The Brain, the Mind, and the Person Within Mark Cosgrove,2019-03-21 The brain with its nearly one hundred billion neurons is the most complex structure in the universe and we are living in a period of revolutionary advancements in neuroscience Yet scientists and skeptics often frame these findings in ways that challenge the Christian worldview Many professionals and popularizers claim that human beings are their brains and that all human behavior and experience are merely by products of brain physiology In The Brain the Mind and the Person Within professor of psychology Mark Cosgrove not only explains what the brain is and what it does but also corrects common misinterpretations and demonstrates that what we know about the brain coheres with the teachings of Scripture He contends that humans are unities of soul and body in which both the spiritual and the physical interact From this perspective he presents informative overviews of contemporary debates about the brain including consciousness free will God spots personhood and life after death The better we understand the brain the better we understand ourselves and our exquisite design that reflects the wisdom of the Creator Thoughtful readers will find this to be a fascinating accessible survey of this unique part of the body and the profound theological and technological issues surrounding it An Essay Toward the Other John Streed,2008-03-05 An Essay toward the Other considers the three fundamental verities of the human experience the True the Good and the Beautiful and presents three arguments one from the domain of each verity in support of theism and in opposition to materialism The True is the way things are The Good is that which contributes to the happiness of the individual and the group The Beautiful is an indefinable quality that evokes a pleasing and enjoyable inner experience The verities derive from a Divine source and point toward that Divine source thus the opening sentence From the One three from the three One While the verities are part of the human experience their source and their vision transcend our realm They are of God The author accepts the classical view that all human intention however flawed and misguided looks to a final good That final good we call happiness and insofar as our aims and ways are shaped and guided by the True the Good and the Beautiful we are drawn toward happiness
