Consuming Culture The Arts Of The French Table:

Consuming Culture John West-Sooby, 2004 This volume deals predominantly with literary representations of eating and drinking past and present and covers topics ranging from gastronomy to anorexia from sobriety to ebriety and from overt to covert food practices All the literary genres are represented

The Art of the Text Susan R Harrow, 2013-09-15 The Art of the Text contributes to the fast developing dialogue between textual studies and visual culture studies It focuses on the processes through which writers think and readers respond visually and in essays by researchers in literature screen and visual studies the volume explores the viscosity of the literary and non literary text with a sustained focus on French material of the later nineteenth and twentieth centuries Visuality is appraised here not as a state but as a set of processes of adaptation resistance negotiation and transformation By reading visually the contributors here reactivate the visual textual relations of canonical texts from Romanticism to Naturalism Surrealism to high Modernism from film to fan literature television to picture language

Tasting French Terroir Thomas Parker, 2015-05 This book explores the origins and significance of the French concept of terroir demonstrating that the way the French eat their food and drink their wine today derives from a cultural mythology that developed between the Renaissance and the Revolution Through close readings and an examination of little known texts from diverse disciplines Thomas Parker traces terroir's evolution providing insight into how gastronomic mores were linked to aesthetics in language horticulture and painting and how the French used the power of place to define the natural world explain comportment and frame France as a nation

Gut Feeling and Digestive Health in Nineteenth-Century Literature, History and Culture Manon Mathias, Alison M. Moore, 2018-11-17 This book considers the historical and cultural origins of the gut brain relationship now evidenced in numerous scientific research fields Bringing together eleven scholars with wide interdisciplinary expertise the volume examines literal and metaphorical digestion in different spheres of nineteenth century life Digestive health is examined in three sections in relation to science politics and literature during the period focusing on Northern America Europe and Australia Using diverse methodologies the essays demonstrate that the long nineteenth century was an important moment in the Western understanding and perception of the gastroenterological system and its relation to the mind in the sense of cognition mental wellbeing and the emotions This collection explores how medical breakthroughs are often historically preceded by intuitive models imagined throughout a range of cultural productions

Jules Verne Timothy A. Unwin, 2005-01-01 Jules Verne's reputation undergoes a much needed rehabilitation in the hands of Timothy Unwin who reexamines the author's work from his earliest writings to his later and only recently discovered manuscripts Verne was Unwin argues a master of the self conscious novel his work a pastiche of science discourse fictional and non fictional writings and flamboyant theatrical narrative Unwin makes a compelling case for Verne as a master of the nineteenth century experimental novel in the company of Gustave Flaubert and other canonical French writers The text will be a wonderful addition to the shelves of those interested in science fiction experimental writing and critical theory

Foods of Association Nina Lilian Etkin, 2009 We should look for someone to eat and drink with before looking for something to eat and drink Epicurus This fascinating book examines the biology and culture of foods and beverages that are consumed in communal settings with special attention to their health implications Nina Etkin covers a wealth of topics exploring human evolutionary history the Slow Food movement ritual and ceremonial foods caffeinated beverages spices the street foods of Hawaii and northern Nigeria and even bottled water Her work is framed by a biocultural perspective that considers both the physiological implications of consumption and the cultural construction and circulation of foods For Etkin the foods and beverages we consume are simultaneously biodynamic substances and cultural objects The book begins with a look at the social eating habits of our primate relatives and discusses our evolutionary adaptations It then offers a history of social foods in the era of European expansion with a focus on spices and caffeinated cordials Of course there were some powerful physiological consequences of eating foods brought home by returning explorers and those are considered too along with consequences for native peoples From there the book describes street food which is always served in communal settings Etkin then scrutinizes ceremonial foods and beverages and considers their pharmacological effects as well Her extensive examination concludes by assessing the biological and cultural implications of bottled water While intended primarily for scholars this enticing book serves up a tantalizing smorgasbord of food for thought

The Aesthetic Body Erec R. Koch, 2008 Those two developments converge to construct an aesthetic body that is in its full etymological sense a body whose principal functions are the production of sensation and affectivity This study examines the importance of the body in the determination of sensibility and passion in French culture of the seventeenth century The Aesthetic Body will engage readers with interests in literature philosophy the history of ideas the history of science and medicine cultural history and political theory of the French early modern period Jacket

Changing France Anne Green, 2013-12-01 The French Second Empire 1852-70 was a time of exceptionally rapid social industrial and technological change French literature also underwent fundamental changes during this period as writers embraced modernity and incorporated new technologies fashions and inventions into their work Focusing on cultural areas such as exhibitions transport food dress and photography Changing France shows how apparently trivial aspects of modern life provided Second Empire writers with a versatile means of thinking about deeper issues This volume brings literature and material culture together to reveal how writing itself changed as writers recognised the extraordinarily rich possibilities of expression opened up to them by the changing material world

Models of Women in Sixteenth-century French Literature Pollie Bromilow, 2007 This book offers a feminist critique of the so called crisis of exemplarity in late Renaissance texts by comparing and contrasting examples proposed to female readers in two collections of sixteenth century French short stories Pierre Boaistuau's Histoires tragiques and Marguerite de Navarre's Heptameron The author proposes that female exemplarity has its own poetics and cannot be considered simply as identical or symmetrical to male exemplarity What emerges in the course of the study is an understanding of the different ways in which exemplarity enters the life of the female reader through history truth invention memory and strangeness

