Consuming Passions A History Of English Food And Appetite:

Consuming Passions Philippa Pullar,1977 A History of Cooks and Cooking Michael Symons,2004 Never has there been so little need to cook Yet Michael Symons maintains that to be truly human we need to become better cooks practical and generous sharers of food Fueled by James Boswell s definition of humans as cooking animals for no beast can cook Symons sets out to explore the civilizing role of cooks in history His wanderings take us to the clay ovens of the prehistoric eastern Mediterranean and the bronze cauldrons of ancient China to fabulous banquets in the temples and courts of Mesopotamia Egypt and Persia to medieval English cookshops and southeast Asian street markets to palace kitchens diners and modern fast food eateries Symons samples conceptions and perceptions of cooks and cooking from Plato and Descartes to Marx and Virginia Woolf asking why cooks despite their vital and central role in sustaining life have remained in the shadows unheralded unregarded and underappreciated People think of meals as occasions where you share food he notes they rarely think of cooks as sharers of food Considering such notions as the physical and political consequences of sauce connections between food and love and cooking as a regulator of clock and calendar Symons provides a spirited and diverting defense of a cook centered view of the world Mrs Beeton's Book of Household Management Isabella Beeton,2008-06-12 Alternately fashionable and frugal anxious and self confident this text highlights the concerns of the Victorian middle class at a key point in its history The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott,Warren Belasco,Peter Jackson,2013-10-10 This handbook is essential reference for scholars needing a comprehensive overview into research on the social political economic psychological geographical and historical aspects of food Consuming Passions and Patterns of Consumption Preston T. Miracle,Nicki Milner,Nicky Milner,2002 This volume outlines and illustrates the importance of considering social contexts of food consumption in interpretations of past and present human societies giving a new twist to the old adage You are what you eat What we eat how we eat are and always have been fundamental to the structuring of social life both in the past and in the present The remains of food are also among the most common archaeological finds The papers in this volume explore and develop ways of using food to write social history they move beyond taphonomic and economic properties of subsistence resources to examine the social background and cultural contexts of food preparation and consumption Contributions break new ground in method and interpretation in case studies spanning the Palaeolithic to the Present and from the Amazon to the Arctic This volume will thus be essential reading for all archaeologists anthropologists and social historians interested in the prehistory and history of food consumption Aroma Constance Classen,David Howes,Anthony Synnott,2002-11-01 Smell is a social phenomenon given particular meanings and values by different cultures Odours form the building blocks of cosmologies class hierarchies and political odours They can enforce social structures or transgress them unite people or divide them empower or disempower The authors argue that the sociology of smell is repressed in the modern West and its social history ignored This book breaks the olfactory silence of modernity It offers the first comprehensive exploration of the cultural role of odours in Western history from antiquity to the present It also covers a wide variety of non Western societies Its topics range from the medieval concept of the odour of sanctity to the aromatherapies of South America and from olfactory stereotypes of gender and ethnicity in the modern West to the role of smell in postmodernity Its subject matter will fascinate anyone who likes to nose around in the inner workings of culture The Viandier of Taillevent Taillevent,1988 The Viandier is the most important early recipe collection of mediaeval France Written in the fourteenth century by Guillaume Tirel alias Taillevent the chief cook of King Charles V of France it is the starting point of many culinary traditions and practices that remain at the base of modern French haute cuisine This volume is the first to present all four extant manuscripts of the Viandier arranged in parallel for easy comparison The texts of the 220 recipes are in the original French but a complete English translation is provided Of particular interest are the differences between the four manuscripts which represent more than a century of modifications in gastronomic tastes and culinary practices in French seigneurial life The commentary and notes that accompany the texts trace the significance of these modifications and indicate the influence the Viandier exercised on more recent cookery books throughout Europe This critical edition also includes a glossary and a bibliography In addition selected recipes have been adapted with minimal modifications for modern use and arranged in a menu for six people Page 4 of cover Handbook of Treatment for Eating Disorders David M. Garner,Paul E. Garfinkel,1997-04-18 Updated to reflect recent DSM categorizations this edition includes coverage of binge eating disorder and examines pharmacological as well as psychotherapeutic approaches to treating eating disorders Elizabeth: Renaissance Prince Lisa Hilton,2015-11-10 This surprising portrait of the Tudor queen offers an ambitious re examination of the intersection of gender and monarchy The New York Times Book Review Queen Elizabeth I was all too happy to play on courtly conventions of gender when it suited her weak and feeble woman s body to do so for political gain But in Elizabeth historian Lisa Hilton offers ample evidence why those famous words should not be taken at face value With new research out of France Italy Russia and Turkey Hilton s fresh interpretation is of a queen who saw herself primarily as a Renaissance prince an expert in Machiavellian statecraft Elizabeth depicts a sovereign less constrained by her femininity than most accounts claim challenging readers to reassess Elizabeth s reign and the colorful drama and intrigue to which it is always linked It s a fascinating journey that shows how a marginalized newly crowned monarch whose European contemporaries considered her to be the illegitimate ruler of a pariah nation ultimately adapted to become England s first recognizably modern head of state Food in Motion Alan Davidson,1983 Samuel Richardson Carol Houlihan Flynn,2014-07-14 Adding a lively voice to Richardsonian studies Carol Houlihan Flynn traces the complex workings of a major literary imagination Originally published in 1982 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Aguecheek's Beef, Belch's Hiccup, and Other Gastronomic Interjections Robert Appelbaum, 2008-09-15 We didn't always eat the way we do today or think and feel about eating as we now do. But we can trace the roots of our own eating culture back to the culinary world of early modern Europe which invented cutlery, haute cuisine, the weight loss diet and much else besides. Aguecheek's Beef, Belch's Hiccup tells the story of how early modern Europeans put food into words and words into food and created an experience all their own. Named after characters in Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, this lively study draws on sources ranging from cookbooks to comic novels and examines both the highest ideals of culinary culture and its most grotesque, ridiculous and pathetic expressions. Robert Appelbaum paints a vivid picture of a world in which food was many things: from a symbol of prestige and sociability to a cause for religious and economic struggle, but always represented the primacy of materiality in life. Peppered with illustrations and a handful of recipes, Aguecheek's Beef, Belch's Hiccup will appeal to anyone interested in early modern literature or the history of food.

