Paddon, 1972 Daily Life of French Artists of the Nineteenth Century. Translated by Hilary E. Paddon Jacques Lethève, 1972 In Praise of Commercial Culture Tyler COWEN, Tyler Cowen, 2009-06-30 Does a market economy encourage or discourage music literature and the visual arts Do economic forces of supply and demand help or harm the pursuit of creativity This book seeks to redress the current intellectual and popular balance and to encourage a more favorable attitude toward the commercialization of culture that we associate with modernity Economist Tyler Cowen argues that the capitalist market economy is a vital but underappreciated institutional framework for supporting a plurality of coexisting artistic visions providing a steady stream of new and satisfying creations supporting both high and low culture helping consumers and artists refine their tastes and paying homage to the past by capturing reproducing and disseminating it Contemporary culture Cowen argues is flourishing in its various manifestations including the visual arts literature music architecture and the cinema Successful high culture usually comes out of a healthy and prosperous popular culture Shakespeare and Mozart were highly popular in their own time Beethoven's later less accessible music was made possible in part by his early popularity Today consumer demand ensures that archival blues recordings a wide array of past and current symphonies and this week's Top 40 hit sit side by side in the music megastore High and low culture indeed complement each other Cowen's philosophy of cultural optimism stands in opposition to the many varieties of cultural pessimism found among conservatives neoconservatives the Frankfurt School and some versions of the political correctness and multiculturalist movements as well as historical figures including Rousseau and Plato He shows that even when contemporary culture is thriving it appears degenerate as evidenced by the widespread acceptance of pessimism He ends by considering the reasons why cultural pessimism has such a powerful hold on intellectuals and opinion makers The Impact of Art on French

Literature Helen Osterman Borowitz, 1985 This book traces a direct line of tradition that unites the French précieux novel Romantic and Symbolist literature and Proust's novel cycle The Artist and the Studio in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries Ronnie L. Zakon, 1978 Marketing Modernism in Fin-de-Siècle Europe Robert Jensen, 2022-02-08 In this fundamental rethinking of the rise of modernism from its beginnings in the Impressionist movement Robert Jensen reveals that market discourses were pervasive in the ideological defense of modernism from its very inception and that the avant garde actually thrived on the commercial appeal of anti commercialism at the turn of the century The commercial success of modernism he argues depended greatly on possession of historical legitimacy The very development of modern art was inseparable from the commercialism many of its proponents sought to transcend Here Jensen explores the economic aesthetic institutional and ideological factors that led to its dominance in the international art world by the early 1900s He emphasizes the role of the emerging dealer gallery market and of modernist art historiographies in evaluating modern art and legitimizing it through the formation of a canon of modernist masters In describing the canon building of modern dealerships Jensen considers the new ideological dealer and explores the commercial construction of artistic identity through such rhetorical concepts as temperament and independent art and through such institutional structures as the retrospective His inquiries into the fate of the juste milieu a group of dissidents who saw themselves as true heirs of Impressionism and his look at a new form of art history emerging in Germany further expose a linear dealer oriented history of modernist art constructed by or through the modernists themselves

Impressionism in Britain Kenneth McConkey, Anna Gruetzner Robins, 1995-01-01 Late in his career Claude Monet returned to London to paint the fog that had entranced him years before The resulting sequence of pictures represents some of the fascination that French painters felt for Britain Similarly many British collectors and young painters embraced and were influenced by the work of the French Impressionists This book describes the activities of the French Impressionist painters on their visits to Britain considers the dissemination of Impressionist painting through British dealers and collectors explores the response of artists from Britain and Ireland to the Impressionist movement and sets all of these against the backdrop of late Victorian and Edwardian Britain McConkey and Robins describe the work of Monet Pissarro Sisley and other Impressionists working in London showing how this art influenced the community of young British painters disenchanted with British art schools and art exhibiting standards The authors investigate the role played by two innovative painters who were American expatriates James McNeill Whistler and John Singer Sargent And they explain how such artists as William Orpen George Clausen Stanhope Forbes Henry La Thangue Walter Sickert and Philip Wilson Steer sought out new and radical approaches to picture making formed new secessionist art societies and articulated new concepts of the role of art rejecting historical pageants and fashionable aestheticism and focusing on modern rural and urban conditions The book is the catalogue of an exhibition that will be at the Barbican Art Gallery in London from January to March 1995 and then move to Dublin

Italian Women Writers Katharine Mitchell, 2014-01-01 Italian Women Writers looks at the work of three of the most significant women in late nineteenth century Italy whose domestic fiction and journalism addressed a growing female readership