France and the Americas Bill Marshall, 2005-05-24 A unique multidisciplinary encyclopedia covering the impacts that French and American politics foreign policy and culture have had on shaping each country's identity From 17th century fur traders in Canada to 21st century peacekeepers in Haiti from France's decisive role in the Revolutionary War leading to the creation of the United States to recent disagreements over Iraq France and the Americas charts the history of the inextricable links between France and the nations of the Americas This comprehensive survey features an incisive introduction and a chronology of key events spanning 400 years of France's transatlantic relations Students of many disciplines as well as the lay reader will appreciate this comprehensive survey which traces the common themes of both French policy language and influence throughout the Americas and the wide ranging transatlantic influences on contemporary France

Fashion beyond Versailles Donna J. Bohanan, 2012-06-04 As the epicenters of style and innovation the cities of Paris and Versailles dominate studies of consumerism in seventeenth century France but little scholarship exists on the material culture fashion and consumption patterns in the provinces Donna J Bohanan's Fashion beyond Versailles fills this historiographical gap by examining the household inventories of French nobles and elites in the southern province of Dauphin Much more than a simple study of the decorative arts Fashion beyond Versailles investigates the meaning of material ownership By examining postmortem registries and archival publications Bohanan reveals the social imperatives local politics and high fashion trends that spurred the consumption patterns of provincial communities In doing so she reveals a closer relationship between consumer behavior of Versailles and the provinces than most historians have maintained Far reaching in its sociological and psychological implications Fashion beyond Versailles both makes use of and contributes to the burgeoning literature on material culture fashion and consumption

Historical Dictionary of France Gino Raymond, 2008-10-23 From the construction of Notre Dame and the Eiffel Tower to the Fall of the Bastille and the Declaration of the Rights of Man and the Citizen to Napoleon Bonaparte's defeat at Waterloo to Albert Camus L'Etranger and the existentialism of Jean Paul Sartre France has been a part of some of the greatest and most memorable events in human history Author Gino Raymond relates the history of these events in the second edition of the Historical Dictionary of France Through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on kings politicians authors architects composers artists and philosophers a thorough history of France is presented

Culture Wars and Literature in the French Third Republic Gilbert D. Chaitin, 2009-03-26 The articles assembled in Culture Wars and Literature in the French Third Republic describe and analyze the ever widening attempts in the early years of the Third Republic 1870-1914 to mobilize literary phenomena for the purposes of political and social warfare Literature became the preferred site in which the human implications of the fiercest and most widespread of these culture wars the battles over national identity waged between proponents of secular and religious education were articulated dramatized and appraised In studies of Erckmann Chatrian and Vall s Rachilde and Colette the Goncourt brothers and Marcelle Tinayre La Fontaine and Corneille the song writer Jules Jouy and the theater critic Francisque Sarcey among others some of these essays open up new perspectives on well known issues such as education the definition of national classics Boulangism and women s liberation while others bring to light hitherto unsuspected connections between apparently disparate problems like decadence anarchism and feminism the mystery of literariness and the ban on Muslim headscarves or the posthumous publication of private letters and the State s interest in cultural and literary heroes The final piece crystallizes the fundamental conflict of democratization the tension between the republican desire for popular participation and the fear of the consequences of that participation by an uncultured public Space, Images, and Art Perception in Napoleonic Paris Camilla Murgia, 2025-10-01

This book examines the impact of space on the perception of art and visual culture in early nineteenth century Paris It turns its attention to the way in which space determines the understanding and the development of visual culture The abundance of images their status and their employment alike offer a means to grasp the extent of the development of an approach to art which further involved the spectator Space is here conceived as a multifaceted entity spanning architectural scholarly artistic and visual dimensions These various aspects offer means to consider the way in which images work and are consumed and the individual experience they represent Space works as a link and a connecting tool between different intellectual and visual categories and this study examines how this interaction applies to works of art as well as everyday objects The New book will be of interest to scholars interested in culture marketing and consumer behaviour as well as managers of museums science centres and other cultural institutions From Gluttony to Enlightenment Viktoria von Hoffmann, 2016-12-08

Scorned since antiquity as low and animal the sense of taste is celebrated today as an ally of joy a source of adventure and an arena for pursuing sophistication The French exalted taste as an entrance to ecstasy and revolutionized their cuisine and language to express this new way of engaging with the world Viktoria von Hoffmann explores four kinds of early modern texts culinary medical religious and philosophical to follow taste's ascent from the sinful to the beautiful Combining food studies and sensory history she takes readers on an odyssey that redefined a fundamental human experience Scholars and cooks rediscovered a vast array of ways to prepare and present foods Far sailing fleets returned to Europe bursting with new vegetables exotic fruits and pungent spices Hosts refined notions of hospitality in the home while philosophers pondered the body and its perceptions As von Hoffmann shows these labors produced a sea change in perception and thought one that moved taste from the base realm of the tongue to the ethereal heights of aesthetics Cultural Consumption, Classification and Power Alan Warde, 2013-10-18

When social scientists in the 1970s began to identify the positive and constructive role of cultural practices in the operation of power Pierre Bourdieu advanced a highly influential and subsequently controversial account Most notably in Distinction he charted the connections between cultural taste and practice and social classification This book seeks to evaluate develop and transcend the ideas that Bourdieu explored in Distinction Taken together the papers compare and contrast different theoretical and conceptual approaches bring empirical investigations to bear on relevant theoretical issues drawing on different national experiences France UK Canada Central Africa and attend to aspects of the relationship between culture and power with reference to gender and ethnicity as well as class Thus the book contributes to the on going international debates across the social sciences about Bourdieu's legacy and the current role of cultural practice in social reproduction
