D J Dorothy Jean Ross 1891 1982:

D.J. Barbara Falk, Cecile Trioli, 2000 A fascinating insight into the private life of a woman who was one of the most important figures in female education in Australia during the mid 1900 s Queer Omissions Karen M. Pack, 2025-04-30 Protestant Christian historiography has persistently erased unmarried childless women from the story of faith in Australia When women are mentioned they are judged according to a heteronormative maternalist framework built upon the ideology of separate spheres This paradigm creates a lopsided picture whereby women are celebrated for their social and moral influence but are absent from rational intellectual discourse This book asks the question why have unmarried women who devoted themselves to social justice activism motivated by their Christian faith been erased from the pages of Australian religious histories It does this through biographies of two unmarried women each engaged in very different work aimed at creating a more just and equitable Australia Queer Omissions uses biographical case studies of two unmarried childless women Frances Levvy 1831 1924 and Constance Duncan 1896 1970 to critique the writing of Protestant religious histories in Australia asking why those outside a heteronormative framework have been relegated to the margins Motivated by their faith Duncan and Levvy engaged in social justice activism that left an indelible mark on Australian society Yet they remain absent from the histories of their own faith communities Queer Omissions seeks to tell a bigger story of women who chafed against their contracted sphere yet motivated by their faith impacted their world for good In doing so it uniquely expands the categories of those who see themselves in the story finding hope in the process This book will be of great interest to scholars of religion gender and sexuality as well as people of faith trying to understand and reclaim their place in the story My Father's Daughter Sheila Fitzpatrick, 2014-09-12 How does a daughter tell the story of her father Sheila Fitzpatrick was taught from an early age to question authority She learnt it from her father the journalist and radical historian Brian Fitzpatrick But very soon she began to turn her questioning gaze on him Teasing apart the many layers of memory Fitzpatrick reveals a complex portrait of an Australian family against a Cold War backdrop As her relationship with her father fades from girlhood adoration to adolescent scepticism she flees Melbourne for Oxford to start a new life But it s not so easy to escape being her father s daughter My Father's Daughter is a vivid evocation of an Australian childhood a personal memoir told with the piercing insight of a historian The Butterfly Effect Susan Hawthorne, 2005 This is a concept from physics in which it is surmised that small actions can have enormous consequences and that the flutter of a butterfly s wing on one side of the world can cause devastating storms on the other side This work includes poems on a range of subjects including death history culture physics and more Nobody's Valentine Marion Poynter, 2008-01-01 Valentine Alexa Leeper was born in Melbourne on Valentines Day 1900 the daughter of Alexander Leeper 1848 1934 the brilliant but argumentative first Warden of Trinity College Her long life might seem unremarkable she lived simply in the family s Victorian suburban home neither marrying nor travelling overseas and was regarded by many as an eccentric at times tiresome blue stocking

The hoard of letters Valentine Leeper wrote and received over nearly a century reveals her however as a remarkable woman. The letters also provide an intimate view of issues great and small of the turbulent twentieth century through the eyes of a clear minded observer. Valentine publicly condemned racism and any curtailing of freedom of speech and extensively supported refugees and the rights of Aborigines and women. Like many women of her time and background she was an active member of a network seeking social justice but remained always her own person. At once a staunch traditionalist and ahead of her time she was a truly liberated woman. Provided by publisher Committed to Learning Juliet Flesch, 2017-11-27

Consistently ranking in the top five educational faculties in the world the Melbourne Graduate School of Education has achieved a status few would have predicted. This history of the first hundred and ten years of the discipline of Education at the University of Melbourne reflects the extraordinary change in the esteem in which it has been held in the university Australia and the world. The very idea of Education as a suitable course of study at a university was initially opposed and until recently the standing of this faculty compared to other professional faculties such as Law or Medicine has been less than equal. But since the University was revitalised and reorganised under the Melbourne Model in 2008 its reputation has risen steadily. Committed to Learning brings to life those whose vision and hard work since its early beginning have brought such success to this faculty.

Tradition and Dissent J. Davis McCaughey, 1997. In this collection of his speeches and addresses Dr Davis McCaughey challenges our perceptions of what tradition and dissent mean to each of us. Freedom to dissent is part of the tradition that we have inherited. Dr McCaughey surveys our inherited traditions including that of the Crown, discusses the meaning of the freedom to and the present need for dissent and discourses on topics such as accountability in learned institutions and universities and ethical issues such as euthanasia and responsibilities in a nuclear age. Dr McCaughey's observations are illuminating and engaging, intelligent and critical, encouraging and challenging. He writes with authority and wisdom on matters of vital importance for our national self understanding. In speaking at the commemorations for many notable traditionalists and dissenters among them intellectual and social leaders of Australia and in Anzac Day addresses Dr McCaughey reminds us of the continuing need to honour and support those among us who see the need for both tradition and dissent.

Australian Book Review, 2001. Inner Song Jillian Graham, 2023-03-07. Margaret Sutherland was one of the most innovative and influential Australian composers. In the first half of the twentieth century her desire to be both serious composer and mother was atypical and she faced significant challenges public and private in blending these roles. Against the backdrop of an unhappy and unsupportive marriage and a society not yet ready to accept her creative ambitions and strong views on Australia's musical development she remained admirably steadfast in pursuing her goals. Sutherland created over two hundred compositions, ceaselessly campaigned on behalf of Australian music and musicians and led the initial push to construct what is now Arts Centre Melbourne. In her attempts to redefine beauty in music she used idiosyncratic musical language, being at the mercy of sound pictures and floating ideas. This book tells her remarkable story, laying bare something
