Cyprus A View From The Diaspora:

Cyprus George Gregoriou, 2000 Diasporas and Transportation of Homeland Conflicts Élise Féron, Bahar Baser, 2024-05-07 This book explores the transformation and reinvention of conflict generated diaspora groups politics in countries of residence Numerous narratives link diasporas and conflicts diasporas are seen alternatively as peace wreckers or peace makers as products of forced migration related to conflicts or as targets of securitization policies Transported conflicts occurring within and between diasporas in their countries of residence however remain relatively underexplored tend to be misunderstood and often associated with criminal or terrorist activities The chapters in this volume draw our attention to various interconnected temporalities explaining patterns of conflict transportation such as the temps long of diasporic mobilisation the here and now of what is happening in both host and home countries and micro temporalities and diasporans life trajectories Finally the contributions demonstrate that patterns shapes and even occurrence of conflict transportation vary according to scale and space Highly politicized forms of confrontation are not necessarily representative of everyday interactions between diaspora groups which can entail discrete but tangible forms of cooperation and even solidarity This edited volume calls for nuancing our approach to the links between diasporas and conflicts to avoid falling into the essentialisation trap The chapters in this book were originally published in Ethnopolitics Diaspora Engagement in Times of Severe Economic Crisis Othon Anastasakis, Manolis Pratsinakis, Foteini Kalantzi, Antonis Kamaras, 2022-06-19 How does a severe economic crisis impact on diaspora homeland relations The present volume addresses this question by exploring diaspora engagement in Greece during the protracted post 2009 eurozone crisis In so doing it looks at the crisis as a critical juncture in Greece s relations with its nationals abroad The contributors in this book explore aspects of diaspora engagement including transnational mobilisation homeland reform the role of diasporic institutions crisis driven migration as well as comparisons with other countries in Europe This book provides a compelling and original interdisciplinary study of contemporary diaspora issues through the lens of an advanced economy and democracy facing a prolonged crisis and as such it is a significant addition to the literature on European diasporas Immigrant Entrepreneurship, Religion, and Ethnicity Clara Margaça, Andreas Walmsley, Helena Knörr, 2025-06-20 International migration is a growing phenomenon in the 21st century and is increasingly seen as a high priority public policy issue by many governments politicians and the broader public throughout the world Its importance to economic prosperity human development and safety and security ensures that it will remain a top priority for the foreseeable future This book highlights the importance of ensuring that we remain focused on the successes of migration as well as the challenges At the end of the 20th century more importance was given to immigrant and ethnic minority entrepreneurship due to its positive impact on local economic growth and overall economic development in the hosting nations In the 21st century the imperative of the United Nations 2030 agenda involves a deeper understanding of the complex challenges for the achievement of sustainable goals One of these challenges is to understand how migrant entrepreneurs may or may not identify with their ethnic community therefore dissociating themselves from their ethnic group In this sense religion and ethnicity are differentiating factors between social groups and the relationships allow preserving their culture and establishing relationships and integration in the community at all levels This edited volume brings together impactful contributions that will interest multidisciplinary academic areas and aims to contribute to the enhancement of scientific knowledge on the intersection of entrepreneurship migration ethnicity and religion a gap in the existing literature that has the potential to provide a deeper understanding of factors that influence migrant populations contribution to socio economic development in their communities This book will be an invaluable resource to researchers and scholars in the fields of immigration immigrant entrepreneurship entrepreneurial culture and economic development

Diasporas within a Diaspora Jonathan Israel,2021-10-11 This volume is concerned with the religious social and commercial networking methods extending over a large part of the world ranging from the Near East to South America used by the western Sephardic Jewish diaspora and the linked New Christian diaspora in lands where the Inquisition prevailed from the mid sixteenth to the mid eighteenth century Particular attention is given to the role of these unique diasporas in the functioning of the six great European world maritime empires of the time the Venetian Spanish Portuguese Dutch English and French New material and argument is offered relating to the questions of diaspora formation Sephardic social practices crypto Judaism religious syncretism cross cultural brokerage and the contribution of diasporas to European expansion

International Migration and Sending Countries E. Østergaard-Nielsen,2003-09-09 Drawing on case studies from the Americas Europe Africa and Asia International Migration and Sending Countries demonstrates how sending countries are emerging as complex and significant actors in migration politics It shows how a more nuanced understanding of sending countries policies towards their emigrants and diasporas is relevant for both academic and public policy debates on issues of migration control and development In addition wider issues are considered such as the implications of migrants cross border membership dual allegiances and transnational practices together with the scope and powers of the state in a period of globalization

Britain and the Cyprus Crisis of 1974 John Burke,2017-11-28 This book examines the ideological and socio political discourses shaping the remembrance and representation of Britain and the Cyprus conflict of 1974 within Greek Cypriot society By combining the official with the popular and drawing on an extensive range of oral history interviews this monograph shows that a suspicion born out of Britain s long neo colonial connection to Cyprus has come to frame the image and understanding of British actions associated with the events and lasting consequences of 1974 Indeed with the island of Cyprus still divided and the requirement to remember a national imperative this book has a direct contemporary relevance However within the existent literature while much has been written about the political roots of the Cyprus conflict no study has yet sought to systematically analyse and understand the influences shaping the history and memory of British actions on Cyprus in 1974. One defined by the existence of partitionist conspiracies, collusive accusations and a series of memory distortions which continue to resonate strongly irrespective of the evidence that is now available. As such, by analysing the influences shaping the image of Britain in 1974, one can begin to understand in ever greater detail the Anglo-Greek Cypriot relationship in a modern context.

