada Composed of more than 1 100 signed biographical critical entries this Encyclopedia serves as both guide and companion to the study and appreciation of American literature A special feature is the topical article of which there are 70 Wilderness Science in a Time of Change Conference: Wilderness as a place for scientific inquiry, 2000 Wilderness Science in a Time of Change Conference, 2000 A History of Western American Literature Susan Kollin, 2015-12-11 The American West is a complex region that has inspired generations of writers and artists Often portrayed as a quintessential landscape that symbolizes promise and progress for a developing nation the American West is also a diverse space that has experienced conflicting and competing hopes and expectations While it is frequently imagined as a place enabling dreams of new beginnings for settler communities it is likewise home to long standing indigenous populations as well as many other ethnic and racial groups who have often produced different visions of the land This History encompasses the intricacy of Western American literature by exploring myriad genres and cultural movements from ecocriticism settler colonial studies and transnational theory to race ethnic gender and sexuality studies Written by a host of leading historians and literary critics this book offers readers insight into the West as a site that sustains canonical and emerging authors alike and as a region that exceeds national boundaries in addressing long standing global concerns and developments Proceedings RMRS., 2000 Reading the Earth Michael P. Branch, 1998 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for the University of Idaho Press Ecocriticism is a scholarly approach to literature that is rapidly building momentum and legitimacy because of its usefulness as a means of inquiry into the relationship between human culture and the nonhuman world This collection demonstrates promising new directions in the study of literature and environment and suggests the importance and passion of this scholarly enterprise Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Ernest Hemingway's Versions of Pastoral David J. Savola, 2001 The Social Construction of Race and Ethnicity in the United States Prince Brown, 2001 This groundbreaking collection of classic and cutting edge sociological research gives special attention to the social construction of race and ethnicity in the United States It offers an in depth and eye opening analysis of a the power of racial classification to shape our understanding of race and race relations b the way in which the system came into being and remains and c the real consequences this system has on life chances The readings deal with five major themes the personal experience of classification schemes classifying people by race ethnic classification the persistence functions and consequences of social classification and a new paradigm transcending categories For individuals who want to gain a fuller understanding of the impact the ideas of race has on a society that is consumed by it Teaching Writing Teachers of High School English & First-year Composition Robert Tremmel, William Broz, 2002 What do writing teachers need to know And what do they need to know how to do The City Natural Shen Hou, 2010-11-23 The weekly magazine Garden and Forest existed for only nine years 1888 1897 Yet in that brief span it brought to light many of the issues that would influence the future of American environmentalism In The City Natural Shen Hou presents the first biography of this important but largely overlooked vehicle for individuals with the common goal of preserving nature in American civilization As Hou s study reveals Garden and Forest was instrumental in redefining the fields of botany and horticulture while also helping to shape the fledgling professions of landscape architecture and forestry The publication actively called for reform in government policy urban design and future planning for the preservation and inclusion of nature in cities It also attempted to shape public opinion on these issues through a democratic ideal that every citizen had the right and need to access nature These notions would anticipate the conservation and city beautiful movements that followed in the early twentieth century Hou explains the social and environmental conditions that led to the rise of reform efforts organizations and publications such as Garden and Forest She reveals the intellectual core and vision of the magazine as a proponent of the city natural movement that sought to relate nature and civilization through the arts and sciences Garden and Forest was a staunch advocate of urban living made better through careful planning and design As Hou shows the publication also promoted forest management and preservation not only as a natural resource but as an economic one She also profiles the editors and contributors who set the magazine s tone and follows their efforts to expand America s environmental expertise Through the pages of Garden and Forest the early period of environmentalism was especially fruitful and optimistic many individuals joined forces for the benefit of humankind and helped lay the foundation for a coherent national movement Shen Hou s study gives Garden and Forest its due and adds an important new chapter to the early history of American environmentalism Building Background Knowledge for Academic Achievement Robert J.

Marzano, 2004 The author of Classroom Instruction That Works discusses teaching methods that can help overcome the deficiencies in background knowledge that hamper many students progress in school Simians, Cyborgs, and Women Donna Haraway, 2013-05-13 Simians Cyborgs and Women is a powerful collection of ten essays written between 1978 and 1989 Although on the surface simians cyborgs and women may seem an odd threesome Haraway describes their profound link as creatures which have had a great destabilizing place in Western evolutionary technology and biology Throughout this book Haraway analyzes accounts narratives and stories of the creation of nature living organisms and cyborgs At once a social reality and a science fiction the cyborg a hybrid of organism and machine represents transgressed boundaries and intense fusions of the nature culture split By providing an escape from rigid dualisms the cyborg exists in a post gender world and as such holds immense possibilities for modern feminists Haraway s recent book Primate Visions has been called
