Briscoe, 2004-08-11 This anthology of musical scores is a new edition of a text that has been widely used in courses in women s music James R Briscoe s New Historical Anthology compiles fifty five compositions by forty six women composers from the ancient Greeks to the present Each work is introduced by an informative essay by a specialist in the field with recommendations for further reading BOOK JACKET Cultures of Work, the Neoliberal Environment and Music in Higher Education Sally Macarthur, Julia Szuster, Paul Watt, 2024-03-29 This edited book considers the impact of neoliberalism on music teaching research and scholarship in a higher education context As a subject that bears little resemblance to other university practical disciplines and fares poorly in a model driven by economics the book considers whether musicology is a public good or a threatened species It contemplates what musicology can usefully contribute to a paradigm driven by economics and questions whether it is ever possible to recover an ideal civil subject in neoliberal music academia Contributions investigate what it means to build music research capacity in innovative ways such as forging cross cultural relationships subverting conventional notions of quality and value replacing them with knowledges and values that guide Indigenous intellectual traditions and whether interventions into the legacy of colonialism are truly ever possible in neoliberal higher education institutions that celebrate difference and diversity while reinforcing social inequities. The book also explores the relationships between gender and music music research training and scholarship. and whether the interdisciplinarity championed by the university is ever workable Finally it undertakes a cross disciplinary new materialist reading of a canonical musical work offering a radically new perspective. The book will appeal to students and scholars of music education musicology higher education studies and the creative arts more broadly Sing Music by Women Matthew Hoch, Linda Lister, 2019-03-15 So You Want to Sing Music by Women opens wide a vast repertoire of vocal music written by women to advocate for widespread inclusion of this too often neglected work in performance repertoire Hoch and Lister provide a historical and contemporary perspective chronicling the Western art music canon while also addressing contemporary trends in music theater and CCM In addition to providing a historical overview and social context in which women created music this volume explores the music of hundreds of historical and contemporary women composers such as Hildegard von Bingen Clara Schumann Lili Boulanger Cathy Berberian Erykah Badu and Sara Bareilles In addition to discussions of art song opera choral music and avant garde experimental music Erin Guinup and Amanda Wansa Morgan also contribute chapters devoted to music theater CCM and advocacy for women composers Interviews with high profile composers including Lori Laitman Rosephanye Powell Meredith Monk Georgia Stitt provide accounts from the frontlines of today s composing world Additional chapters by Scott McCoy and Wendy LeBorgne address vocal technique and health and Matthew Edwards provides guidance for working with sound technology The So You Want to Sing series produced in partnership with the National Association of Teachers of Singing Like all books in the series So You Want to Sing Music by Women features online supplemental material on the NATS website Please visit www nats org to access style specific exercises audio and video files and additional resources The Oxford Handbook of Music and Disability Studies Blake Howe, Stephanie Jensen-Moulton, Neil William Lerner, Joseph Nathan Straus, 2016 Like race gender and sexuality disability is a social and cultural construction Music musicians and music making simultaneously embody and shape representations and narratives of disability Disability culturally stigmatized minds and bodies is one of the things that music in all times and places can be said to be about Gender and Women's Leadership Karen O'Connor,2010-08-18 This work within The SAGE Reference Series on Leadership provides undergraduate students with an authoritative reference resource on leadership issues specific to women and gender Although covering historical and contemporary barriers to women s leadership and issues of gender bias and discrimination this two volume set focuses as well on positive aspects and opportunities for leadership in various domains and is centered on the 101 most important topics issues questions and debates specific to women and gender Entries provide students with more detailed information and depth of discussion than typically found in an encyclopedia entry but lack the jargon detail and density of a journal article Key Features Includes contributions from a variety of renowned experts Focuses on women and public leadership in the American context women s global leadership women as leaders in the business sector the nonprofit and social service sector religion academia public policy advocacy the media sports and the arts Addresses both the history of leadership within the realm of women and gender with examples from the lives of pivotal figures and the institutional settings and processes that lead to both opportunities and constraints unique to that realm Offers an approachable clear writing style directed at student researchers Features more depth than encyclopedia entries with most chapters ranging between 6 000 and 8 000 words while avoiding the jargon and density often found in journal articles or research handbooks Provides a list of