African Diasporas in the New and Old Worlds Klaus Benesch, Geneviève Fabre, 2004. In the humanities, the term diaspora recently emerged as a promising and powerful heuristic concept. It challenged traditional ways of thinking and invited reconsiderations of theoretical assumptions about the unfolding of cross-cultural and multi-ethnic societies, about power relations, frontiers and boundaries, about cultural transmission, communication and translation. The present collection of essays by renowned writers and scholars addresses these issues and helps to ground the ongoing debate about the African diaspora in a more solid theoretical framework. Part I is dedicated to a general discussion of the concept of African diaspora, its origins and historical development. Part II examines the complex cultural dimensions of African diasporas in relation to significant sites and figures, including the modes and modalities of creative expression from the perspective of both artists, writers and their audiences. Finally, Part III focusses on the resources, collections and archives and iconographies that are available today. As most authors argue, the African diaspora should not be seen merely as a historical phenomenon but also as an idea or ideology and an object of representation. By exploring this new ground, the essays assembled here provide important new insights for scholars in American and African American Studies, Cultural Studies, Ethnic Studies and African Studies. The collection is rounded off by an annotated listing of black autobiographies.

The "Return" of British-Born Cypriots to Cyprus Janine Teerling, 2014-10-20. The post-war decades of the 1950s to the 1970s saw a mass migration from Cyprus to the UK. More recent years, however, have witnessed a return to Cyprus of the British-born children of Cypriot migrants in the UK. Drawing on multi-site fieldwork and adopting a life-narrative approach, this book offers a refreshing and contemporary account of the motives, experiences and life views of these second-generation British Cypriots as they choose to build their lives in their parents' birth country, a Cyprus that has been dramatically altered by globalisation, mass tourism and immigration since the first generation of immigrants left for British shores. Unlike their parents, who moved from Cyprus to the UK mainly out of economic necessity, this new generation of migrants tends to view their relocation to Cyprus as a lifestyle choice. And while the first generation of Cypriot migrants in the UK generally worked and socialised within the bounds of the Cypriot community, the British-born return migrants in Cyprus embrace a more international lifestyle beyond primordial ethnic or national boundaries, observations which challenge the hypothesis that second-generation return migration is based on an essential longing to go back to one's roots. The author examines the complexities and ambivalences involved when exploring ideas of identity, return home and belonging in the ancestral homeland, demonstrating how boundaries of such notions are blurred, eroded and re-established by a new generation of migrants reflecting their time experiences choices and ideologies The book is essential reading for all those involved in Migration Studies and Cultural Anthropology The European Diaspora in Australia Bruno Mascitelli, Sonia Mycak, Gerardo Papalia, 2016-05-11 This volume provides a contemporary reflection on the journey of many former European communities that migrated to Australia in the post war period and their stories of settlement assimilation and integration The chapters provide perspectives from a range of disciplines and approaches across different communities There are common themes that emerge as well as unique issues which define these communities Balkan Identities Mariia Nikolaeva Todorova, 2004 Four main themes are concentrated on in this text the construction of historical memories the sites of national memory the transmission of national memory and the mobilisation of national identities Diasporas of the Modern Middle East Anthony Gorman, 2015-05-29 Approaching the Middle East through the lens of Diaspora Studies the 11 detailed case studies in this volume explore the experiences of different diasporic groups in and of the region and look at the changing conceptions and practice of diaspora in the context of the modern Middle East Diaspora Politics Gabriel Sheffer, 2003-04-10 This book is intended to fill in a gap in the study of modern ethno national diasporas Thus against the background of current trends globalization democratization the weakening of the nation state and massive transstate migration it examines the politics of historical modern and incipient ethno national diasporas It argues that unlike the widely accepted view ethno national diasporism and diasporas do not constitute a recent phenomenon Rather this is a perennial phenomenon whose roots were in antiquity Some of the existing diasporas were created in antiquity some during the Middle Ages and some are modern An essential aspect of this phenomenon is the endless cultural social economic and especially political struggle of these dispersed ethnic groups that permanently reside in host countries away from their homelands to maintain their distinctive identities and connections with their homelands and other dispersed groups of the same nation While describing and analyzing the diaspora phenomenon the book sheds light on theoretical questions pertaining to current ethnicity and politics Migration and Organized Civil Society Dirk Halm, Zeynep Sezgin, 2013-05-07 Migrant organizations are of vital importance for countries of residence and countries of origin but the empirical and theoretical knowledge of the cross border character of migrant organizations remains incomplete It is clear that migrant transnationalism challenges the governance of nation states on the local and national levels This book the outcome of an ECPR joint session systematically and empirically analyzes the differing roles that transnational migrant organizations play in their countries of residence and origin Drawing on research conducted in Belgium England Germany Holland Poland and Portugal it focuses on the relations between migrant organizations and the state Offering an opportunity for comparative analysis it also examines why migrants and their organizations engage in different forms of border crossing activities and how various political systems influence and are influenced by these forms of engagement Migration and Organized Civil Society will be of strong interest to students and researchers of political science political sociology migration studies transnationalism and Diaspora studies Homelands and Diasporas Andreh Le?i,Alex Weingrod,2005 This collection focuses fresh attention on the relationships between homeland and diaspora communities in today s world Based on in depth anthropological studies by leading scholars in the field the book highlights the changing character of homeland diaspora ties Homelands and Diasporas offers new understandings of the issues that these communities face and explores the roots of their fascinating yet sometimes paradoxical interactions The book provides a keen look at how homeland and diaspora appear in the lives of both Israeli Jews and Israeli Palestinians and also explores how these issues influence Pakistanis who make their home in England Armenians in Cyprus and England Cambodians in France and African Americans in Israel The critical views advanced in this collection should lead to a reorientation in diaspora studies and to a better understanding of the often contradictory changes in the relationships between people whose lives are led both at home and away