Hidden in the Shadow of the Master Ruth Butler, 2008-10-01 Paul Czanne Claude Monet and Auguste Rodin The names of these brilliant nineteenth century artists are known throughout the world But what is remembered of their wives What were these unknown women like What roles did they play in the lives and the art of their famous husbands In this remarkable book of discovery art historian Ruth Butler coaxes three shadowy women out of obscurity and introduces them for the first time as individuals Through unprecedented research Butler has been able to create portraits of Hortense Fiquet Camille Doncieux and Rose Beuret the models and later the wives respectively of Czanne Monet and Rodin three of the most famous French artists of their generation The book tells the stories of three ordinary women who faced issues of a dramatically changing society as well as the challenges of life with a striving genius Butler illuminates the ways in which these model wives figured in their husbands achievements and provides new analyses of familiar works of art Filled with captivating detail the book recovers the lives of Hortense Camille and Rose and recognizes with new insight how their unique relationships enriched the quality of their husbands artistic endeavors Art and the End of Apartheid John Pepper,2009 Black South African artists have typically had their work labeled African art or township art qualifiers that when contrasted with simply modernist art have been used to marginalize their work both in South Africa and internationally This is the The first book to fully explore cosmopolitan modern art by black South Africans under apartheid France, 1800-1914 Roger Magraw,2014-07-22 Nineteenth century France was a society of apparent paradoxes It is famous for periodic and bloody revolutionary upheavals for class conflict and for religious disputes yet it was marked by relative demographic stability gradual urbanisation and modest economic change class conflict and ongoing religious and cultural tensions Incorporating much recent research Roger Magraw draws both upon still valuable insights derived from the new social history of the 1960s and upon more recent approaches suggested by gender history cultural anthropology and the linguistic turn Rethinking Photography Peter Smith,Carolyn Lefley,2015-09-16 Rethinking Photography is an accessible and illuminating critical introduction to the practice and interpretation of photography today Peter Smith and Carolyn Lefley closely link critical approaches to photographic practices and present a detailed study of differing historical and contemporary perspectives on social and artistic functions of the medium including photography as art documentary forms advertising and personal narratives Richly illustrated full colour images throughout connect key concepts to real world examples It also includes Accessible book chapters on key topics including early photography photography and industrial society the rise of photography theory critical engagement with anti realist trends in the theory and practice of photography photography and language photography education and photography and the creative economy Specific case studies on photographic practices include snapshot and portable box cameras digital and mobile phone cultures and computer generated imagery Critical summaries of current photography theoretical studies in the field displaying how critical theory has been mapped on to working practices of photographers and students In depth profiles of selected key photographers and theorists and studies of their professional practices Assessment of photography as a key area of contemporary aesthetic debate Focused and critical study of the world of working photographers beyond the horizons of the academy Rethinking Photography provides readers with an engaging mix of photographic case studies and an accessible exploration of essential theory It is the perfect guide for students of Photography Fine Art Art History and Graphic Design as well as practitioners from any background wishing to understand the place of photography in global societies today The Art of the Everyday Lynn Gumpert,1997-08 A collection of essays on the quotidian in philosophy cinema theater photography and other visual arts in postwar France published in conjunction with an exhibition of contemporary French artists at the Grey Art Gallery of New York University in spring 1997 Includes

Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea "Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France, 1789?914 " Heather Belnap Jensen, 2017-07-05 Focusing specifically on portraiture as a genre this volume challenges scholarly assumptions that regard interior spaces as uniquely feminine Contributors analyze portraits of men in domestic and studio spaces in France during the long nineteenth century the preponderance of such portraits alone supports the book s premise that the alignment of men with public life is oversimplified and more myth than reality The volume offers analysis of works by a mix of artists from familiar names such as David Delacroix Courbet Manet Rodin and Matisse to less well known image makers including Dominique Doncre Constance Mayer Anders Zorn and Lucien Etienne Melingue The essays cover a range of media from paintings and prints to photographs and sculpture that allows exploration of the relation between masculinity and interiority across the visual culture of the period The home and other interior spaces emerge from these studies as rich and complex locations for both masculine self expression and artistic creativity Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France 1789 1914 provides a much needed rethinking of modern masculinity in this period

Critical Readings in Impressionism and Post-Impressionism Mary Tompkins Lewis, 2023-12-22 The essays in this wide ranging beautifully illustrated volume capture the theoretical range and scholarly rigor of recent criticism that has fundamentally transformed the study of French Impressionist and Post Impressionist art Readers are invited to consider the profound issues and penetrating questions that lie beneath this perennially popular body of work as the contributors examine the art world of late nineteenth century France including detailed looks at Monet Manet Pissarro Degas C zanne Morisot Seurat Van Gogh and Gauguin The authors offer fascinating new perspectives placing the artworks from this period in wider social and historical contexts They explore these painters pictorial and market strategies the critical reception and modern criteria the paintings engendered and the movement s historic role in the formation of an avant garde tradition Their research reflects the wealth of new documents critical approaches and scholarly exhibitions that have fundamentally altered our understanding of Impressionism and Post Impressionism These essays several of which have previously been familiar only to scholars provide instructive models of in depth critical analysis and of the competing art historical methods that have crucially reshaped the field Contributors Carol Armstrong T J Clark Stephen F Eisenman Tamar Garb Nicholas Green Robert L Herbert John House Mary Tompkins Lewis Michel Melot Linda Nochlin Richard Shiff Debora Silverman Paul Tucker Martha Ward
