Constructing Modern World History:

How to Write the Global History of Knowledge-Making Johannes Feichtinger, Anil Bhatti, Cornelia Hülmbauer, 2020-03-02 This multidisciplinary collection of essays provides a critical and comprehensive understanding of how knowledge has been made moved and used by whom and for what purpose To explain how new knowledge emerges this volume offers a two fold conceptual move challenging both the premise of insurmountable differences between confined autarkic cultures and the linear nation centered approach to the spread of immutable stocks of knowledge Rather the conceptual focus of the book is on the circulation amalgamation and reconfiguration of locally shaped bodies of knowledge on a broader global scale The authors emphasize that the histories of interaction have been made less transparent through the study of cultural representations thus distorting the view of how knowledge is actually produced Leading scholars from a range of fields including history philosophy social anthropology and comparative culture research have contributed chapters which cover the period from the early modern age to the present day and investigate settings in Africa Asia and Europe Their particular focus is on areas that have largely been neglected until now In this work readers from many disciplines will find new approaches to writing the global history of knowledge making especially historians scholars of the history and philosophy of science and those in culture studies Constructing Modern World History Pearson Custom Publishing, 1997-09-01

The Construction of History and Nationalism in India Sylvie Guichard, 2010-06-25 Most studies on nations and nationalism argue that history or more precisely a common past is crucial for the process of national identity building This book focuses on the construction elaboration and negotiation of the narratives that have become official history in India History Education and the Construction of National Identities Mario Carretero, Mikel Asensio, María Rodríguez-Moneo, 2013-01-01

How is history represented As just a record of the past as a part of a present identity or as future goals This book explores how historical contents and narratives are presented in school textbooks and other cultural productions museums monuments etc and also how they are understood by students in the context of increasing globalization In these contemporary conditions the relation between history learning processes in and out of school and the construction of national identities presents an ever more important topic It is being studied by looking at the appropriation of historical narratives which are frequently based on the official history of a nation state Most of the chapters in this volume are educational studies about how the learning of history takes place in school settings of different countries such as Canada France Germany Latin America Spain the Netherlands the United Kingdom and the United States Covering such a broad sample of cultural and national contexts they provide a rich reflection on history as a subject related to patriotism cosmopolitanism both or neither The Idea of History in Constructing Economics Michael H.

Turk, 2015-08-11 How scientific is economics This question has often been framed by analogies and correspondences made between economics and other seemingly more well established scientific disciplines starting with classical mechanics At the same time economics is likely to be seen in opposition to or in contrast with history where the reliance upon generalizing rules thought experiments and model construction in economics is set against the amassing of particular facts intended to create narratives in history In this new volume Turk explores the relationship between economics and history including the often fraught one between economics and economic history making the case that economics does in fact require the proper grounding in history that has so often been ignored This work challenges the attempt to link economics with other more clearly scientific disciplines as flawed and fundamentally wrongheaded A key element of this book is its examination of the gaps and associations that exist in or are seen through linkages with thermodynamics classical mechanics biology literature mathematics philosophy and sociology This exploration is frequently undertaken through study of the work of one or more major figures in the history of economic thought ranging from Quesnay and Smith through Walras and Max Weber to Robinson Krugman David and Arthur Through the possibility of an alternative to the gaps noted in each such comparison the underlying necessary connection between economics and history can be brought out The book concludes by exploring the basis for the positive construction of a historical economics This book is suited for those who study history of economic thought and philosophy of economics

Centrality of History for Theory Construction in Psychology Sven Hroar Klempe, Roger Smith, 2016-11-03 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the purpose of history for psychology Its purpose is to ask why history should be of concern to psychologists in teaching and research and in theory and in practice The future position of humanities subjects is currently highly debated on all fronts Chapters focus on the arguments from psychologists upgrade the precision and quality of discussion and thus provide a base for affirming the place of history of psychology in the broad field of psychological activity A fundamental question dominates the discussion Is the purpose of the history of psychology to serve current psychology rather than to contribute to historical knowledge and to enter large debates about what historical knowledge means for being human If the answer is yes as most psychologists who come to the issues will presume in what ways Are these ways philosophically grounded or do the social and political conditions of power and funding in universities dominate the arguments In this volume the contributors demonstrate the relation between historical investigations and current practice Featured topics include The history of psychology and its relation to feminism The history of psychology and its relation to current research assessment and curriculum The history of science and its relation to psychology The metalanguage for psychology Case studies of history in theory construction Centrality of History for Theory Construction in Psychology will be of interest to psychologists professors graduate psychology students and scholars in the human sciences

Constructing Nationhood in Modern East Asia Kai-wing Chow, Kevin Michael Doak, Poshek Fu, 2001 A cutting edge collection exploring identity making in East Asia This is an interdisciplinary study of the cultural politics of nationalism and national identities in modern East Asia Combining theoretical insights with empirical research it explores the cultural dimensions of nationhood and identity making in China Japan Korea Hong Kong and Taiwan

