Cutting Costs in Multifamily Housing National Association of Home Builders (U.S.),1987 Energy Research Abstracts ,1988 Fundamentals of Building Energy Dynamics Bruce D. Hunn,1996 Fundamentals of Building Energy Dynamics assesses how and why buildings use energy and how energy use and peak demand can be reduced It provides a basis for integrating energy efficiency and solar approaches in ways that will allow building owners and designers to balance the need to minimize initial costs operating costs and life cycle costs with need to maintain reliable building operations and enhance environmental quality both inside and outside the building Chapters trace the development of building energy systems and analyze the demand side of solar applications as a means for determining what portion of a building s energy requirements can potentially be met by solar energy Following the introduction the book provides an overview of energy usepatterns in the aggregate U S building population Chapter 3 surveys work onthe energy flows in an individual building and shows how these flows interact to influence overall energy use Chapter 4 presents the analytical methods techniques and tools developed to calculate and analyze energy use in buildings while chapter 5 provides an extensive survey of the energy conservation and management strategies developed in the post energy crisis period The approach taken is a commonsensical one starting with the proposition that the purpose of buildings is to house human activities and that conservation measures that negatively affect such activities are based on false economies The goal is to determine rational strategies for the design of new buildings and the retrofit of existing buildings to bring them up to modern standards of energy use The energy flows examined are both large scale heating systems and small scale choices among appliances Solar Heat Technologies Fundamentals and Applications Volume 4 Energy Research Abstracts ,1987 Semiannual with semiannual and annual indexes References to all scientific and technical literature coming from DOE its laboratories energy centers and contractors Includes all works deriving from DOE other related government sponsored information and foreign nonnuclear information Arranged under 39 categories e g Biomedical sciences basic studies Biomedical sciences applied studies Health and safety and Fusion energy Entry gives bibliographical information and abstract Corporate author subject report number indexes Energy Efficiency of Buildings in Cities United States.
