be ignored Indeed the present electronic age is said to have wrought profound changes to how we think about and experience who we are where we are and how we relate with one another Place and community have traditionally formed key concepts for thinking about these issues but what relevance do these concepts now hold for us In this wide ranging study Wilken re evaluates how ideas of place and community intersect with and help us make sense of a world transformed by information and communication technologies This interdisciplinary investigation ranges across diverse textual and contextual terrain exploring approaches from media and communications architectural history and theory philosophy sociology geography literature and urban design The rich analysis of these myriad texts reveals the complex and at times contradictory ways in which notions of place and community circulate in relation to these technologies of distance Wilken s examination underscores both the enduring importance of ideas of place and community in the present age and the urgent need to continue to engage with think about and reconfigure these twin ideas

Making the Digital City Alessandro

Aurigi,2016-12-05 Since the late 1990s Information and Communication Technologies ICTs have been hailed as a potentially revolutionary feature of the planning and management of Western cities Economic regeneration and place promotion strategies have exploited these new technologies city management has experimented with electronically distributed services and participation in public life and democratic decision making processes can be made more flexible by the use of ICTs All of these technological initiatives have often been presented and accessed via an urban front end information site known as digital city or city network Illustrated by a range of European case studies this volume examines the social political and management issues and potential problems in the establishment of an electronic layer of information and services in cities The book provides a better understanding of the direction European cities are going towards in the implementation of ICTs in the urban arena

The Architecture of Information Martyn Dade-Robertson,2011-06-02

This book looks at the relationship between information and its representation The organization of digital information has relied on metaphors from a pre digital era architectural ideas in particular from the urbanisation of cyberspace in science fiction through to the adoption of spatial visualizations in the design of graphical user interfaces This book encourages creative thinking around this subject and will be of interest to all studying design theory

Anthopoulos,2019-06-11 Smart City Emergence Cases from around the World analyzes how smart cities are currently being conceptualized and implemented examining the theoretical underpinnings and technologies that connect theory with tangible practice achievements Using numerous cities from different regions around the globe the book compares how smart cities of different sizes are evolving in different countries and continents In addition it examines the challenges cities face as they adopt the smart city concept separating fact from fiction with insights from scholars government officials and vendors currently involved in smart city implementation The Projected and Prophetic: Humanity in Cyberculture, Cyberspace, and Science Fiction Jordan J. Copeland,2020-03-31 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2011 The papers collected in this volume document the exchange and development of ideas that comprised the 5th Global Conference on Visions of Humanity in Cyberculture Cyberspace and Science Fiction hosted at Mansfield College Oxford United Kingdom in July 2010 As in the past the conference was driven by questions related to how cyberculture cyberspace and science fiction can provide new insights into the nature of what it is to be human and the understanding of what it means for human beings to live in communities In addition to these recurring themes there is just as importantly a disposition that is shared by those participating in this volume The authors as well the writers thinkers and filmmakers they consider in their essays demonstrate an intrepid and inquisitive approach that tests age old questions within the rapidly expanding but still vaguely defined spaces that new technologies have afforded us Moreover in many ways the conference and present volume reflect their subject which has always been situated self consciously and comfortably between the receding boundaries that have traditionally served both to delineate various academic disciplines and to distinguish real scholarship from popular discourse

Thus as evidenced in the chapters of this volume the conference benefited from the participation of delegates who represented a variety of fields methodologies and perspectives
