We Live By Carl Hausman, 2014-06-23 It's a sad truth that lies are becoming a part of everyday life. From pre-approved credit card mailings to college admission claims to presidential press conferences, the American public is being spun, deceived, and misinformed at a dizzying rate and on a daily basis. Why is this? And what can we do about it? In this lively but serious examination of the way lies are infiltrating world media, expert Carl Hausman takes a hard look at the business of deception, an industry that is growing at an alarming rate. Uncovering the roots of misinformation in American business and politics, he reveals the way words, numbers, and images are intentionally distorted for public consumption by some of this country's major industries, including tobacco companies, airlines, financial institutions, public relations firms, and even medical practices and universities. He offers outrageous examples of some of the more egregious assaults on the public trust. Showing readers how to spot potentially false claims, he offers advice about what we can do to stop them, with an annotated list of publications, individuals, and organizations dedicated to preventing the spread of misleading information. Whether it is paragraph length footnotes, microscopic print, or tortured statistics, the amount of propaganda being passed off as fact is both alarming and dangerous. Lies We Live By shows what to look for behind the double talk, but most importantly, it offers ways to fight back.

Consumer Economics: A Practical Overview Steven Dale Soderlind, 2016-09-16 This work focuses on the service economy; it introduces the fundamentals of markets, consumer choice, financial assessment, risk avoidance, and other topics. News in a New Century Jerry Lanson, Barbara Croll Fought, 1999-01-14 This comprehensive book provides a wealth of exercises and assignments for teaching students reporting skills, combining successful, tried and tested techniques with an awareness of new realities and technologies in broadcast and print. The authors take the student through a writing process initiated by ideas rather than concepts of correct writing, covering writing in different media, including the Internet, news beats, sensitivity, and the diverse national community, law, and ethics, and new research skills, including databases and computer-assisted reporting.