The essays address issues ranging from the complex relations between popular culture and national consciousness to the representation of ethnic racial identity and gendered discourse on nationalism. The cutting edge research on the diverse forms of cultural preacceptance and the various ways in which this participates in the construction and projection of national and ethnic identities in East Asia illuminates several understudied issues in Asian studies including the ambiguity of Hong Kong identity during World War II and the intricate politics of the post war Taiwanese trial of collaboration. Addressing a wide range of theoretical and historical issues regarding cultural dimensions of nationalism and national identities all over East Asia these essays draw insights from such recent theories as cultural studies postcolonial theories and archival researched cultural anthropology. The book will be important reading for students of Asian studies as well as for serious readers interested in issues of nationalism and culture. Kai wing Chow is Associate Professor of East Asian Languages and Cultures. Kevin Doak is Associate Professor of History. Poshek Fu is Associate Professor of History and Cinema Studies. All three teach at University of Illinois Urbana Champaign.

The Cambridge World History: Volume 6, The Construction of a Global World, 1400-1800 CE, Part 2, Patterns of Change Jerry H. Bentley, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2015-04-09. The era from 1400 to 1800 saw intense biological commercial and cultural exchanges and the creation of global connections on an unprecedented scale. Divided into two books, Volume 6 of the Cambridge World History series considers these critical transformations. The first book examines the material and political foundations of the era including global considerations of the environment, disease, technology and cities along with regional studies of empires in the eastern and western hemispheres, crossroads areas such as the Indian Ocean, Central Asia and the Caribbean and sites of competition and conflict including Southeast Asia, Africa and the Mediterranean. The second book focuses on patterns of change examining the expansion of Christianity and Islam, migrations, warfare and other topics on a global scale and offering insightful detailed analyses of the Columbian exchange, slavery, silver trade, entrepreneurs, Asian religions, legal encounters, plantation economies, early industrialism and the writing of history.

Constructing Modern Asian Citizenship Edward Vickers, Krishna Kumar, 2014-12-05. In many non Western contexts modernization has tended to be equated with Westernization and hence with an abandonment of authentic indigenous identities and values. This is evident in the recent history of many Asian societies where efforts to modernize spurred on by the spectre of foreign domination have often been accompanied by determined attempts to stamp national variants of modernity with the brand of local authenticity. Asian values, Chinese characteristics, a Japanese cultural essence and so forth. Highlighting or exaggerating associations between the more unsettling consequences of modernization and alien influence has thus formed part of a strategy whereby elites in many Asian societies have sought to construct new forms of legitimacy for old patterns of dominance over the masses. The apparatus of modern systems of mass education often inherited from colonial rulers has been just one instrument in such campaigns of state legitimation. This book presents analyses of a range of contemporary projects of citizenship formation.

across Asia in order to identify those issues and concerns most central to Asian debates over the construction of modern identities Its main focus is on schooling but also examines other vehicles for citizenship formation such as museums and the internet the role of religion in particular Islam in debates over citizenship and identity in certain Asian societies and the relationship between state centred identity discourses and the experience of increasingly globalized elites With chapters from an international team of contributors this interdisciplinary volume will appeal to students and scholars of Asian culture and society Asian education comparative education and citizenship

Constructing Global Challenges in World Politics Alina Isakova, Malte Neuwinger, Robin Schulze Waltrup, Oday Uraiqat, 2024-06-24 This interdisciplinary book investigates the problematization of global challenges in world politics by analyzing what they are and how they come to be Offering a conceptual framework including four modes of construction universalizing bundling upscaling and creating urgency this book provides a heuristic method for understanding how the process of rendering an issue a global challenge unfolds It examines the role of the global challenges discourse which may either reinforce or challenge the dominant orders of world politics such as the capitalist market based system and the liberal international order As a consequence the global challenges discourse facilitates the emergence of new actors and policy fields The book will be of interest to students academics and practitioners of global governance international organizations and more broadly international political economy and international relations

Constructing Ethical Patterns in Times of Globalization Aleks Kuokkanen, 2012-01-20 Inspired by the Catholic theologian Hans K ng this book searches for a model for global ethics by analysing the contemporary philosophical discussion It demonstrates that the Western model is unable to reckon with exclusivism and difference and presents an alternative model      Building the Panama Canal Sylvia Engdahl,2012-07-30 This compelling volume provides the historical background of the construction of the Panama Canal Readers will learn how women played an important role in the project Controversies are also explored including the role that the United States played in the Panamanian Revolution Personal narratives are presented from sources such as Theodore Roosevelt and Helen Herron Taft Other essay sources include the Panama Canal Authority James T Du Bois and David Newton E Campbell

