Management of Broadband Technology and Innovation Jyoti Choudrie, Catherine Middleton, 2013-11-12 When one considers broadband the Internet immediately springs to mind However broadband is impacting society in many ways For instance broadband networks can be used to deliver healthcare or community related services to individuals who don't have computers have distance as an issue to contend with or don't use the internet Broadband can support better management of scarce energy resources with the advent of smart grids enables improved teleworking capacity and opens up a world of new entertainment possibilities Yet scholarly examinations of broadband technology have so far examined adoption usage or diffusion but missed exploring the capacity of broadband networks to enable new applications the management aspects of funding and developing broadband enabled services or the policy environment in which such networks are developed This book explores a wide range of issues associated with the deployment and use of broadband including its impacts on individuals organizations and society and offers a generalist understanding of the technical aspects of broadband Management of Broadband Technology and Innovation offers insights on broadband from the perspectives of Information Systems Management Strategy and Communications Policy scholars drawing on research from these disciplines to inform diverse aspects of broadband deployment policy and use Issues associated with a subject technical in nature but now researched in many ways are emphasised This book explains various softer aspects of broadband deployment and use focusing on the benefits of broadband rather than on details of the technology

Tiger Girls Minglu Chen, 2012-03-29 The existing scholarship on women in China suggests that gender inequality still exists against the background of the country's reform and opening in recent years However the situation of women in enterprise ownership and leadership seems to indicate that despite such notions of disadvantage amongst women some of them are playing a more active and significant role in China's economic development Based on a series of interviews with female enterprise owners wives of enterprise owners and women managers conducted in diverse locations in three different provinces of China Tiger Girls examines the deeper realities of women entrepreneurs in China and by extension the role of leading women in the workforce By analyzing information on these women's personal experiences careers and families this book investigates their status at work and at home as well as their connections with local politics The research results suggest that although traces of gender inequality can still be found in these women's lives they appear to be actively engaged in the business establishment and operation and gradually casting off the leash of domestic responsibilities This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese Studies Chinese Business Chinese Economics and Asian Studies Minglu Chen is ARC Postdoctoral Fellow in the Department of Government and International Relations at Sydney University Australia

Scotton, 2015-05-26 Now available in a fully revised and updated ninth edition World News Prism provides in depth analysis of the changing role of transnational news media in the 21st century Includes three new chapters on Russia Brazil and India and a revised chapter on the Middle East written by regional media experts Features comprehensive coverage of the growing impact of social media on how news is being reported and received Charts the media revolutions occurring throughout the world and examines their effects both locally and globally Surveys the latest developments in new media and forecasts future developments

Non-Traditional Security in Asia Mely Caballero-Anthony, Alistair D.B. Cook, 2013 Non Traditional Security in Asia examines the critical security challenges faced by states and societies in Asia including health food water natural disasters internal conflict forced migration energy transnational crime and cyber security Through the development of a comprehensive analytical framework that establishes the key ingredients to policy evaluation the editors draw on a wide variety of experts to collaborate in investigating these crucial issues This inclusive framework ensures that all voices are heard including those oftentimes under represented and marginalized in society to ensure that academic and policy debates are well informed about the often complex and nuanced nature of these non traditional security challenges Through an investigation into these specific non traditional security threats Non Traditional Security in Asia documents and evaluates many of the most pressing challenges faced by Asia today The authors analyse the ways in which particular issues are addressed by the many stakeholders involved in the policy making process both within governments and across societies The question of how these challenges are addressed across and between the different levels of global governance highlights the strengths and weakness that are directly attributable to policy successes and failures It is through this layered and comprehensive approach together with an evaluation of the role of stakeholders which binds together the chapter contributions to this collection The book undertakes an issue specific chapter study of how Asian states and societies address these non traditional security concerns from environmental adaptation and mitigation measures to conflict resolution For each issue area it identifies and explains the concerns of various policy communities identifying the motivations behind some of the key decisions made to affect change or stabilize the status quo Essentially it questions not only what a security issue is but also for whom the issue is important and the interaction this has with policy outcomes With a focus on regional and global institutions as well as national and local ones this collection illustrates the variety of stakeholders involved in non traditional security concerns and reflects on their relative importance in the decision making process Through a systematic evaluation of these non traditional security issues by employing a comprehensive analytical framework critical appreciation of the dynamics of the policy making process surrounding issues of crucial national regional and international significance in Asia are made As a result of sharing these insights the contributors provide the tools as well as a selection of issue specific stakeholders to illuminate the key but complex characteristics of non traditional security in Asia
