Strategic Reassurance and Resolve James Steinberg,Michael E. O'Hanlon,2015-08-25 How the United States and China can avoid future conflict and establish stable cooperative relations After forty years of largely cooperative Sino U S relations policymakers politicians and pundits on both sides of the Pacific see growing tensions between the United States and China Some go so far as to predict a future of conflict driven by the inevitable rivalry between an established and a rising power and urge their leaders to prepare now for a future showdown Others argue that the deep economic interdependence between the two countries and the many areas of shared interests will lead to more collaborative relations in the coming decades In this book James Steinberg and Michael O Hanlon stake out a third less deterministic position They argue that there are powerful domestic and international factors especially in the military and security realms that could well push the bilateral relationship toward an arms race and confrontation even though both sides will be far worse off if such a future comes to pass They contend that this pessimistic scenario can be confidently avoided only if China and the United States adopt deliberate policies designed to address the security dilemma that besets the relationship between a rising and an established power The authors propose a set of policy proposals to achieve a sustainable relatively cooperative relationship between the two nations based on the concept of providing mutual strategic reassurance in such key areas as nuclear weapons and missile defense space and cyber operations and military basing and deployments while also demonstrating strategic resolve to protect vital national interests including in the case of the United States its commitments to regional allies

Higher Education and International Capacity Building David Stephens, 2009-05-11 For the past 25 years UK Higher Education institutions have forged research and teaching partnerships with their counterparts overseas Many of these links were funded by the British Government and managed by the British Council's Higher Education Links Scheme This book takes an informed and critical look at issues and trends in global higher education over the past twenty five years with an in depth and often personal account of how these links were managed and led Ten experts representing a variety of disciplines from areas such as conserving the natural environment the promotion of human rights and education and gender present an insider's view of their link reflecting upon the successes and challenges in promoting research developing institutional capacity at home and abroad and the lessons they have learned This book will be of particular interest to those working in higher education and international development generally as well as students researchers and professionals engaged in bilateral and multi lateral development assistance programmes
