Rethinking Character in Contemporary British Theatre Cristina Delgado-García, 2015-11-13 The category of theatrical character has been swiftly dismissed in the academic reception of no longer dramatic texts and performances However claims on the dissolution of character narrowly demarcate what a subject is and how it may appear This volume unmoors theatre scholarship from the regulatory ideals of liberal humanism stretching the notion of character to encompass and illuminate otherwise unaccounted for subjects aesthetic strategies and political gestures in recent theatre works To this aim contemporary philosophical theories of subjectivation European theatre studies and experimental script led work produced in Britain since the late 1990s are mobilised as discussants on the question of subjectivity Four contemporary playtexts and their performances are examined in depth Sarah Kane's Crave and 4 48 Psychosis Ed Thomas's Stone City Blue and Tim Crouch's ENGLAND Through these case studies Delgado García demonstrates alternative ways of engaging theoretically with character and elucidating a range of subjective figures beyond identity and individuality Alongside these analyses the book traces a large body of work that has experimented with speech attribution since the early twentieth century This is a timely contribution to contemporary theatre scholarship which demonstrates that character remains a malleable and politically salient notion in which understandings of subjectivity are still being negotiated

Madness in Contemporary British Theatre Jon Venn, 2021-08-30 This book considers the representation of madness in contemporary British theatre examining the rich relationship between performance and mental health and questioning how theatre can potentially challenge dominant understandings of mental health Carefully it suggests what it means to represent madness in theatre and the avenues through which such representations can become radical whereby theatre can act as a site of resistance Engaging with the heterogeneity of madness each chapter covers different attributes and logics including the constitution and institutional structures of the contemporary asylum the cultural idioms behind hallucination the means by which suicide is apprehended and approached how testimony of the mad person is interpreted and encountered As a study that interrogates a wide range of British theatre across the past 30 years and includes a theoretical interrogation of the politics of madness this is a crucial work for any student or researcher across disciplines considering the politics of madness and its relationship to performance Contemporary British Drama David Lane, 2010-09-09 This book offers an extended analysis of writers and theatre companies in Britain since 1995 and explores them alongside recent cultural social and political developments Referencing well known practitioners from modern theatre this book is an excellence Affects in 21st-Century British Theatre Mireia Aragay, Cristina Delgado-García, Martin Middeke, 2021-04-09 This book explores the various manifestations of affects in British theatre of the 21st century The introduction gives a concise survey of existing and emerging theoretical and research trends and argues in favour of a capacious understanding of affects that mediates between more autonomous and more social approaches The twelve chapters in the collection investigate major works in Britain by playwrights and theatre makers including Mojisola Adebayo Mike Bartlett Alice Birch Caryl Churchill Tim Crouch and Andy Smith Rachel De la Hay Reginald Edmund James Fritz David Greig Idris Goodwin Zinnie Harris Kieran Hurley Lucy Kirkwood Anders Lustgarten Yolanda Mercy Anthony Neilson Lucy Prebble Sh t Theatre Penelope Skinner Stef Smith Kae Tempest and Debbie Tucker Green The interpretations identify significant areas of tension as they relate affects to the fields of cognition politics and hope In this the chapters uncover interrelations of thought intention and empathy they reveal the nexus between identities institutions and ideology and finally they explore how theatre can accomplish the transition from a sense of crisis to utopian visions Liveness on Stage Claudia Georgi, 2014-08-27 Theatre is traditionally considered a live medium but its liveness can no longer simply be taken for granted in view of the increasing mediatisation of the stage Drawing on theories of intermediality Liveness on Stage explores how performances that incorporate film or video self reflexively stage and challenge their own liveness by contrasting or approximating live and mediated action To illustrate this the monograph investigates key aspects such as ephemerality co presence unpredictability interaction and realistic representation and highlights their significance for re evaluating received notions of liveness The analysis is based on productions by Gob Squad Forkbeard Fantasy Station House Opera Prototype Theater Tim Etchells and Mary Oliver In their playful approaches these practitioners predominantly present such media combination as a means of cross fertilisation rather than as an antagonism between liveness and mediatisation Combining an original theoretical approach with an in depth analysis of the selected productions this study will appeal to scholars and practitioners of theatre and performance as well as to those researching intermedial phenomena Staging the UK Jen Harvie, 2005-11-29 This text examines some of the most important performance in Britain from the mid 1980s into the new millennium It considers contemporary British theatre in relation to national and supranational identities critical concepts like globalisation and diaspora and contemporary contexts such as the election of New Labour

Staging Interspaces in Contemporary British Theatre Vicky Angelaki, 2024-06-03 This open access book considers how relationships to place and spatial ecologies more broadly are becoming redefined in light of intersecting climate health identity and care crises Through an interdisciplinary intersectional discourse it investigates how spaces of liminality frame contemporary human conditions in their interactional modes with both human and non-human ecologies The interspace grounds the discussion indicating states of flux and transience where the in-between is the defining characteristic This open access monograph then takes up the new complexity in one's relationships to their surrounding spaces through a rigorous discussion of texts and performance contexts in cutting edge contemporary British theatre on a national and international scale It seeks to address how in-betweenness spatially temporally environmentally geographically and socially conceived has been emerging as the primary state for the unmoored individual of our time and how it might serve as catalyst for performing one's agency in modes more empathetic not only to other humans but also and equally to the non-human world
