Cosmetics Marketing Strategy in the Era of the Digital Ecosystem Young Won Park, Paul Hong, 2024-10-01 This book explores how cosmetics firms have made the transition to technology enabled beauty companies to meet changing customer demands For this purpose the contexts of cosmetics industry growth and digital marketing strategy in the post pandemic world are presented here The digital marketing strategies of Japanese and Korean firms are shown along with new business models and future prospects in cosmetics industries In the post pandemic world the growing middle class will set priorities for beauty hygienic goals nutritional choices and healthcare development needs The growth rates of Asian economies were slowed during the COVID 19 pandemic yet their growth opportunities were not constrained. Diverse industries, the cosmetics industry in particular, have addressed the needs of these growing segments in Asia. In keeping up with the leading business trends, cosmetics firms also have leveraged big data and built their brand partnerships across industries, applying the Internet of Things (IoT) and artificial intelligence for their product and process development. The vast amounts of big data gathered through IoT devices are now being used to improve entire value chain operations, creating a digital thread through the global value chain. These data are increasingly used to create new services and develop a business model for global firms. As of 2021, four of the top ten global cosmetics firms are from the USA: Estée Lauder, Procter & Gamble, Coty, and Johnson & Johnson; three are from Europe: L'Oréal, Unilever, and Beiersdorf; two from Japan: Shiseido and Kao; and one from Korea: Amore Pacific. The USA and European firms still maintain their competitive advantage in the cosmetics industry. Global cosmetics market share by region shows that North America is the largest (35%), followed by Europe (26%) and Latin America (7%). Asia (22%) and Africa and other regions (10%) follow. With the rapid increase of the middle class in the Asia region, more sales are expected there than anywhere else. In this dynamic market environment, a real challenge for the cosmetics industry is how to develop and put into practice its own unique business model. Transgenerational Marketing

Rajagopal, 2019-11-20. This book critically examines the evolution of marketing scholarship over generations from Marketing 1.0 to 4.0. It argues that most firms look to gain competitive advantage in the marketplace by driving tactical moves, inculcating small, cost-effective changes in marketing approaches. Often, strategic choices of companies lean towards developing competitive differentiations that enable consumers to realize the value of money, causing loyalty shifts in the competitive marketplace. The book focuses on the consumer as the pivot of marketing and argues that the consumer serves as a bidirectional channel during pre and post purchase periods. It explains how consumer affections, sentimentally and emotionally, help in growing the brands and companies over generations. This book significantly contributes to the existing literature and serves as a learning post and a think tank for students, researchers, and business managers. AI Marketing and Ethical Considerations in Consumer Engagement J. Nair, Arjun, Manohar, Sridhar, Mittal, Amit, Patwa, Nitin, 2025-05-07. As artificial intelligence (AI) transforms the landscape of marketing, it brings both unprecedented opportunities and complex ethical challenges. AI-driven tools enable businesses to personalize consumer engagement at higher levels, offering tailored experiences that increase customer satisfaction and drive sales. However, these advancements also raise ethical concerns regarding privacy, data usage, and the potential for manipulation. Marketers must navigate this balance between leveraging AI for business growth and ensuring they respect consumer rights, transparency, and trust. This intersection of innovation and ethics requires further exploration of how AI should be applied in consumer engagement strategies. AI Marketing and Ethical Considerations in Consumer Engagement examines the use of AI in business marketing practices. It explores ethical issues in consumer science that might influence the successful integration of AI in organizational processes. This book covers topics such as ethics and law data privacy and sustainability and is a useful resource for business owners computer engineers marketing professionals academicians researchers and data scientists
