while still adhering to neutralism India--Myanmar Relations Rajiv Bhatia,2015-08-11 This book provides a comprehensive evaluation of India's multi-faceted relations with Myanmar. It unravels the mysteries of the complex polity of Myanmar as it undergoes transition through democracy after long military rule. Based on meticulous research and understanding, the volume traces the trajectory of India-Myanmar associations from ancient times to the present day and offers a fascinating story in the backdrop of the region's geopolitics. An in-depth analysis of India-Myanmar-China Triangle brings out the strategic stakes involved. It will be of great interest to researchers and scholars of international relations, peace and conflict studies, defence and strategic studies, politics, South and Southeast Asian studies, as well as policy makers and political think tanks.

Burma Or Myanmar? The Struggle For National Identity Lowell Dittmer,2010-10-20 Burma, also known as Myanmar, strategically located between China and India, is one of the largest and most richly endowed states in Southeast Asia. Yet it remains both economically and politically underdeveloped. Why is this so? We argue that much of the reason has to do with an ongoing struggle for national identity. This struggle involves not only whether the state should be authoritarian or democratic, but how Burma's myriad ethnic minorities should be accommodated within it, what external reference national reference groups the country should identify and align with, and how it should move forward. Identity formation normally occurs much earlier in the national developmental process, but Burma has had unusually intransigent problems that were never successfully resolved during the colonial period and have simply been suppressed by force since then. This protracted divisiveness has stunted the nation's modernization and growth. Written from a unique perspective, this book on Myanmar deviates from the traditional authoritarian versus democratic rhetoric. Although that is certainly part of the picture, this multifaceted analysis focuses rather on the issue of identity formation, an issue that has all too often failed to make the headlines. Much can be learned from Myanmar's identity problems, making this book essential reading for all students and professionals interested in development studies or comparative politics. By whatever name, Burma is not only a fascinating country, but one likely to play an increasingly vital role in Asia's future.

