Consumer Behavior over the Life Course George P.

Moschis, 2019-01-31 This book examines consumer behavior using the life course paradigm a multidisciplinary framework for studying people's lives structural contexts and social change It contributes to marketing research by providing new insights into the study of consumer behavior and illustrating how to apply the life course paradigm's concepts and theoretical perspectives to study consumer topics in an innovative way Although a growing number of marketing researchers either implicitly or explicitly subscribe to life course perspectives for studying a variety of consumer behaviors their efforts have been limited due to a lack of theories and methods that would help them study consumers over the lifecycle When studying consumers over their lifespan researchers examine differences in the consumer behaviors of various age groups e.g. children baby boomers elderly etc or family life stages e.g. bachelors full nesters empty nesters etc inferring that consumer behavior changes over time or linking consumption behaviors to previous experiences and future expectations Such efforts however have yet to benefit from an interdisciplinary research approach This book fills this gap in consumer research by informing readers about the differences between some of the most commonly used models for studying consumers over their lifespan and the life course paradigm and providing implications for research public policy and marketing practice Presenting applications of the life course approach in such research topics as decision making maladaptive behaviors e.g. compulsive buying binge eating consumer well being and cognitive decline this book is beneficial for students scholars professors practitioners and policy makers in consumer behavior consumer research consumer psychology and marketing research

Advertising Theory Shelly Rodgers, Esther Thorson, 2019-04-15 Advertising Theory provides detailed and current explorations of key theories in the advertising discipline The volume gives a working knowledge of the primary theoretical approaches of advertising offering a comprehensive synthesis of the vast literature in the area Editors Shelly Rodgers and Esther Thorson have developed this volume as a forum in which to compare contrast and evaluate advertising theories in a comprehensive and structured presentation With new chapters on forms of advertising theories and concepts and an emphasis on the role of new technology this new edition is uniquely positioned to provide detailed overviews of advertising theory Utilizing McGuire's persuasion matrix as the structural model for each chapter the text offers a wider lens through which to view the phenomenon of advertising as it operates within various environments Within each area of advertising theory and across advertising contexts both traditional and non traditional approaches are addressed including electronic word of mouth advertising user generated advertising and social media advertising contexts This new edition includes a balance of theory and practice that will help provide a working knowledge of the primary theoretical approaches and will help readers synthesize the vast literature on advertising with the in depth understanding of practical case studies and examples within every chapter It also looks at mobile advertising in a broader context beyond the classroom and explores new areas such as native advertising political advertising mobile advertising and digital video gaming Children, Childhood, and Everyday Life Mariane Hedegaard, Karin Aronsson, Charlotte Højholt, Oddbjørg Skjær Ulvik, 2018-02-01 Traditional work on child development is often based on notions of an individual and decontextualized child This volume involves a contribution to the rethinking of development it presents a number of situated studies where children's perspectives are documented through their interaction with others in situated practices in family life and school and across social contexts This volume offers a toolkit for analyzing children's perspectives and participation over time In prior work the interview has often been seen as the cardinal method or the only method for studying children's perspectives This anthology includes vignettes and case studies with descriptions of children's actions in situated activity settings as well as illustrative transcripts from video recorded social interaction It opens up toward a broader view of development in that it documents how children's and youths' perspectives and agency can be studied through their ways of interacting or not interacting in everyday life. One aspect of this is their verbal and nonverbal participation in family life and the social landscape of schools. Another feature is that it involves several chapters that problematize impaired practices and dilemmas in the teaching of children with dysfunctions. The book as a whole is rich in empirical ethnographic examples that highlight life trajectories in and across social contexts. Moreover, it features interview data and narratives that include children's and youths' own reflections on their lives and experiences of the social demands of family and school. This includes their own thoughts on being or becoming members of local communities.

Marketing for Attorneys and Law Firms William Winston, 2013-04-15. Marketing for Attorneys and Law Firms presents timely topics which are well researched and written by a fine array of authors from around the country. As attorneys are becoming more interested in marketing and how it can benefit their practices, this book is an important tool. It aids attorneys as they evaluate and improve old marketing strategies and create new marketing strategies where such advertising was neglected. It is an ideal readings text for today's attorney and legal consultants who wish to obtain a better insight into select aspects of marketing the law firm. This is the only readings book that focuses on these areas: applications of marketing planning; attorney selection by consumers; and client and provider attitudes toward legal services. Part Two thoroughly examines various aspects of how clients select and evaluate the performance of legal services. Today's attorneys must first fully understand what their clients perceive about their services before jumping into marketing their services. This section provides insight that most attorneys would normally not investigate and lays the groundwork for the development of marketing programs. Part Three addresses the wide use of legal advertising and again provides insight into what clients and attorneys think and perceive about various forms of advertising the law firm. This provides a base from which attorneys who are planning to advertise may be able to prevent failure and promote a greater level of success for the advertising program. Applied mainly to private legal practices and clinics, some of the specific topics covered in the three sections include: consumers' perceptions of attorneys and legal advertising; attorneys' perceptions of marketing and advertising; perceived risk in selecting an attorney; and how consumers actually select attorneys. Customer service attributes for attorneys; measuring the effectiveness of legal advertising; market planning and strategies for today's legal practice; promoting the legal practice; and developing referral and networking systems in legal practice. For attorneys in private practice, law firm libraries, and administrators, law professors who specialize in practice development, consultants who concentrate in legal practice marketing, law school libraries, and marketing professors and consultants who teach or consult in the professional service sectors should read this invaluable reference book.

Consumer Behavior Senay Sabah, 2017-11-21. No time in the history of consumption is considered to be as important as in today's world. It defines who we are, how well we perform our multi-roles within the society, buying the most expensive clothes means being the best mom, for instance, what symbolic meanings we attribute to our belongings, and how rich, clever, fashionable, conscious, or innovative we are Due to multidisciplinary and multimethod character of the concept of consumer behavior it is appropriate to study it accordingly in order to understand the subject with its different aspects and holistically Especially with the cultural social and technological changes within today s world this issue becomes prominent This book is a modest try for that end

Ethics and the politics of food Matthias Kaiser, Marianne Elisabeth Lien, 2023-08-28 Food has emerged as a political topic par excellence It is increasingly involved in controversies at a transnational level in relation to issues of access dominance trade and control in a shared global environment At the same time innovations in biotechnology and animal domestication have brought ethics to the forefront of food debates Thus we live in an era when the ethics and the politics of food must come together This book addresses the ethics and the politics of food from a broad range of academic disciplines including sociology philosophy nutrition anthropology ethics political science and history The chapters expose novel problem areas and suggest guidelines for approaching them Topics range from fundamental issues in philosophy to sustainability from consumer trust in food to ethical toolkits Transparency power and responsibility are key concerns and special attention is given to animal welfare emerging technologies in food production and marine domestication Together the chapters represent a wide range of academic responses to the fundamental dilemmas posed by food production and food consumption in the contemporary world