The Challenge of Affluence Avner Offer, 2006-03-09 Since the 1940s, Americans and Britons have experienced rising material abundance but also a range of social and personal disorders including family breakdown, obesity and addiction. Drawing on the latest cognitive research, Avner Offer presents a detailed and reasoned critique of the modern consumer society.

Food and Language Richard Hosking, 2010 Essays on food and language from the Proceedings of the Oxford Symposium on Food and Cooking 2009

Instructional Writing in English Matti Peikola, Janne Skaffari, Sanna-Kaisa Tanskanen, 2009 The history of English writing is to a considerable extent the history of instructional writing in English. This volume is the first collection of papers to focus on instructional writing throughout the history of the language. Spanning a millennium of English texts, the materials studied represent procedural and behavioural discourse in a variety of genres. The primary texts, from Ælfric's homilies to medieval cooking recipes to seventeenth-century American conduct literature to present-day language textbooks, display a variety of linguistic devices typical of instruction. The materials nonetheless differ with respect to the explicitness of their instructive purpose. Bringing together a broad range of instructional writing from the Old Middle and Modern English periods, this collection celebrates the sixtieth birthday of Risto Hiltunen, who has successfully combined discourse linguistic approaches with the history of English in his research and inspired the colleagues and former students contributing to this volume.

Domesticating the Airwaves Maggie Andrews, 2012-02-02 An exploration of how the domestic reception of broadcasting shaped the medium from the 1920s to the present day.

Authenticity in the Kitchen Richard Hosking, 2006 The Oxford Symposium on Food and Cookery is a premier English conference on this topic. The subjects range from the food of medieval English and Spanish Jews, wild boar in Europe, the identity of liquamen and other Roman sauces, the production of vinegar in the Philippines, the nature of Indian restaurant food and food in 19th-century Amsterdam.

Meat Nick Fiddes, 2004-01-14 This book is a broad-ranging and provocative study of the human passion for meat It will intrigue anyone who has ever wondered why meat is important to us why we eat some animals but not others why vegetarianism is increasing why we aren't cannibals and how meat is associated with environmental destruction Taste Kate Colquhoun, 2012-05-01 From the Iron Age to the Industrial Revolution the Romans to the Regency few things have mirrored society or been affected by its upheavals as much as the food we eat and the way we prepare it In this involving history of the British people Kate Colquhoun celebrates every aspect of our cuisine from Anglo Saxon feasts and Tudor banquets through the skinning of eels and the invention of ice cream to Dickensian dinner party excess and the growth of frozen food Taste tells a story as rich and diverse as a five course dinner Food in the Migrant Experience Anne J. Kershen, 2017-03-02 At its most basic food is vital to our survival there can be no form of life without it But in economically developed and thriving societies there is more to eating and drinking than just surviving As the centuries have passed the marketing preparation and presentation of food has become an intrinsic part of the modern consumer society Food operates in the religious sphere too with consumption and abstinence playing their part in religious ritual whilst methods of animal slaughter have moved into the political as well as the religious arena Food not only sustains the migrant on both the real and metaphorical journey from home to elsewhere it also provides a bridge between the familiar and the unfamiliar Food acts as a catalyst for cultural fusion and excitement but it can also endanger change of diet all too frequently creating as many health problems as it resolves Its multi disciplinary nature enables Food in the Migrant Experience to address all the above issues in chapters written by leading academics in the fields of migration economics nutrition medicine and history As we continue to explore the minutiae of the immigrant experience this book will be essential reading to all those engaged in the study of migration

Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Consuming Passions A History Of English Food And Appetite : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papan, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