Soldiers and Diplomacy in Burma Renaud Egretteau, Larry Jagan,2013-06-10 Soldiers and Diplomacy addresses the key question of the ongoing role of the military in Burma's foreign policy. The authors, a political scientist and a former top Asia editor for the BBC, provide a fresh perspective on Burma's foreign and security policies, which have shifted between pro-active diplomacies of neutralism and non-alignment and autarkical policies of isolation and xenophobic nationalism. They argue that important elements of continuity underlie Burma's striking postcolonial policy changes and contrasting diplomatic practices. Among the defining factors here are the formidable dominance of the Burmese armed forces over state structure, the enduring domestic political conundrum, and the peculiar geography of a country located at the crossroads of India, China, and Southeast Asia. Egretteau and Jagan argue that the Burmese military still has the tools needed to retain their praetorian influence over the country's foreign policy in the post-junta context of the 2010s. For international policymakers, potential foreign investors, and Burma's immediate neighbors, this will have strong implications in terms of the country's foreign policy approach Human Rights in Development Yearbook 1998 Hugo Stokke, Arne Tostensen, 2023-12-14 The eleventh in the series of yearbooks on Human Rights in Developing Countries this volume marks a departure from previous editions and a new beginning The Yearbook will now bear the title of Human Rights in Development to reflect the fact that it will explore the role of human rights as an integral part of the development process The new title is also an indication of the fact that the scope of the Yearbook has widened to include human rights topics and issues in the more developed parts of the world as well as in the developing countries covered hitherto Moreover human rights are themselves in development and the new Yearbook plans to keep track of standard setting in the human rights field Finally the new title reflects the Yearbook's aim of engaging in more international and comparative studies on the one hand and in more focused local issues on the other With the rapid spread of new information technology and improved local monitoring capacity in developing countries there may be less of a need for the type of nation level country studies the Yearbook performed in the past Two themes cut across the series of articles contained in the current edition One human rights promotion is explored in various ways one article looks at the establishment of national human rights institutions as instruments of promotion another analyses development interventions in terms of their impact on local populations drawing on UN and World Bank experience yet another argues the case for using aid in human rights promotion exemplified by Dutch aid to Guatemala a fourth investigates the policies of the EU and ASEAN in seeking to improve the human rights situation in Burma and finally one article looks at the work of the ILO in standard setting and implementation in the field of child labour The other theme local conflict is addressed in two articles one looking at local communities in Latin America caught between local customs and ideologically charged civil wars and the other investigating the tensions between centralized rule and local autonomy in Kenya recently erupting into ethnic violence The Human Rights in Development Yearbook is a joint project of the Chr Michelsen Institute Bergen the Danish Centre for Human Rights Copenhagen the Icelandic Human Rights Centre Reykjavik the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute of Human Rights Vienna the Netherlands Institute of Human Rights Utrecht the Norwegian Institute of Human Rights Oslo and the Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law Lund Myanmar (Burma) since the 1988 Uprising Andrew Selth, 2022-01-24 Updated by popular demand this is the fourth edition of this important bibliography It lists a wide selection of works on or about Myanmar published in English and in hard copy since the 1988 pro democracy uprising which marked the beginning of a new era in Myanmar's modern history There are now 2 727 titles listed They have been written edited translated or compiled by over 2 000 people from many different backgrounds These works have been organized into thirty five subject chapters containing ninety five discrete sections There are also four appendices including a comprehensive reading guide for those unfamiliar with Myanmar or who may be seeking guidance on particular topics This book is an invaluable aid to officials scholars journalists armchair travellers and others with an interest in this fascinating but deeply troubled country Myanmar: Reintegrating Into The International Community Chenyang Li,Daw Chaw Chaw Sein,Xianghui Zhu,2016-06-24 Located at the junction of East Asia South Asia and Southeast Asia Myanmar is one of the most important countries in the world's geopolitical landscape Its ongoing political and economic reforms arouse growing concern from the international community especially great powers like the US Japan India and China Will the domestic reform bring Myanmar back to the international community How and to which extent does the domestic reform change Myanmar's relations with other countries This book is based on papers presented at an international conference on Myanmar held at the Institute of Myanmar Studies in Yunnan University China in 2014 Based on their long term observation and studies experts from China Laos Myanmar Germany Singapore and the US share their opinions on Myanmar's domestic reform and foreign relations as well as the current situation and future prospect This book contributes to better understanding of Myanmar in its dramatic political and social transition Neutrality in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling,2016-10-04 This book analyses the notion of neutrality to the politics of the state in Southeast Asia Distinguishing among neutrality neutralism and neutralisation it asks what relation do the concepts bear to the independence of states and how do they relate to other forms of inter state relations and to participation in international organizations The author considers concepts of neutrality and the policy of non alignment as they were developed in South and Southeast Asia Using case studies of a variety of Asian countries including India Burma Cambodia and other countries in Southeast Asia he discusses the novel notion of a regional form of neutralisation as a means of decolonising the region and examines the relevance neutralism has in current international politics and what might it have in the future This new work by one of the most foremost historians on Southeast Asia is of interest to scholars in the field of Asian History Politics International Relations and Strategic Studies Israel's Quest for Recognition and Acceptance in Asia Jacob Abadi,2004-03-01 This title represents a comprehensive study of Israel's attempts to build diplomatic relations with countries on the Asian continent The author argues that despite the persistence of the Arab Israeli conflict the Israeli Foreign Ministry was remarkably successful in gaining recognition in most Asian countries He provides an overview of Israel's relations with Asian countries from 1948 until the present and analyses the political social and economic factors in each country and the role that each played in the process of rapprochement with Israel He explores the reasons for Israel's successes as well as its failures and analyses the flaws in Israeli diplomacy Myanmar Adam Simpson,Nicholas Farrelly,2023-10-20 This new edition of Myanmar Politics Economy and Society provides a sophisticated yet accessible overview of the key political economic and social challenges facing contemporary Myanmar and explains the complex historical and ethnic dynamics that have shaped the country Thoroughly revised the book analyses the context and tragic consequences of the military coup in February 2021 and the COVID 19 pandemic With clear and incisive contributions from the world's leading Myanmar scholars this book assesses the policies and political reforms that have provoked contestation in Myanmar's recent history and driven both economic and social change In this context questions of economic ownership and control and the distribution of natural resources are shown to be deeply informed by long standing fractures among ethnic and civil military relations The chapters analyse the key issues that constrain or expedite societal development in Myanmar and place recent events of national and international significance in the context of its complex history and social relations The book provides detailed analysis of the coup which overturned a decade of political and economic reforms and threw the country into chaos It explains the drivers for the coup how it has impacted on the country and the future prospects for accountability and justice Filling a gap in the market this research textbook and primer will be of interest to upper undergraduates postgraduates and scholars of Southeast Asian politics economics and society and to journalists and professionals working within governments companies and other organisations The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Southeast Asian Affairs 2003 Daljit Singh, Chin Kin Wah, 2003 Southeast Asian Affairs of which there are now thirty in the series is an annual review of significant developments and trends in the region The contributions can be divided into two broad categories There are those which provide an analysis of major developments during 2002 in individual Southeast Asian countries and in the region generally Then there are the theme articles of a more specialised nature which deal with topical problems of concern

Asian Survey, 2008 International Pressures, Strategic Preference, and Myanmar's China Policy since 1988 Nian Peng, 2020-09-08 This book mainly explored the driving forces and evolution of Myanmar's China policy since 1988 by adopting a neo classical realist approach an emerging theoretical paradigm aiming at analyzing state's foreign behaviour by connecting systemic and unit variables which refers to external environments and domestic restraints respectively It is the first book that seeks to give a theoretical explanation of Myanmar's diplomacy thereby bridging the gap from basic research to the deep one with theories It also introduced the concept of strategic preference and argued that the competing strategic preference that the Burmese leaders have namely integration and isolation determines Myanmar's responses to China in the Post Cold War era which not only demonstrates the neo classical realism as a useful instrument of looking into state's foreign policy and deepens the understanding on Myanmar China relations The main content of this book is divided into seven parts in which the first chapter introduces the background the present study on Myanmar's China policy and China's Myanmar policy the analytical framework and the arrangement of the content Chapter 2 focuses on the roots and changes of Myanmar's competing strategic preference as well as its influences on Myanmar's foreign policy The following four chapters examine the international pressures and benefits imposed by systemic imperatives and Burmese leaders specific strategic preference since 1988 and investigate Myanmar's policy towards China in different periods Finally it provides a comprehensive conclusion that outlines and reviews the origins and evolution of Myanmar's China policy and predicts its future directions This book is suitable for the graduates and experts who are interested in international relations the Asian studies and neo classical realism in particular and Myanmar politics and foreign relations as well as China's relation with neighboring countries
