Implications for Multinational Enterprises John R. McIntyre, Silvester Ivanaj, Vera Ivanaj, 2018 Multinational economic actors particularly corporations play a defining role in the response to the climate change or warming debate and the emerging scientific consensus This book describes explains and predicts how multinational firms will rise to the multiple challenges posed by global climate issues and the organizational and behavioral various responses of the international corporate community It focuses on three core research and learning objectives Firstly it develops the core idea that multinational enterprises cannot implement meaningful sustainability initiatives without an appropriate governance system and corporate culture Building on this notion it addresses the question of environmental sustainability across select industry sectors such oil and banking Finally drawing on a diverse range of contributing experts it presents select best practices such as the opportunities arising from smart technologies implementation to achieve symbiotic industrial relationships directed particularly towards the ecological environment of these firms transborder operations and global reach Asian Models Of Entrepreneurship - From The Indian Union And Nepal To The Japanese Archipelago: Context, Policy And Practice (2nd Edition) Leo-paul Dana, 2014-06-13 In this book Leo Paul Dana makes it clear that much can be learnt about the nature of entrepreneurial activity when we delve into the unique characteristics of different nations of South Asia South east Asia and East Asia Through in depth analyses and comprehensive reviews of many Asian countries the profound differences both among and within countries of the region become vividly apparent Dana juxtaposes the explosion in entrepreneurial growth within China against the struggles to build an entrepreneurial community in Japan or the enlightened public policy leadership in Singapore against the crisis driven developments in Korea The range of factors identified within each of the 15 countries examined by Dana is not an example of random influences on the entrepreneurial process because they can be construed in more systematic and logical ways Thus the book uncovers the Chinese model of gradual transition the Royal Cambodian model and the Doi Moi model among many others The reader is challenged to grasp these different models and identify their commonalities and differences Accounting Reform in Transition and Developing Economies Robert W. McGee, 2008-11-16 Much has been written about the economic and political problems of countries that are in the process of changing from centrally planned systems to market systems Most studies have focused on the economic legal political and sociological problems these economies have had to face during the transition period However not much has been written about the dramatic changes that have to be made to the accounting and financial system of a transition economy This book was written to help fill that gap Accounting Reform in Transition and Developing Economies is the fourth in a series to examine accounting and financial system reform in transition and developing economies The first volume used Russia as a case study The second volume in the series examined some additional aspects of the reform in Russia and also looked at the accounting and financial system reform efforts that are being made in Ukraine Bosnia Herzegovina Armenia Eastern Europe and Central Asia The third volume examined taxation and public finance in transition and developing economies Problems of Economic Transition , 2005-11 Business Education in Emerging Market Economies Ilan Alon, John R. McIntyre, 2006-02-23 Business Education in Emerging Market Economies discusses the impact of business education on emerging markets and explores curricular innovation pedagogical approaches and strategic alliances in the context of industrializing economies Emerging markets contain 80% of the world's population and some 75% of its trade growth in the foreseeable future according to the U S Department of Commerce The potential economic growth of these emerging markets has prompted a need to understand their dynamics business institutions and educational systems Many American universities for example have responded to the demand of their students and business partners by educating them about the exciting opportunities and lurking threats in these industrializing economies This book contains multiple chapters designed to educate American students about the curricular innovations and course development occurring in emerging markets Management for Privatization International Labour Office, 1995 This work traces the impact of privatization of state owned enterprises on management practices and strategies It covers methods of privatization and the barriers faced by managers includes case studies of industry and public services in industrialized developing and former socialist countries and identifies training needs It aims to build management development capacity and to prepare managers for the challenges of privatization and a new competitive environment The book is divided into four parts Part One covers the reasons for and main methods of privatization the environmental Higher Education and National Development David Bridges, Palmira Juceviciene, Roberta Jucevicius, Terence H. McLaughlin, Jolanta Stankeviciute, 2006-11-27 Universities and societies around the world are involved in significant transition Universities are now invited to expand their central aims and purposes in order to embrace a role in relation to the development of the societies in which they are located This change of focus has major implications for curricula modes of teaching and the student body International contributors to this wideranging text discuss different aspects of the phenomenon of globalisation in relation to higher education but also in relation to moves by nation states to
