Lawrence and Pre-Einsteinian Modernist Relativity* Kumiko Hoshi, 2019-01-08 On the 15th of June 1921 during his stay in Baden Baden Germany British novelist D H Lawrence 1885 1930 encountered the German physicist Albert Einstein 1879 1955 Lawrence read an English translation of Relativity The Special and General Theory which had been published in the previous year The very next day he wrote Einstein isn't so metaphysically marvellous but I like him for taking out the pin which fixed down our fluttering little physical universe 4L 37 Lawrence's first response to Einstein is ambivalent for his reading of works by Victorian relativists such as Charles Darwin T H Huxley William James Herbert Spencer and Ernst Haeckel had helped him foster his own concept of relativity while his representations of relativity had interacted with modern artists including Pablo Picasso Marcel Duchamp and Umberto Boccioni This book shows Lawrence's exploration of relativity in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century European cultural climate of Modernism and examines his representation of relativity in Women in Love 1920 The Lost Girl 1920 Aaron's Rod 1922 and The Fox original version 1920 revised version 1922 The Life of Metrical and Free Verse in Twentieth-Century Poetry Jon Silkin, 2016-07-27 In a wide ranging and compelling account of the life of metrical and free verse in the twentieth century poet and critic Jon Silkin deepens our understanding of the way poetry works on us He begins from the premiss that two modes of verse free and metrical engage the creative energies of poetry now creating a rich fertile environment capable of yielding work valuable to poetry itself and to the society which has given it life With a practitioner's empathy Silkin reads the poetry of Whitman Hopkins Eliot Pound Lawrence Dylan Thomas Bunting and eight British poets from the post second World War period to illustrate how free and metrical verse create separately or together a poetic harmony Additionally he includes crucial statements on modern poetry from poets themselves concluding with a fine memoir of Basil Bunting by Connie Pickard published in book form for the first time Movement and Belonging Carol E. Modernist literature is inextricable from the history of obscenity The trials of figures like James Joyce D H Lawrence and Radclyffe Hall loom large in accounts twentieth century literature Filthy Material Modernism and The Media of Obscenity reveals the ways that debates about obscenity and literature were shaped by changes in the history of media Judgments about obscenity which hinged on understanding how texts were circulated and read were often proxies for the changing place of literature in an age of new technological media The emergence of film photography and new printing technologies shaped how literary value was understood altering how obscenity was defined and which texts were considered obscene Filthy Material rereads the history of obscenity in order to discover a history of technological media behind debates about moral corruption and sexual explicitness The shift from the intense censorship of the early twentieth century to the effective end of obscenity for literature at the middle of the century it argues is not simply a product of cultural liberalization but of a changing media ecology Filthy Material brings together media theory and archival research to offer a fresh account of modernist obscenity and novel readings of works of modernist literature It sheds new light on figures at the center of modernism s obscenity trials such as Joyce and Lawrence demonstrates the relevance of the discourse obscenity to understanding figures not typically associated with obscenity debates like T S Eliot and Wyndham Lewis and introduces new figures to our account of modernism like Norah James and Jack Kahane It reveals how modernist obscenity reflected a contest over the literary in the face of new media technologies Routledge Revivals: D.H. Lawrence's Son and Lovers: A Critique D.S. Dalal,2007-10 Rhetoric Of The Unselfconscious In D H L Nakabayashi, Masami,2011-10-16 In this study of the Lady Chatterley novels Masami Nakabayashi pays particular attention to D H Lawrence s language for the feelings and for the life of the unselfconscious sexual body The novels constantly find ways of verbalising the characters internalised experiences as they occur in states of unselfconsciousness Lawrence's language for sensual feelings and emotions has always been regarded as simply sexual and no previous critics have explored or made sense of the complexities of his peculiar but extremely sophisticated writing practice in the Lady Chatterley novels Lawrence was a habitual reviser of his work and despite the availability of reliable texts in the Cambridge edition few critics have traced the nature and significance of his changes from one draft to the next By examining and analysing the novels particular linguistic revisions Masami Nakabayashi reveals the textual impulse behind Lawrence's original conception and its subsequent change and development