Claude E Ake: The making of an organic intellectual O. Arowosegbe,2016-12-29 Claude E Ake radical African political philosopher of the first four decades of the postcolonial era stands out as a progressive social force whose writings continue to have appeal and relevance long after his untimely death in 1996 In examining Akes intellectual works Jeremiah O Arowosegbe sets out the framework of his theoretical orientations in the context of his life and reveals him as one of the most fertile and influential voices within the social sciences community in Africa In tracing the genesis and development of Akes political thought Arowosegbe draws attention to Akes compelling account of the material implications and political costs of European colonisation of Africa and his conception of a different future for the continent Approaching his subject from a Gramscian and Marxist perspective Arowosegbe elucidates how Akes philosophy demonstrates the intimate entanglement of class and social cultural and historical issues and how as a contributor to endogenous knowledge production and postcolonial studies on Africa Ake is firmly rooted in a South driven critique of Western historicism It is Arowosegbes conviction that engaged scholars are uniquely important in challenging existing hierarchies oppressive institutions and truth regimes and the structures of power that produce and support them and much can be drawn from their contributions and failings alike This work contributes to a hitherto neglected focus area the impact across the continent of the ideas and lives of African and other global South academics intellectuals and scholar activists Among them Ake is representative of bold scholarly initiatives in asserting the identities of African and other non Western cultures through a mindful rewriting of the intellectual and nationalist histories of these societies on their own terms In foregrounding the contribution of Ake with respect to both autochthonous traditional insights and endogenous knowledge production on the continent Arowosegbe aims at fostering the continuance of a living and potent tradition of critique and resistance Engaging with the lingering impact of colonialism on previously colonised societies this timely book will be of immense value to scholars and students of philosophy and political science as well as African intellectual history African studies postcolonial studies and subaltern studies      The Making of Japanese Settler Colonialism Sidney Xu Lu,2019-07-25 Shows how Japanese anxiety about overpopulation was used to justify expansion blurring lines between migration and settler colonialism This title is also available as Open Access      The Making of Southeast Asia Amitav Acharya,2013-02-15 Developing a framework to study what makes a region Amitav Acharya investigates the origins and evolution of Southeast Asian regionalism and international relations He views the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN from the bottom up as not only a U S inspired ally in the Cold War struggle against communism but also an organization that reflects indigenous traditions Although Acharya deploys the notion of imagined community to examine the changes especially since the Cold War in the significance of ASEAN dealings for a regional identity he insists that imagination is itself not a neutral but rather a culturally variable concept The regional imagination in Southeast Asia imagines a community of nations different from NAFTA or NATO the OAU or the European Union In this new edition of a book first published as The Quest for Identity in 2000 Acharya updates developments in the region through the first decade of the new century the aftermath of the financial crisis of 1997 security affairs after September 2001 the long term impact of the 2004 tsunami and the substantial changes wrought by the rise of China as a regional and global actor Acharya argues in this important book for the crucial importance of regionalism in a different part of the world

The Making of Modern Japan Marius B. Jansen, 2002-10-15 Magisterial in vision sweeping in scope this monumental work presents a seamless account of Japanese society during the modern era from 1600 to the present A distillation of more than fifty years engagement with Japan and its history it is the crowning work of our leading interpreter of the modern Japanese experience Since 1600 Japan has undergone three periods of wrenching social and institutional change following the imposition of hegemonic order on feudal society by the Tokugawa shogun the opening of Japan's ports by Commodore Perry and defeat in World War II The Making of Modern Japan charts these changes the social engineering begun with the founding of the shogunate in 1600 the emergence of village and castle towns with consumer populations and the diffusion of samurai values in the culture Marius Jansen covers the making of the modern state the adaptation of Western models growing international trade the broadening opportunity in Japanese society with industrialization and the postwar occupation reforms imposed by General MacArthur Throughout the book gives voice to the individuals and views that have shaped the actions and beliefs of the Japanese with writers artists and thinkers as well as political leaders given their due The story this book tells though marked by profound changes is also one of remarkable consistency in which continuities outweigh upheavals in the development of society and successive waves of outside influence have only served to strengthen a sense of what is unique and native to Japanese experience The Making of Modern Japan takes us to the core of this experience as it illuminates one of the contemporary world's most compelling transformations

The Genealogical Construction of the Kyrgyz Republic David Gullette, 2010-10-29 This book explores the conceptions of genealogy kinship and tribalism in the intertwined construction of personhood and national identity in the Kyrgyz Republic It makes an important contribution to several theoretical and regional debates First it engages with broader anthropological literature Genealogy a central theme of the work is explored not only as an analysis of relationships but also as a methodological tool through which to examine society Second the book contributes to theories of kinship and the state Research provides detailed accounts of Soviet and post Soviet transformations and their influence on people's everyday lives Third the book fills a gap in Central

Inner Asian literature by focusing on social relations during a period of political upheaval      Making Women's Histories Pamela Susan Nadell, Kate Haulman, 2013-01-01 Making Women's Histories showcases the transformations that the intellectual and political production of women's history has engendered across time and space. It considers the difference women's and gender history has made to and within national fields of study and to what extent the wider historiography has integrated this new knowledge. What are the accomplishments of women's and gender history? What are its shortcomings? What is its future? The contributors discuss their discovery of women's histories, the multiple turns the field has taken and how place affected the course of this scholarship. Noted scholars of women's and gender history stand atop such historiographically defined vantage points as Tsarist Russia, the British Empire in Egypt and India, Qing dynasty China, and the U.S. roiling through the 1960s. From these and other peaks they gaze out at the world around them, surveying trajectories in the creation of women's histories in recent and distant pasts and envisioning their futures.