further readings and references after each entry as well as a detailed index and an online version of the work to maximize accessibility for today s student audience Women Music Educators in the United States Sondra Wieland Howe, 2013-11-07 Although women have been teaching and performing music for centuries their stories are often missing from traditional accounts of the history of music education In Women Music Educators in the United States A History Sondra Wieland Howe provides a comprehensive narrative of women teaching music in the United States from colonial days until the end of the twentieth century Defining music education broadly to include home community and institutional settings Howe draws on sources from musicology the history of education and social history to offer a new perspective on the topic In colonial America women sang in church choirs and taught their children at home In the first half of the nineteenth century women published hymns taught in academies and rural schoolhouses and held church positions After the Civil War women taught piano and voice went to college taught in public schools and became involved in national music organizations With the expansion of public schools in the first half of the twentieth century women supervised public school music programs published textbooks and served as officers of national organizations They taught in settlement houses and teacher training institutions developed music appreciation programs and organized women s symphony orchestras After World War II women continued their involvement in public school choral and instrumental music developed new methodologies conducted research and published in academia Howe s study traces this evolution in the roles played by women educators in the American music education system illuminating an area of research that has been ignored far too long Women Music Educators in the United States A History complements current histories of music education and supports undergraduate and graduate courses in the history of music music education American education and women s studies It will interest not only musicologists educational historians and scholars of women's studies but music educators teaching in public and private schools and independent music teachers

Musicworks ,2002 Women Composers and Music Technology in the United States Elizabeth Hinkle-Turner,2006 This book is the most definitive attempt to date to discuss the achievements of women as composers of experimental and avant garde music from the 1930s to the present day Using a wealth of primary material it also explores currently relevant issues in gender and technology Drawing out the relationships between composers and their working environments and between teachers and students Elizabeth Hinkle Turner discusses the contribution of women composers to electroacoustic music The book includes a bibliography and discography covering the work of ninety composers

Transforming the Disciplines Renee P Prys, Mary Jane Cherry, Susan Popham, Elizabeth L Macnabb, 2013-10-31 A jargon free non technical and easily accessible introduction to women s studies All too many students enter academia with the hazy idea that the field of women's studies is restricted to housework birth control and Susan B Anthony Their first encounter with a women's studies textbook is likely to focus on the history and sociology of women's lives While these topics are important the emphasis on them has led to neglect of equally important issues Transforming the Disciplines A Women's Studies Primer is one of the first women s studies textbooks to show feminist scholarship as an active force changing the way we study such diverse fields as architecture bioethics history mathematics religion and sports studies Although this text was designed as an introduction to women s studies it is also rewarding for upper level or graduate students who want to understand the pervasive effects of feminist theory Most chapters provide a bibliography or list of further reading of significant works Its clear jargon free prose makes feminist thought accessible to general readers without sacrificing the revolutionary power of its ideas In almost thirty essays covering a broad range of subjects from anthropology to chemistry to rhetoric Transforming the Disciplines exemplifies the changes achieved by feminist thought Transforming the Disciplines combines a high standard of writing and scholarship with personal insight includes both traditional academic arguments and alternative non agonistic forms of discussion embraces an international scope challenges traditional assumptions models and methodologies offers an inter and multidisciplinary approach strengthens readers understanding of the big picture not only for women but for all disempowered groups critiques feminism as well as patriarchal society Feminist theory is grounded in a questioning of traditional assumptions about what is right natural and self evident not just about the roles and nature of men and women but about how we think what we teach whose experience matters and what is important Transforming the Disciplines is the first textbook to show the consequences of those questions not the answers themselves but the consequences of the willingness to ask and the transformations that have occurred when the right answers changed Rethinking Debussy Elliott Antokoletz, Marianne Wheeldon, 2011 This text draws together separate areas of Debussy research into perspective to reveal the significance of the composer's music and thought in relation to the broader cultural intellectual and artistic issues of the 20th century
